Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—George B. Lockwood, roly-poly Republican, feels full of fight.

But in his double-headed job as secretary of the Republican National Committee and editor of the "National Republican," heretofore regarded as the "official organ" of the Republican party, who he feels are not behaving like Republicans, that cause his fists to clench and his pulse to thump with the desire for battle.

Wherefore, disregarding the possible result on his chances for reelection as secretary of the national committee, like a man who strips his coat before a fight so it may not impede his movements, George announces that now and hereafter the "National Republican" is not to be considered as "the mouthpiece of the Republican National Organization or the organ of the Republican National Committee."

HAVING thus absolved his party of responsibility for any of the things the "National Republican" may print, Lockwood is set to take a poke at any individual or candidate who may sponsor any of the "liberal" or "radical" programs opposed by the "conservative" element in the party; government ownership, for instance.

His first assault will be against the stronghold of Senator La Follette.

From the Lockwood viewpoint, La Follette and his followers are a band of pirates who, unless repulsed, will seize the party ship, force captain and crew to walk the plank, and then sail brazenly into port with the G. O. P. banner still at the masthead.

But scuttle the old ship and go down with bands playing than permit it to fall into such hands, George declares!

ON this issue, La Follette is ready to give battle.

If there is one thing La Follette has studied more zealously than his progressive principles, it is his right to wear the label "Republican." He has carefully observed every requirement for party regularity. If any group is masquerading under false colors, he will contend, it is the Old Guard crowd, which he insists has forsaken Republican fundamentals.

If La Follette leads a third party out of the convention at Cleveland, for instance, he will claim—as Roosevelt did in 1912—that his following is the real Republican party and that the party dominating the convention is the wolf in sheep's clothing.

BEYOND the direct set-to with La Follette and his probable "Progressive Republican" following, Lockwood will give battle to every applicant for the House or Senate who, as a progressive or otherwise, seeks election on the Republican ticket who does not, in the judgment of Lockwood and his advisers, measure up to their idea of what a Republican should be.

"The time has come," he says, "when individuals who have been using the Republican party as a path to power, only to betray it when in office, must cease to be taken for granted. Only by such resistance can the Republican party be saved."

THAT Lockwood's decision may help materially in bringing a wide-open split in the party he himself recognizes. But, he says: "Better no Republican party than one which does not stand for something. Better no party than one which will not fight for its life."

HOLTON, NOMINEE ON REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET

Coleecee Man is Entered as Nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Raleigh, April 28.—Samuel Holton, Jr., Coleecee, was entered today by the state board of elections as the republican nominee for superintendent of public instruction, thereby giving the republicans a full state ticket for the November election. Mr. Holton's notice with his fee was received this morning but it was mailed before midnight Saturday.

The republican state convention failed to nominate a candidate to oppose Superintendent A. T. Allen. Mr. Holton enters at the last minute as the nominee, the minority party is given a full state ticket.

Judge Walter Brock, of Winston-Salem, state manager for William G. McAdoo, was in town today to make certain that his candidate will be properly certified as the choice of Tar Heel democracy for the presidential nomination. He was gratified at the turn of political affairs that brought the state vote to McAdoo, Judge Brock stuck to his man when most of his other friends were ready to take up with a "better bet," and now he is standing ace high.

10 Minutes gas for String Beans

then COOK with the Gas Turned Off

Think—how many minutes of gas it takes on your range to cook string beans! Four times 10 minutes? Imagine being able to burn the gas only 10 minutes, then turn it off and forget about them until time for serving! You would do just that if you used the Chambers Fireless Gas Range, for after you turned off the gas, retained heat would work on. The Thermodom on top of the range collects the heat you now waste and uses it. The same is true of the specially insulated Chambers Oven for roasting or baking. A few minutes gas—then you cook with the gas off, while you go away from the kitchen. Let us show you how you can cut gas bills in half, free hours of time and cook food more deliciously than ever.
