PRINITY COLLEGE LAW SCHOOL

Durham Sun.

Although handicapped and suddened by the untimely death of one of its professors, Joseph Hinton Ruff, the Trinity law school has completed a very successful year. Nine second-year law students have been given their certificates for two years' successful work by Dean Samuel F. Mordecai, who has been in charge of the law school since it was founded in 1904.

F. Mordecai, who has been in charge of the law school since it was founded in 1904.

The following men have received their esertificates; W. T. Towe, of Roanoke Rapids; E. M. Gill, of Laurinburg; Owen Reese, of Garysburg; O. L. Richardson, of Monroe; E. S. Whitaker, of Laurinburg; G. S. Daniel, of Littleton; W. G. Hall, of Ravensford; J. S. Dockery, of Asheville; and H. L. Hatcher, of Mt. Airy. Of this number, six successfully stood the supreme court examinations in February and have been licensed to practice. They are: Towe, Gill, Reese, Whitaker, Hall, and Dockery.

The Trinity law school, since its foundation, has been one of the few schools of law in the country which has required two years of college work or its equivalent as a requisite for entrance. Two years ago the American bar association, in arriving at a standard rating for the various law schools of the country, made this requisite of two years of college work as a standard for its rating of class A. Trinity had this requirement for 20 years at the time of its adoption by the American Bar Association.

At the last rating of the association

At the last rating of the association made public the Trinity law school was one of 39 schools in the whole country and one of only four in the south which was given the rating of A.

or a suction sweeter—or hours of stemuous beating in the back yard—to make your rugs clean.

Beating and sweeping disturb the dust, but do not completely reove it. Even the best vacuum cleaners cannot remove greast spots, fruit stains, and the tramped in dirt that clings fast to the fibers of the rug.

Grease, dirt and grime must be dissolved before they can be removed; and that is just what is done, in our modern rug-cleaning establishment—and without the lease danger of injusy to the finest rug, in fact, our up-to-date processes actually lengthen the life of your rugs, by greatly dissolving and removing the matted dirt that would otherwise break the fibers.

We take the rugs and carpets out of your home, with all the dirt, dust, grease spots, and health-menacing germs; and we return them to you with all the dirt removed, the innermost fibers cleaned, the nap straightened, and the colors restored to their original brightness.

In the complete cleaning process, after the dusting is completed, the tugs are shampooed with a mild but penetrating soap solution—which is also drawn off, together with the dissolved grease and dirt, through a vacuum process—resulting in a brightness and cleanliness that as impossible of attainment in any other manner.
