SOUTHERN COURT UPHOLDS PLEA FOR WIFE'S OBEDIENCE

Alabama Supreme Court Upholds the Husband's Right to Be Obedient. Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—The aged-old marriage vow containing the word "obey," fast tending toward obsolescence was given an interpretation with "teeth" by the Alabama court of appeals when it upheld, in effect, the right of a husband to object to his wife's employment of adventitious aids to her supposedly natural beauty.

It is the imperative duty of a man's wife to obey, the court held. The wife in question had curled her hair against the expressed wish of her husband.

In rendering the opinion, the court also decided it not only was the right but the duty of the husband, in absence of proof of bad character, to fix the domicile of his children, irrespective of the mother's wishes. The ruling was made in reversing a lower court which has issued a writ of habeas corpus to Mrs. Mason Sparkman to recover custody of her daughter.

Following domestic incompatibility as a result of his wife's curled hair, it was said, Mrs. Sparkman left her husband, taking the child. Later Sparkman recovered the daughter and placed her in his mother's home. Mr. Parkman filed petition for a writ of habeas corpus and the lower court ordered Spark-

YOUNG LEXINGTON BOY KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

Charles Bates 12, Meets Death When Pistol in Hands of Robert Hunter Is Fired. Lexington, July 2.—Charles Bates, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Bates, was killed at noon today by the discharge of a pistol in the hands of Robert Hunter, 16, son of Mrs. Harvey Hunter. A coroner's jury conducted an investigation and found from the evidence that the gun was accidentally discharged while Hunter was handling it. The Bates boy was shot through the neck and died within a few minutes.

Hunter is reported hysterical with grief. The two boys were alone in a store conducted by Hunter's mother and young Bates had made a purchase. Hunter stated that as he put the purchase money in a cash drawer he picked up the pistol and was playing with it when it was discharged.

One Good Point. Rental Agent—Well, Mrs. Pierce, how does this apartment suit you? Mrs. Pierce—Well, there's one good feature about it. We won't have any mice. The rooms are so small the mice will think they are mouse traps.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

NO FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION HERE

Colored People Will Have Celebration at Fair Grounds But Nothing Planned for White People.

There is every indication that July Fourth will be quietly observed in Concord. No celebration of any kind is planned for the city proper although the colored people plan to stage a big celebration at the Fair Grounds during the day.

Kannapolis will have a big celebration and it is probable that many Concord people will go there. Due to the fact that the colored people have arranged a program that should appeal to members of both races it is also probable that many white people of the city will go to the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon to enjoy the program there.

Business will be conducted here as usual tomorrow morning but in the afternoon practically all of the business houses will be closed.

The banks will be closed throughout the day as will be the library and the postoffice, this meaning that there will be no city or rural deliveries and that the general delivery and stamp windows will not be opened. Mail will be placed in the boxes, however, as is done on Sundays.

The Tribune will be published as usual. The Fourth is usually observed as a holiday by The Tribune force, but due to the fact that the Democratic convention will be in session tomorrow the paper will be published as usual.

ROCKY RIVER TO BE DREDGED

Cabarrus County Drainage District No. 6 Established.

On Wednesday, John B. McAllister, clerk of Superior Court sat as a court hearing the final report of the Board of Viewers upon the drainage district beginning at Fredell county line in East prong of Rocky River and running down through the old Cox's Mill dam on Poplar Tent-Caldwell Station public road. The district also includes a ditch on west prong of Rocky River to connect with the ditch cut in Jim Creek and Rocky River drainage district. About 30 of the landowners were present and the hearing lasted from 10:30 a. m. till 1 p. m., at which hours Clerk McAllister continued the final report of the Board of Viewers, with certain authorized changes and modifications as to the classification of the bottom lands. The board of viewers were W. D. Alexander, engineer, and J. M. W. White and Caleb J. Goodman. This district is 0 1/2 miles long and contains 1246 acres. The Board of Drainage Commissioners elected by the property owners and appointed by the Clerk consists of the following: W. M. Bradford, chairman; J. C. Washam, vice chairman, and H. M. Johnston, secretary. The board elected W. D. Alexander, of Charlotte, superintendent of construction, and M. H. Caldwell attorney. Contractors bids for the work will be opened July 17, 1924. It is hoped to get the ditch done early in the year 1925.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Distinguished Speaker at Epworth Tonight

The Salisbury district conference of the Methodist Church, which met this morning at nine o'clock in the Epworth Church, this city, will feature the Epworth League tonight. The service will begin at 8 o'clock and will be presided over by Rev. L. A. Falls, chairman of the conference board. The program will consist of devotional exercises followed by special music.

A short talk will be made by Rev. J. Frank Armstrong, on "What the League is Doing in this District and What It Ought to Do."

Concert Class to Be in County

The concert class of Nazareth Orphans' Home will be in the Gilead charge of the Reformed Church in No. 5 township Sunday, July 6th. The first program will be given in New Gilead Reformed Church at 11 o'clock. Picnic dinner will be served on the ground following the program. The program at Keller Church will be given at 4:30 o'clock and picnic lunch will be served on the ground following the program. The class will give their concert in Trinity Church, here, at 8 p. m. The program is a new one. There are a number of children in the class who have not been in the program in previous years. An offering for the current expenses of the Home will be received at each church. The class is under the direction of Miss Clara Lentz. Rev. W. H. McNairy is superintendent of the Home.

Out Door Gym

In the near future the Concord, Y. M. C. A. will install an outdoor gym and play ground for its boys and girls. The exceptionally large classes, every day make it impossible for all of the children to use the regular gym and receive the best from it, because it is entirely too crowded. Therefore an ideal playground will be put in operation at the side of the Y building, with swings, trapezes and flying rings. In this way all the boys and girls will be given some real wholesome amusement with plenty of exercise. A batting bag will also be erected on the Y yard which will be an added attraction to the activities at the Y. M. C. A.

PUT U. S. CONSTITUTION IN 'BEST SELLER' CLASS

Democratic Delegates Are Eager to Purchase Copies of It.

New York, July 2.—The Democratic convention has made the Constitution the best seller.

This is the observation of Roy C. D. rubens, managing director of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where many of the Presidential candidates and party leaders are staying, and where every guest finds in his room a volume containing the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence. The books were placed in all the rooms of the Waldorf-Astoria and its affiliated hotels at the suggestion of General Coleman DuPont.

"Although it was our intention to have the books left permanently in the rooms we did expect some few guests would wish copies to take with them," says Mr. Carruthers. "The demand for them has been surprisingly large, however, and so far in excess of what we anticipated that it almost makes the Constitution approach the status of a best seller. Ever so many persons have confessed that they had never before read the Constitution, while a few admitted not having read the Declaration of Independence."

Syrup Now Produced From Stalks of Corn

Washington, July 2.—Corn stalks, whose best use heretofore has been to throw them to cattle and hogs for feed and bedding, will furnish a valuable syrup, according to a report by J. J. Williamson, G. O. Burr and F. R. Davison, of the University of Minnesota, which will appear in the next issue of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

According to the report, all kinds of sweet corn and some varieties of field corn can be used in this new process.

The scientists recommend that the syrup be made as a by-product of sweet-corn canning. After picking the ears for canned corn the stalks are allowed to remain standing in the field for ten to twenty days for the sugar juices to accumulate. Then the stalks are cut, leaves and tassels are removed, and the stalks are pressed.

The pressed residue may be used as fuel to run the plant or dried with the leaves and baled for feed. This use of the by-product is necessary for economical management.

The treatment of the juices is essentially the same as for the making of sorghum syrup. The syrup produced from cornstalks is clear, of reddish amber color, and a mild agreeable flavor. It is not a table syrup, but a cooking syrup, with characteristics and uses similar to those of the best grades of sorghum and molasses.

The city council of Greenfield, Ind., has appropriated $10,000 to be expended on a James Whitcomb Riley memorial park, a forty-acre tract on Brandywine Creek, near Greenfield, the birthplace of the Indiana poet.
