Daily Fashion Hint

MODISH SATIN FROCK

Everywhere the smart woman turns this season she finds black satin emphasized. Here it is used for a semi-formal frock, being handsomely trimmed with black and gold braid. The side fronts are tucked, another prominent fashion note—and the sleeves flare so that they may be worn with or without lingerie cuffs in the prevailing lantern shape. Braid outlines the revers and collar. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch satin. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1896. Size, 34 to 52 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

goes from Norfolk. A solid train running special and on a fast schedule left Charlotte today and the railway officials are co-operating in the determination to put the staple into the ports in time for the steamers, scheduled to sail Saturday. Nine acres of land of high grade, located on the county highway in an excellent community, have already been donated, while one-tenth of $5,000, the cash sum required to begin operations has been pledged by a single individual, provided the balance is paid in.

New Orphanage Will Be Established at Asheboro.

Asheboro, June 18.—A movement is under way to establish at John Wesley's Stand a home for orphan children. Its official name will be the People's Orphanage, and it is to be administered by a board of trustees drawn from ten different Christian denominations. So far the prospects are encouraging.

A Quick Home Curative.

"Castor oil is a great family remedy," said she. "Do you give it to your children?" asked the neighbor. "Sometimes," was the reply, "but I don't have to give it often. On school-days when they wake up complaining I have only to mention it and they seem to recover almost instantly."
