MRS. CANNON TO ENTERTAIN AT DINNER THIS EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., of Atlanta, to Be Honor Guests—Wedding Guests to Attend.

Mrs. James W. Cannon will entertain this evening at 6:30 o'clock at her home on North Union Street at an elaborate dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., of Atlanta, the latter her granddaughter. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Howell guests at the dinner will be relatives of Mrs. Julian S. Carr and Hon. Clark Howell, Sr., who will be married at the home of Mrs. Cannon tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Cannon's guests at the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Cannon, of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross Cannon, of York, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, of Winston-Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lambeth, of Charlotte; Mrs. David Blair, of Washington; Miss Nancy Carr, Julia Carr, Jr., Miss Mary Ann Carr, of Durham, and Coma Howell, of Atlanta.

Other guests in addition to those who will be present for the dinner this evening are expected to arrive in Concord for the wedding of Mrs. Carr and Mr. Howell. Mr. Howell will reach Concord tomorrow morning, as will Hon. David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue.

Due to the prominence of Mrs. Carr and Mr. Howell their wedding is a social event that commands the interest of North Carolina and other Southern states. Mrs. Carr, one of North Carolina's most prominent women, has been active in social circles in the State for a number of years. Mr. Howell, owner and publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, is one of the best known men of

Birthday Party.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sapp was the scene of much merriment and pleasure Wednesday afternoon when twenty-six little friends gathered there to help celebrate the sixth birthday of their little daughter Phyllis Anna. Mrs. Sapp entertained the youngsters very pleasantly during the afternoon, after which candy, cake and cream were served and all left for their homes. Wishing little Miss Phyllis many more such happy birthdays.

TOWN TAPS FURNITURE VAN AND HAS HILARIOUS TIME

Finds False Bottom in Vehicle That Is Used by a Train.
Washington, Pa., April 1.—Most of the village of Eighty-Four, a hamlet along the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad eight miles east of here, went on a spree today when a big "furniture" van was wrecked by an eastbound passenger train and 55 gallons of choice moonshine were tossed into a ditch. Residents of the vicinity of the accident, insisting that furniture was within the truck, were apparently loaded with not the only merchandise, bored holes into the bottom of the vehicle and struck a false bottom which contained the booze containers.

A crowd of thirsty villagers appeared as if by magic and soon large quantities of the contraband liquor were siphoned to every sort of vessel. When Chief of County Detectives Dismore arrived on the scene he discovered a hilarious throng of villagers, and rescued the remainder of the liquor.

The driver of the truck, badly injured, was placed on the train to be taken to a Pittsburgh hospital, but despite his injuries he slipped from the train en route and disappeared.

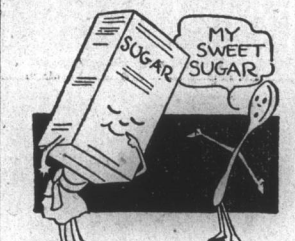

HOME SEEKERS RATES TO SOUTHEAST RESTORED

Large Area Agricultural Lands Now Awaiting Development Will Be Made Available.

Washington, April 3.—Representative Abernethy received a letter today from H. H. Richardson, chairman of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, announcing that they had succeeded in securing the restoration of home seekers' rates to the southeastern section.

The rates were withdrawn by the railroads shortly before the war. Mr. Richardson states that nontransferable home seekers rate tickets will be sold to parties of five or more who decide to visit the southeastern section with a view of purchasing homes in that section, and that these tickets will be on sale on the first and third Tuesdays in each month, beginning April.

The restoration of the home seekers' rates means to the south that these reduced rates will from now on be available to a large area of territory of unimproved agricultural lands awaiting development by settlers, and should mean the bringing in of a large number of settlers to North Carolina.

Gas Service is sold direct from us to our customers. There is no middleman as in most businesses. The housewife herself regulates her own bills. When she wishes to "purchase" some gas for the cooking of a meal or for heating water, for example, she turns a lever, applies a light and has her order filled immediately.

When she wishes to stop "buying" she merely reverses the lever and the flow of gas stops and her "purchase" is ended. In this way she has complete supervision over her gas.

We get so accustomed to gas service that we take it for granted and often ignore its many conveniences and economies. Occasional appreciation of good service is rendered is justly due every gas company.
