The combination of printed and plain fabrics is one of Fashion's favorites this summer. Here three bands of the plain material give a charming, bouffant effect to the skirt and the cash forms the only other trimming necessary besides the bows on the sleeve—always a feminine and alluring touch.

Willeford-Stough

Mrs. Frank Stough gave a lovely party at her home in Cornelius Thursday afternoon from 4 to 8 o'clock at which time she announced the engagement of her sister-in-law, Miss Lucy Stough, and Mr. Brice J. Willeford, of Concord, the wedding to take place June 24.

The guests enjoyed several contests, after which Mrs. J. D. Whitner rendered a musical program.

The announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage was made when the refreshments were served. The feast was in the form of wedding bells and baskets filled with the pink and white baskets filled with confetti, the handle being tied with a single wedding bell.

TO BRING FARMERS INTO CLOSER TOUCH

Chamber of Commerce Banquet to Be Held to Effect a Closer Union.

Community spirit or community welfare is the collective idealism of the busy, practical man of today. Community welfare is an expression of the inner hopes and desires of the average man. It was patriotism or loyalty, to the ideals of our country that brought about the get-together spirit of those hallowed, but dark days when America was learning to unify her efforts against the common foe of mankind.

Organization and getting together won the war. What a wonderful community we lived in during those stirring days of 1917 and 1918! But getting together to fight a war in Europe differs in no way from getting together to promote any other good social, civic or political project. The main thing is to get together.

Foremost among the vehicles through which we express our inner hopes and aspirations for community betterment are the civic bodies of the cities. The dinner clubs were never more popular than in this day when they are leading a spiritual renaissance in which the business man is finding his own soul. Back of these civic improvement clubs, such as the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, etc., is to be found the leaders in business and professional life the tell men of action, the broad men of accomplishment. The efficiently organized and managed clubs together with the newspapers of the city, work out the civic problems of social betterment, and have a lot of fun and romance through it all.

But what about the rural community? What about the residents of that vast expanse of territory lying just outside the great centers of population? Where do the tillers of the soil, raisers of the corn, wheat, cotton, fruits, oats, potatoes, etc., the real producer of life's necessities get their community development? To be sure a wonderful uplift, both social and economic, has come to the rural residents through the broadening influence of the various farm bureaus and similar organizations. But these, like the civic clubs have not served to bring the city and county together.

The farmer is the altruist. He sows his crops with no certainty as to whether or price conditions. He feeds the world with no guarantee as to pay for the job. The farmer, because of his contact with nature, has faith in humanity. He is a clear thinker, and his help is needed in humanizing the artificial conditions of city life and in working out the problems of the community, state and nation. Both the farmer and city man need to meet on the ground of common understanding.

To bring about a closer union between the city and county residents, to make life a little more joyous, and give spice to those whose lives tend to become self-centered is the reason for this initial step of the Chamber of Commerce banquet and get together meeting and we hope that it will serve this purpose.

FORMER CAROLINIANS DIE WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

Father, Mother, Son and Wife Dead From Accident—Relatives in Concord.

Louisville, Ky., May 25.—Two double funerals meeting at Cave Hill cemetery for Alvin N. Webb, 59, Louisville, business man and his wife, and their son B. G. Webb, 26 and his wife, all of whom were instantly killed yesterday when a Baltimore and Ohio railroad engine struck their automobile at a grade crossing near Hilton, Indiana, have been arranged for Monday afternoon.

The funeral of the elder will be held from the home and B. G. Webb and his wife will be buried from the residence of her father, J. E. Downing, Robbin Webb, Birmingham, Ala., and Thomas H. Webb, Concord, N. C., brothers of A. N. Webb and Samuel Gierde, Montclair, N. J. Mrs. A. N. Webb's brother arrived today for the funeral.

The Webbs were returning from a pleasure trip to Washington, D. C., when the accident occurred.

Mr. Savage Entertains. One of the greatest and most enjoyable events ever to occur in Clark's Creek, this county, is No. 3 township, was that of an old fashioned "chicken stew" given last Friday night at the "Wallace Bridge" by Jimmie Savage, a pleasant and most excellent host. Mr. Savage is a member of the dredge boat crew and has made a host of friends while in this section. The dredge boat crew is just completing the work of dredging Clark's Creek and it was a treat for the guests to see the boat in operation. Various other amusements were indulged in while the chickens were "stewing." The gong sounded about eleven o'clock and the guests were invited to the summit of the hill where they were abundantly served the "stew" and pickles. The guests present which numbered about forty, included those from Charlotte, Lincolnton, Huntersville, Cornelius, Concord and surrounding neighborhood. The affair was championed by Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wallace, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wallace.

Carriages Replace Autos Among London's Smart Set. London, May 7.—Tired of luxurious motorcars, many members of London's smart set are returning to the horse carriage for shopping purposes and for driving in the park. Many smart equipages are seen every day in Bond Street, Mayfair and the park with high stepping horses, as in the Victorian era.

A well-known coach owner, who regularly drives four horses in his coach, expressed the opinion that the carriage horse is coming back into favor. Many people are bringing their horses in to town from their country residences he said, and others are hiring carriages and horses in preference to motor cars.
