BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Bible thoughts memorized will prove of greatest benefit to other years.

Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13:8, 10.

Village Home

Dear Folks: The more we have, the more we want of goods upon this earth. The more we have of laughter, too, the more we want of mirth. The more we have of happiness and all the joy it brings, the more we want some more of it and other pleasant things.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE.

In view of the fact that much has been written and said in recent years about the dangers of the grade crossings and the number of accidents that are caused by them, it is worthwhile to notice figures recently made public by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters which show that while the grade crossing accidents are too numerous they are small when compared with the number of accidents that occur at other places.

H. P. Stellwagen, manager of the automobile department of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, is authority for the startling statement that approximately 15,700 lives were lost in motor vehicle accidents, exclusive of grade crossing collisions between motor vehicles and trains, in the United States during 1923, an increase of nearly 2,000 over the record of 1922, and that if the grade crossing accidents are taken into account the total of motor vehicle deaths for 1923 exceeds 17,000. In other words, motor vehicle accidents, exclusive of grade crossing accidents, took an average daily toll of 48 lives during last year, as compared to 38 during 1922.

AL SMITH AND THE NOMINATION.

New York State Democrats will be a power in the Democratic national convention but they will not be able to put Al Smith over as the Democratic nominee for the Presidency. Governor Smith is one of the most popular men that ever held office in New York State and he is regarded as a very efficient executive, even by his enemies, but he will not be nominated. He is both a "wet" and a Catholic and the combination will keep any man in the United States from being nominated for the Presidency.

Governor Smith probably would have made a very strong showing in the convention had Charles F. Murphy lived to attend the sessions. The Tammany leader will be missed, however, and it is already predicted that some strength which he would have swung to Governor Smith will now go to William G. McAdoo. The people of the United States are not going to send a Catholic to the White House. In New York State there are many people of that faith and they elected Governor Smith, but they cannot elect him to the Presidency. The rest of the country is against him. The Democratic leaders and delegates to the convention know this and they will not give the New York Governor the nomination.

President Coolidge denies that he ever told any one he was trying to give Musie Shoals to Henry Ford or to anyone else. The charge was made before the Senate Muscle Shoals Committee that President Coolidge told James Martin Miller that he was striving to get the plant for Mr. Ford, and the charge was immediately denied. Many people, as soon as they heard of the Miller statement, were quick to say that was the reason Ford withdrew from the Presidential race in favor of the President.

GENERAL J. C. CARR DIES IN CHICAGO OF PNEUMONIA.

Was no Visit to His Daughter, Mrs. H. C. Flowers.—Death Strikes Quickly. Chicago, April 29.—General Julian S. Carr, former commander of the United Confederate Veterans, died at the home of his daughter here about 10:15 o'clock tonight.

General Carr left his home at Durham where he was a well known banker last Saturday to come to Chicago for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. H. C. Flowers. On the train he contracted influenza and was seriously ill when he arrived here.

His condition grew worse and today several specialists were called into consultation. They announced tonight that he had contracted pneumonia and that his illness was complicated by a heart affection. It was stated at that time that he probably would not survive the night.

He died at 10:15 o'clock. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed but it is probable that the body will be taken back to his home for burial.

The General's Death Causes Sorrow to Many Friends.

Raleigh, April 29.—The announcement of the death in Chicago tonight of General Julian S. Carr, former commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, brought sorrow and sadness to thousands of his old comrades and friends throughout Dixie.

For years General Carr, a very wealthy man, had been the friend of the needy Confederate veteran, his widow or orphan. It is said that General Carr had never failed to aid a veteran or the family of a veteran when help was actually needed. "The latch string is always hanging on the outside for my old comrades," the general was often quoted as having said. In addition to supplying the necessities of life to many of the old soldiers or their families, General Carr paid the college expenses of his old friends.

General Carr was always a conspicuous figure at state and general Confederate reunions. Perhaps many an old soldier will miss the reunion this year as the result of the death of General Carr. In former years all an old Confederate soldier had to do to be sure of attending a reunion was to let General Carr know that he was unable to pay his expenses. It is said hundreds of veterans went to the reunion every year at the expense of General Carr.

The general apparently was never any happier than when he was with the boys of the thinning ranks of gray. At the Democratic convention held here several weeks ago he was frequently seen with locked arms with his old "pals," swapping stories of the battles in which they had participated some 30 years ago. He always visited the Confederate soldiers home here when visiting in Raleigh.

General Carr had no malice toward the soldiers who wore the blue and many of his warmest friends were veterans of the union forces.

Wires to Be Put Underground in Business District, Wilson.

Wilson, April 29.—At last the town of Wilson and the Carolina Telegraph and Telephone company have agreed to work in harmony or the beautification of the streets in the business districts. The unsightly electric light and telephone poles will be lowered and the cables and wires will be placed underground.

At the same time the change is being made Nash street from Turboro street to the Atlantic Coast Line passenger station will be widened by reducing the width of the sidewalks from twelve to eight feet, which will give more room for traffic and show off the contemplated "white way" to better effect.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH THEFT OF DIAMONDS

Harry A. Friedman Caught in Room of Hotel Manager's Wife at Charlotte. Charlotte, April 29.—Harry A. Friedman, alias H. Drigg, of New York, was arrested this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Stonehill hotel annex on West Trade street, charged with theft of diamonds valued at $700 and with housebreaking.

Friedman, a guest at the hotel, was found, it is charged, by the wife of the hotel manager, locked in her room when she returned to it this afternoon. She called for the officers and upon their arrival they arrested Friedman. Search of his person failed to reveal the missing gems. Police express the opinion that he secreted them somewhere in the room.

Friedman was registered at the hotel as H. Drigg, of New York, but papers found on him led police to feel certain that his name is Harry Aaron Friedman. He is being held without bond.

Post and Flag's Cotton Letter.

New York, April 29.—The market has shown a staidier tone though still thin and sensitive to small orders either way. The situation as a whole has not changed materially but the readiness with which a fairly large tender has been taken care of today shows that cotton has not as yet become an absolute drug in the market. Spot prices continue bullish while crop advices though averaging rather better are still rather mixed with reports that much replanting is necessary.

The weather is wet and cool over much of the belt and while some consider the rains beneficial for some sections, especially for Texas, it is clear that a period of warm dry weather is really essential for germination and growth over the greatest part of the belt and that rains should come later if they are to be of any benefit.

If the rains are prolonged through next month that will in the opinion of many excellent judges prove the precursor of another short crop and it would hardly be possible to exaggerate the necessity for a large yield next year. There is no activity in domestic goods markets but the opinions is expressed that a situation is developing there which will presently bear a very close resemblance to the existing spot situation where standard grades are almost unobtainable at any price. Pessimism is rampant in professional trading circles just as for a long time past but an overworld condition develops in the market with increasing ease and rapidity. Leading spot interests are credited with buying early new crop position freely and unless there is a run of uniformly favorable weather such policy promises satisfactory results.

DINNER STORIES

Customer in a lunch room: "Waiter, give me milk and shredded wheat biscuits." Waiter, abounding to kitchen. "Cow juice and two straw pillows."

The teacher of the beginners' class at Sunday school was having her pupils finish each sentence to be sure they understood her. "The idol had eyes," said the teacher. "but it could not see." "See," cried the children. "It had ears, but it could not hear." "It had lips, but it could not speak," said one youngster. "It had a nose, but it could not wipe it," they shouted in chorus.

Out! Grocer: "Sorry, young man, but you won't do for this business. You stutter too much." Applicant: "W-why, s-s-sir?" Grocer: "Well, you see folks are so suspicious of us grocers that they think we send the sugar and everything. When they ask questions it wouldn't do to have a clerk hesitate with his answers."

A Question in Economics. "I'm looking for a bright little boy," said the kind old lady to the youngster on roller skates, "who wants to earn a penny by mailing this letter for me." "A penny, huh?" snorted the child. "Wot you're lookin' fer is a little dumb-bell!"

Soda We. A buck who was fond of his vin blank or his American equivalent was accosted by his colonel with the demand: "Private, what is it makes your nose so red?" "Colonel, sir," replied the buck, nothing ashamed, "I always blush when meet my commanding officer."
