Good Farmer Dies in Rowan County, Spencers, July 7.—A veteran of the Civil War and one of the oldest residents of this section, Steven Ketchie, aged 78 years, 10 months and fifteen days, died early at his home near the limits of East Spencer after a long illness. He was paralyzed nine years ago and has been kept in his bed since that time, though conscious of this period. The funeral takes place Sunday at 3 p. m. from Christ Lutheran church in East Spencer, being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Foyd B. Lingle.

Mr. Ketchie was a native of Providence township, his mother dying when he was two days old and his father at the age of two years. Later he was taken to Tennessee but returned to his native county in young manhood and enlisted in the Confederate army, serving through the war. He located near Spencer soon after the war and was a successful farmer. It is said he never found it necessary to buy a pound of flour or a pound of meat, raising his own supplies in abundance. He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church until his death. Surviving is a wife and six sons, John, L. M. S., Charles, Henry, Wesle and Lee Ketchie, all well known in their respective communities. He is also survived by a number of grand children and by 16 great grand children.

An Object Lesson. Policeman: "What were you doing while the bandits were robbing the patrons?" Waiter: "I was kicking myself because I'd been such a piker all my life."

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

Must Watch Others. W. Bruce Cobb, associated magistrate of the traffic court, New York, says: "To prevent accidents you not only have to be prudent yourself, but have your car so far under control as to offset as far as possible the imprudence of others, whether motorists or pedestrians. Experienced motorists all agree that what they most fear is 'the other fellow'." Magistrate Cobb also gives sound advice when he says: "Don't drive if you have any mental or physical disability, habit or addiction that renders operation by you unsafe, either for yourself or others. Many persons having such disabilities as bad vision, deafness or serious heart ailments, are unbelievably stubborn and selfish in their belief they should be allowed to drive a powerful mechanical vehicle."
