washington, March 4.—Mrs. Mary in the oil scandal.

Here are some of the things that the committee was told when it resumed its hearings:

That E. L. Doheny tried unsuccessfully last December to interest Senator Thomas J. Walsh in an oil venture in Montana.

Washington, March 4.—Mrs. Mary Duckstein, formerly secretary to William the oil inquiry today reports that Boward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Fost, was a special agent of the Department of Justice.

Daugherty Silent.

Miami, Fla, March 4.—Attorney General Daugherty this morning apparently had not sent a message to the White House, and had not indicated whether or not a message might be sent as reported yesterday.

Young McAdoo Worked for McLean.

Washington, March 4.—Francis H. McAdoo, son of Wm. G. McAdoo, testified before the oil committee today that in 1910 the firm of which he and his father were members, was retained by E. B. McLean in relation to the will of the publisher's father. Two years later this relationship ceased. Then McLean retained him again in 1923 but not his father.

Senators Overman and Simmons Receiving Many Letters.

Washington, March 3.—A very determined fight is being indue for more adequate pay for postal employes. North Carolina is manifesting keen interest ir it. Senators Simmons and Overman are receiving many letters urging legislative action. The people behind the movement favor the Kelley-Edge bill.

In answer to a letter received today Mr. Overman said that he has always advocated helping the postal employes ir every way possible and that he is leastify in favor of the Kelley-Edge bill but that President Coolidge has already announced his opposition to any appropriation at this time for increased pay for these men, stating that the treasury cannot stand it at this time, and that he is also opposed to appropriations for erecting public buildings, but at the same time favors an appropriation of $500,000 for an additional construction to a negrecollege here, which is pure politics for the sense of the proposed additional tax on cigarettes, he is replying that this extra tax was stricken out by the House and that it will stand no change whatever in the Senate and should an effort be made to reinstate it he will use his best efforts to see that it is defeated.

STATE IS NEGLECTING PHYSICAL EDUCATION

James F. White, of Oxford, Senior U. N. C. Student, Has Paper Resid to Carollina Club.

Chapel Hill, N. C. March 3.—North Carolina has neglected the physical education of its school children, despite the fact that a law was passed three years ago requiring that physical education be laught in all schools supported by public funds, says a paper by James F. White, Jr., of Oxford, a senior student in the University of Nogth Carolina, read before the meeting of the North Carolina club this week.

The paper points out that while an appropriation of $15,500 has been made for physical education in this state the law passed three years ago has never been put into effect. There is a law in effect providing for the physical examination of every pupil once every three years, and Mr. White's paper urges that this should be supplemented by the enforcement of the physical education law. Mr. White's paper calls attention to an investigation conducted by Miss Mary C. Coleman, professor of physical education in North Carolina College for Women, who sent questionnaires to some of the largest and most progressive schools in the state to determine the status of physical education of regis, of 100 replies three indicated a definite program of physical education at all.

Shaving in Airplane Beset With Many Difficulties.

Manila, Mar, 3.—The difficulties of shaving in an airplane while flying more than 9,000 feet above the earth were experienced recently by Major A. S. Fletcher of the Philippine Scouts. Three United States army airplanes which had been sent to amboanga to take part in the annual carnival were about to take off for Manila when Major Fletcher decided to make the trip. He needed a shave badly. There was no time for it in his quarters so he took his shaving ourfit with him.

Using water from his canteen he made his lather and when he was ready to apply in the airplane had ascended so high that the lather faded from his face in the gale as fast as it was put on. However, Major Fletcher perserved and when he arrived at Manila showed evidence of having had a fairly good shave Coach Howard Jones Reaches Trinity from some members that contributions to the ex-service men's anti-bonus league be investigated.

Testimony of Edward Allen, of New York, former officer of the league, relative to contributions to a fund to defeat the bonus, stirred up the controversy. In reply to questions of Representative Oddfield, democrat, of Arkansas, Allen said that George S. Davidson, of Pittsburgh, connected with the Gulf Refining Company, undertook to raise a fund to fight the bonus.

"Is Secretary Mellon connected with the Gulf Refining Company?" Mr. Oldfield asked, Allen said he understood so.
Frank C. Page presented summaries of a referendum conducted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, showing the membership was opposed to a bonus, particularly a cash payment plan.

Representatives Oddfield and Rainey asked that all officers of the league be summoned. Representative Tison, republican of Connecticut, suggested that the American Legion records be inspected.

was instantly killed, and W. W. Croshorn, prominent business man of Translylyania country, was painfully in jured when an automobile in which the couple were riding, overturned on the Hendersonville road, near Busbee, about I o'clock this morning.

It was sometime after the accident before they were discovered by passerby Mrs. Todd was already dead, while Croshorn was rushed to a local hospital. Attending physicians says his injuries, although painful, are not considered serious.

Mr. Croshorn is the son-in-law of Louis Carr, wealthy lumber dealer Pisgah Forest. He is prominently identified with business interests. Mr. Todd was said to have been divorced from her husband. Police officers investigating the accident said there were evidence that the couple had been drinking. An empty flask, from which the odor of intoxicants emanated, was found by—the police in the tonneau.

The car is a mass of twisted steel and ies at the foot of a 40 foot embankment. On the edge of the embankment were tracks where the heavy car had ploughed into the soft mud and these tracks indicated that the cur left the road about 150 feet from the place where it took the plunge.
