

SENATOR BORAH NOT AFTER NOMINATION AS VICE PRESIDENT

Had Been Agreed Upon as Running Mate to President Coolidge and His Refusal Upsets All Plans Again.

NO ONE CERTAIN ABOUT CANDIDATES

Likely That Fight Will Be Carried to Floor of Convention With Many Favorites Getting Some Support

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, June 12.—Senator Borah, of Idaho, informed administration leaders in Cleveland early today that he would not accept the Vice Presidential nomination.

He conferred with President Coolidge again today and afterward said that his attitude toward the Vice Presidential nomination was unchanged.

Kenyon Acceptable to Butler. Cleveland, O., June 12 (By the Associated Press).—Nomination of Judge William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, as the Republican candidate for Vice President became a strong possibility shortly after noon today, with announcement by William M. Butler, President Coolidge's campaign manager, that Kenyon would be acceptable.

The announcement began to spread through the convention, and conferences began looking toward the consolidation of strength behind the former Iowa senator. Mr. Butler himself dispatched agents to ascertain sentiment among the delegates.

The plan proposed by leaders was to recess the convention after the nomination of President Coolidge, to meet again tonight with a view to giving the Kenyon movement an opportunity to get underway.

Consolidation of the Kenyon strength was met by gathering together of the forces opposed to the Iowa man, and indications of a fight on the convention floor began to develop. The arrangement to recess the convention until night was abandoned, however, in favor of the earlier arrangement for an hour and a half's recess.

One group opposed to Judge Kenyon, consisting of Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Reed of Pennsylvania, and Wadsworth of New York, and Secretary Mellon, held what was understood to have been a protest meeting in a committee room in the basement of the convention hall.

Judge Kenyon Doesn't Want It Either. St. Paul, Minn., June 12.—Federal Judge W. S. Kenyon, former United States Senator from Iowa, declared last night that he was satisfied with judicial work, and hoped his friends would do nothing to take him out of it.

DR. BURTON MADE NOMINATING SPEECH

Greeted With Cheers as He Began His Speech.—No Decision About the Vice Presidency.

(By the Associated Press.) Convention Hall, Cleveland, O., June 12.—Calvin Coolidge was all but unanimously nominated for the Presidency today in the Republican national convention.

The voices of the little group of LaFollette men from Wisconsin and North Dakota, who had stood through the convention in militant insurgency against the policies of the party leaders, was almost swallowed up in the tremendous wave of acclamation that formally ratified the choice of Mr. Coolidge.

President Got News by Radio. (By the Associated Press.) Washington, June 12.—President Coolidge, sitting before a radio receiving set, in the White House today, heard the swelling chorus by which he was nominated to lead the Republican party in the next campaign.

formally called to order at 10:40 o'clock. Senator Borah's reiterated refusal to take second place on the ticket after he had been selected at an all-night conference of the Republican leaders, left the Vice Presidential situation very much up in the air, and it was agreed that the short recess arrangement would give little opportunity for conferences that might lead to any definite agreement.

It appeared probable that despite his attitude, Mr. Borah's name would be presented to the convention, along with those of at least a half dozen others, and some of the leaders forecast an old-fashioned floor fight for the nomination.

The formalities of nominating Mr. Coolidge himself to head the ticket were comparatively simple. The honor of placing his name before the delegates went to Dr. Marion Leroy Burton, once his neighbor in Northampton, Mass., and now president of the University of Michigan. A half dozen delegates from as many states were allotted time for seconding speeches.

Senator LaFollette's Wisconsin delegates and their half dozen sympathizers from North Dakota, boomed and taunted by a roaring circle of their colleagues last night when they refused to join in a demonstration for Mr. Coolidge, were in their seats when the convention opened.

They decided not to formally place the name of their leader before the convention, but to cast their ballots for him from the floor.

When the roll call for nominations for President was started, Alabama, the first state called, yielded to Massachusetts and Governor Cox, of Massachusetts moved that Dr. Marion Leroy Burton be accorded the privilege of placing in nomination "the candidate of Massachusetts."

So, as it turned out, Dr. Burton spoke as representing Massachusetts, the President's home, instead of Michigan, his own.

Dr. Burton, a tall, striking figure, stepped briskly to the front of the platform, and calmly survey the great audience, waiting for the applause and cheers to die down so he could begin his speech.

"Fellow citizens of America, the greatest country the world has ever seen," he began, while the hall rocked with cheering. He spoke clearly and rapidly, without manuscript, but followed his prepared address generally, shortening it here and there, but preserving the sense of the speech he had prepared, and which was undoubtedly approved by President Coolidge.

Meekins Spoke For South. Cleveland, O., June 12.—Speaking for the South, Isaac M. Meekins, of North Carolina, seconded the nomination of President Coolidge before the republican national convention today.

"The great Southland," he said, "is alive with hundreds of thousands of loyal, brave and enthusiastic men and women, who cast their votes with the republican party. Tremendous gains have been accomplished. In my state nearly a quarter of a million votes were polled for Harza Harding in 1920. The last national election saw Tennessee walk into the republican column. More will follow in due time.

"The electorate vote of North Carolina alone gained to the Republican cause would offset the loss of more than four republican states I could name. The same effort to carry North Carolina that will be made to carry either of those four states and the trick would be turned. The democratic regime there, torn with blood and dissension from within, hangs like Absalom, by the hair."

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY REPUBLICAN MEET

LaFollette Planks Turned Down and Committee Planks Adopted. Convention Hall, Cleveland, June 11.—In a brief session marked by a prolonged demonstration for President Coolidge, the Republican National Convention tonight adopted its platform as reported by the resolutions committee and rejected the LaFollette planks presented from the Wisconsin delegation.

The chorus of "noes" from the Wisconsin section when the question was put on the adoption were almost lost in the great convention hall which had not finished reverberating from a tornado of "ayes."

Charles R. Warren, chairman of the resolutions committee, read the platform as it finally was approved and moved its adoption. Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, presented the LaFollette platform and spoke in its support. Mr. Warren made no extended argument against the LaFollette planks, merely reminding the convention that the platform as brought in from the committee had been approved by every member except the member from Wisconsin and that the committee's action might be considered a fair cross-section of the sentiment of the convention.

The platform out of the way in record time, the convention adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock to take up nominations for President and Vice President.

Tonight's session, though brief and orderly, was noisy and colorful. It brought out the first real oldtime demonstration and show of convention enthusiasm. Chairman Warren, reading his report, mentioned the enthusiasms of Coolidge and the enthusiasms cut loose.

The President himself, in his study at Washington following the convention proceedings by radio, must have heard the shouts and call of "Coolidge," the tramp of the marchers and the predictions of party victory.

Through all the demonstrations for the President and the remained silently in their seats, taking no part and ignoring the cat calls, hisses, jeers and shouts directed toward them from the marching throng and from the galleries.

Six delegates in the North Dakota delegation also took no part in the demonstration for the President, but they scarcely were noticed in the attention which was directed upon Wisconsin.

The Coolidge marchers, however, were determined to get the Wisconsin delegation on its feet and it finally accomplished it by forming a circle around them and singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

The LaFollette delegates solemnly rose and stood at attention throughout the singing and then steadily resumed their chairs while the demonstration for Coolidge proceeded.

It was half hour before Chairman Mondell restored order and the delegates got back to their places to hear Chairman Warren present the platform.

Plea Made to Women at Republican Convention by Mrs. Leonard A. Wood.

(By the Associated Press.) Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—Republican women of the country were urged to put their shoulders to the wheel and work for election of Calvin Coolidge in November at a meeting today of Republican women attending the national convention, presided over by Mrs. Leonard A. Wood, of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, of North Carolina, referred to the women members of the party as the "fifty sisters" because of the action of the Cleveland convention in giving them equal representation with men on the national committee and in the affairs of the party. She declared that at political meetings during the campaign it should be fifty-fifty and not fifty men and five women.
