Republican leaders generally regard West Virginia as one of the battlegrounds of the campaign because it is Mr. Davis home state. Hughes carried the state by about 3,000 against Wilson in 1916, and Harding had a plurality of about 60,000 over Cox four years ago.

La Follettee Committee Meets.

Washington, July 25.—The national executive committee of the La Follette Presidential campaign was called together for the first meeting here today. Ten men and women to whom the Wisconsin senator yesterday delegated practically complete authority to marshall the organization of his supporters, cope with the technical details of his candidacy and finance the campaign, were summoned for the meeting. Representative John M. Neßon, of Wisconsin. the national campaign manager, and chairman of the committee, was asked to come from Chicago to preside at the session.

Chairman Dawson Issues Call For August 7 to Be Held in the State Capital.

Raleigh, July 24.—State Chairman
John G. Dawson of the Democratic executive committee, will convene the state committee August 7, the date of the general assembly's special session, and on that occasion the committee will elect Mr. Dawson again as state chairman, will nominate Chief Justice W. A. Hoke and Associate Justice George W. Connor to fill unfinished terms.

There is no opposition to either functionary, but the state chairman is required by law to convene the committee. Judge Hoke and Connor were appointed too late to get into the state primary and their names must go before the people this fall. If the Republicans contemplate offering opposition to either judge there has been no hint of it and there has been quite a lot of evidence that the minority will show its respect for the justices by putting up nobody. Judge Connor's distinguished father once was nominated by the Republicans and Populists for the honor which the son now holds.

Another officer told of the defendants leading a searching squad to Hessville, Ind., where shoes, belt buckles and classpins, all previously identified by the parents as belonging to Robert Franks, were found.

Fourteen state witnesses were examined at the morning session, bringing the total called in two and a half days of court proceedure up to 61.

They moved so rapidly through the witness stand that the luncheon recess came a half hour ahead of schedule time to permit the state to prepare additional witnesses for the afternoon session,

Loeb and Leopold lingered in court for a few minutes exchanging assurances with relatives. Leopold, his arm across his brother's shoulder while the latter clasped the defendant's waist, whispered for several minutes then nodded and patted his brother on the back, as he turned to submit himself again to the custody of his jail escort.

Aged Farmer and His Wife See Train For First Time.

Glasgow, Ky., July 24.—Lewis Franklin, 80, and his wife, 76, saw their first train yesterday when they came to Glasgow from their farm near Beaumont, Ky., on which they have lived continuously for 40 years.

They made the trip here—their first motor car ride—in the automobile of a neighbor.

Asked why he had never left his farm during the last four decades, Franklin replied flat he did not want to go anywhere. He said he is now trying to think of a place to visit so that he can ride on the train.
