That Is Another Feature Which Makes Automatic Popular

In choosing the refrigerator for your home be sure to get one that af-fords you ample room and yet does not require a special room to keep it in. The Automatic Refrigerator is so constructed as to eliminate all waste

The Automatic interrigerator is so constructed as to eliminate all waste space. The special construction of the water cooling tank within the case does away with having to take up valuable space in the food chambers in order to have ice water. Consider the Automatic and compare it with any other refrigerator on the market. After you have done that we are sure you will decide as we did that it is the "perfect refrigerator." Come in for demonstration.
