Washington, April 4.—The Senate committee investigating the official acts of Harry M. Daugherty, reached out today in several new directions.

Having failed to induce M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former Attorney General to come here with records of his Washington Courthouse, Ohio, bank, the committee decided to make a trip to Ohio to enforce its demands that the bank's books be thrown open to it.

The date of the trip is yet to be fixed. From Secretary of War Weeks the committee men received a batch of army air service records bearing on charges of failure to prosecute war time frauds. The documents were examined in executive session and the Sand recording in in about 350 boxes ench, the battic Teref close to 200 boxes, while the schooner Flossie M. Muir swelled out the total.

Captain Daniels reported that Carlie Daniels caught 1,000. Shad in one day, while A. C. Daniels caught 1,000. Both are Wanchese fishermen. Several other reaches of close to 1,000 shad were made.

Shipments of shad to various points on Saturday after the arrival of the boats Friday night totaled 1,020 boxes. New York received the largest consignment, 455 boxes and Philadelphia the second largest, 240. The business is now considered to be normal and better in some respects than in former years.

The documents were examined in executive session and the Secretary's personal appearance for questioning was delayed until later.

Senator Wheeler, prosecutor of the inquiry, then called to the stand J. E. Dyche, now an Oklahoma City prohibition agent, and formerly warden of the Atlanta penitentiary. He testified about narcotic prosecutions. Among other things he said he had "kept after" Heber Votaw, superintendent of prisons in the Justice Department for nearly a year, trying to get him to send agents to stop drug trafficking.

The aircraft records sent to the committee were those taken by the air service officers from Thos. F. Lane, who testified yesterday that he had been dismissed as a legal adviser to the air service chief after refusing to stay away from the investigating committee. Secretary Weeks asked that in view of the important evidence involved, bearing on prosecutions now pending, the documents be kept in confidence.

M. S. Daugherty, whose books will be examined when the committee goes to the Crayley home on thire, has sailed to respond in a commit-

"It's going on today."
It was brought out that an inspector of prisons went to Atlanta to "intimate" to Dyche that Daugherty wanted to get him out. The inspector said the Attorney General 'was in a jam', Dyche said, and he resigned.

The witness said he had reported the drug traffic conditions personally to the Attorney General, Daugherty, but that "he already knew it."

Attorney General, Daugherty, but that "be aiready knew it."

"The thing that seemed to be wearing on the Attorney General was the fact of the publicity," Dyche said. "He objected to the publicity."

Dyche said he had been associated with Jake Hamon, of Oklahoma, in political matters, and was appointed warden at Atlanta on July 1, 1822.

Wm. J. Burns was then summoned with the records in the Atlanta case.

Asked about the Atlanta drug investigation, Burns said his agents told him "that Mr. Votaw stopped it." The director also said he had told Assistant Attorney General Holland of the situation and though he had also told Daugherty about it.

Burns said he believed the investiga-

The director stated that Edward B. The director stated that Edward B. McLean had resigned as a secret agent of the Department. He also revealed that Fred W. Upham, of Chicago, Treasurer of the Republican National Committee, Fad served as a dollar-s-year secret agent of the Department. He said Upham was enrolled because he was going to Europe, and the badge and commission would save him trouble.

The bank also has refused to send its records the first of the man. This of the man in the prison of Dyche, who recently testified before the oil committee, marked a departure of the investigation into an entirely new field. He complained in detail about the failure of the Justice Department to curb the drug traffic particularly in the Atlanta prison.

The witness said there were 650 violators of the narcotic law in the prison when he went there. Drugs came into the prison in various ways, he said, and many convicts became addicts after their conviction. There was evidence the some of the guards took in the narcotics, he said.

many convicts became addicts after their conviction. There was evidence that some of the guards took in the narcotics, he said.

After he had urged Votaw for a year to do something, he declared, Burns finally sent three "under cover" men. Four prison guards finally were indicted but none were convicted.

Votaw came down when the guards were indicted, and insisted to the United States Attorney in his hearing that the investigations cease until the four guards were tried, Dyche said.

"Did he assign any reason?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"Unfortunately the matter insisted on getting into the papers. His objection seemed to be the publicity. He gave another reason, that it would disorganize the prison, but there was nothing to that."

"And the traffic was still going on?" "It's going on today."

of J. Irvin Bryan, was found early this morning in the Yadkin river by Southeen Public Utilities company at the power plant of the Southern Publict Utilities company, near Clemmons, 12 miles from Winston-Salem. The negro was removing some trash from under the wheels at the plant when he discovered a man's arm and shoulders in the river near the bank. He reported the metter to the superinfendent and the body was taken out and brought to an undertaker's here for investigation. For several hours no one was able to tell whether the body was that of a negro man or white, as the flesh had fallen off of the hands and arms, indicating that the person had been dead at least several weeks.

Later it developed that it was Jesse Irvin Mryan, who had been missing since February 12. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the man came to his death from a bullet wound, and that he was shot through the head. It was also decided that the shot entered the back of the head and came out of the forchend. Foul play was of course suspected, it being believed that Byyan was thrown in the river after he was shot.

Man Kisses 11-Year-Old Girl Which Costs Him Just $249.15.
Gulfport, Miss., April 3.—For kissing an '11-year-old girl against her will, Mitchell Owen, local grocer was ordered to pay her $249.15 by a circuit court jury here today. He was sued for $2.000 by the girl's father as her next friend. The parent charged that when his daughter returned to Owen's store with merchandise which had been found unsatisfactory, the grocer seized her and implanted a kiss upon her mouth, "thereby injuring her and also her feelings."

Owen denied the charge.

BY FIRES IN MOUNTAINS

Around 10,000 Acres Burned Over and Loss May Tool Cpwards of $250.000.

Rutherfordton, April 3.—Forest fires
raged all last week and are still burning in sections on Cherry Mountain, South Mountain and other nearby sections. From $000 to 10,000 acres of land were burned over on Cherry and South mountains, a few miles west of Hollis. Much damage was done to wood and timber. The Amos Owens home, the Hodge house and the Sweeze house were destroyed by fire. The loss has been estimated at from $100,000 to $250,000. Flames leaped to the top of tall trees and in places burned
them to the ground.

It is thought that some one set fire in the mountains. Efforts are being made to apprehend the guilty parties.
The county has no fire wardens. Leading citizens of that section called on Sheriff Beason the latter part of the week for help. The light could be seen for many miles at night.

rights in the State department of public works.

Kluegel, chief of the division of water rights in the State 'department of public works.

"A very large proportion of the development proposed," said Mr. Kluegel, "is not at present feasible because settlers and capital are lacking. Nevertheless, the number of filings bears relation to the demand for irrigation and power development."

The applications last year represented about five times the average yearly increase during the last decade. What irrigation has done is shown in one of the elder central California irrigation district started in about 1890. In this district the population has increased eight times; the number of farms increased from eight 0.2025. The land in 1890 awas valued at about $30 an acre and now conseravtive estimates place the average value at $250 an acre. Thirty-four years ago the district had a total estimated value of $2.500,000; today it has reached $20,000,000.
