PHYSICAL TRAINING

An Avenue For Christianity—The Best Athlete Is the Christian Athlete.
Physical education is that which sees in measures insuring bodily health and the right amount of motor activity, an avenue of approach through which the whole individual may be influenced for good, in mind and character as well as in body; it employs the word physical to denote the means and not the end.
We ask our readers and citizens to study closely the above quoted definition and keep it in mind. This definition was formulated for the National College Physical Director's Society by some of our greatest leaders and outstanding men in the country. It indicates the purpose the Y. M. C. A. has always had in adopting physical training as a part of its program. Every single boy or person who approaches the "Y" for recreation of any sort has three sides to him—the physical, the mental and the spiritual side. The physical side is the side through which the physical department works to approach the other two. The objective is the third side of the boy and that is the spiritual side; therefore, the physical training is not the end, but the beginning ever leading through constant effort toward a broadening of the spiritual character.

First—What are the mental needs of the boys and men in a given city that a program of physical activities mean? Is it the ability to think fast and arrive at conclusions? Is it will power, imagination or ability to focus attention? If it be any or all of these, it has already been demonstrated that physical activities properly conducted can stimulate.

Second—What are the character forming needs? Are they self-control, self-sacrifice, pleasure in hard work, habit of doing one's best, recognition of the rights of others, honesty, courage, loyalty or obedience? Again properly conducted physical activities will show the value of these character traits.

Third—What are the physical needs? Are they related to the proper growth and development, or the bringing about of organic vigor, or to co-ordinating ability? Again, physical exercise can bring it to pass.
No matter what station of life the man or boy, woman or girl finds themselves to be they cannot afford to be without some manner of properly conducted physical exercise and instruction in physical training. If not instructed by the "Y" or by some other such institution then by the family physician. The boy or girl does not live who can do his or her best work with a sickly body. Give them good health and proper exercise and you can bring out the best there is in them mentally, physically and morally. That is why the Y. M. C. A. adopted the big triangle for its emblem, each side bearing one word that stands for the part of the boy or man it administers to—spirit, mind, body.

Kannapolis and Concord Woodmen.
W. B. Stuart in Charlotte Observer.
The boys of old Elm Camp No. 16, Concord, will show the rest of the district just what they can do beginning last Tuesday night. The writer had the pleasure of making them a visit and having the good luck of securing the appointment of Sovereign Joe A. Walter, as camp deputy and he has already started out for new members, we know that there will be a large class brought in between now and the 15th of August, that is the date of the closing of the class under special rate and 50 will be the number secured if the plan outlined at the last meeting is backed up by the members. This camp has one of the best fields for work that we know of and with a good hustling camp deputy on the job every week we see no reason why they won't soon be back to the high water mark.

Kannapolis.
Sovereign O. H. Hollifield, of Pine Wood camp, No. 302, Kannapolis, has been appointed camp deputy and has already begun to line up the business. Applications are coming in from there and prospects are the very best. Sovereign Hollifield will make us a good man and we welcome him into the field workers family.
This camp is the owner of the best uniform rank degree team in all of North and South Carolina and Virginia. They have won first prize at the ty-state encampment at Greensboro, 1923. They will be at the log rolling at Salisbury, May 28, to confer the degree on a large class of candidates.

Radio Articles For All.
The Radio Magazine, given free with The New York World, is in demand with the radio public because of the many articles of interest in each issue. A partial list of contents for next Sunday is as follows: Detecting Earthquakes by Radio Before They "Happen"; A DX Reflex with Sodian Detector; Broadcasting without a carrier wave; and amplifier that gives perfect reception; why your receiver tunes broadly. To be sure of a copy order The Sunday World in advance.

THE CHAUTAUQUA OPENS TOMORROW AFTERNOON
The Tent is Now Being Erected on the Central School Grounds.
The big Redpath tent is being erected on the Central School grounds and everything will be in readiness for the grand opening at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow.
The opening number will be the Dunbar Male Quartet and Bell Ringers, of Chicago, a sterling organization presenting a varied program of vocal and instrumental music, featuring the difficult art of bell ringing.
At night following a concert by the Dunbar Co., ex-Governor Brough of Arkansas, will be heard in a challenging lecture, "America's Leadership of the World." Twice elected Governor of Arkansas and for three years a pupil of the immortal Woodrow Wilson, Gov. Brough is well fitted to discuss this, his chosen subject.
Thirteen programs in all will constitute the chautauqua program and the season ticket admits to all. The cost is less than half where a season ticket is purchased and the committee is very desirous that everyone avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these great attractions at the small cost of season ticket.
The sale of season tickets will close tomorrow (Tuesday) evening.

Evangelistic Meetings at McGill Street.
Evangelistic meetings at McGill Street Baptist Church continue with increasing power. Crowded houses at both services Sunday. In the afternoon there was a meeting for men only, which was well attended, and a deep interest on the part of all the men.
The preaching is simple, earnest and profound, setting forth clearly the dangers of sin and the gospel way of salvation. The meetings will continue every night this week. The singing is splendid and the people are pleased.
The pastor evangelist will use tonight as his theme "The Revelation Given us of Two Souls After Death."

At The Theatres.
"Lawful Larceny," a drama with several stars, is being offered at the Star today.
The Piedmont today is offering the Drama "Western Feuds," and a comedy, "Dance or Die."
At the Pastime today "Yankee Madness" is being shown. An all-star cast is offered in this picture.
The first rules to govern the sport of boxing were drawn up in London in 1743.

Training School Wins.
The baseball season was ushered in at the Jackson Training School last Saturday with a 4 to 1 victory over the strong Cabarrus mill team.
Best pitched a fine game for the school boys, allowing only four hits and fanning nine men. He was backed up with some great fielding, the school team executing three fast double plays.
Stimpson, pitching for Cabarrus, also twirled a fine game except for one bad inning when he was touched up for five hits and four runs.
Both pitchers displayed excellent control, only one base on ball being issued during the entire game.

Judge Calvert and Speeders.
Twelve people charged with "speeding" were arraigned before Judge Calvert, in Superior Court, at Wilmington, and the judge went after them in heroic manner. He sent each of the twelve to jail for ten days. After that they are to surrender their license to drive an automobile, and agree not to drive a machine "anywhere in the State" for a period of one year.
