BENNETT IS GUILTY; TO KNOW FATE TODAY

Mecklenburg Jury Finds Him Guilty of Kidnaping and Seducing Miss Lawing. Charlotte, Aug. 29.—Floyd Bennett, young white man of Forsyth county, tonight was found guilty by a superior court on charges of kidnaping and seduction under promise of marriage, the verdict ending one of the most widely attended trials in Mecklenburg county in many months. Bennett was pronounced guilty of kidnaping Miss Loretta Lawing, 16-year-old daughter of J. T. A. Lawing, well known mattress manufacturer, and also of seducing Miss Lawing under promise of marriage. The jury recommended the mercy of the court. Sentence will be imposed Saturday morning by Judge Thomas J. Snow, of Greensboro, who is presiding over court here. Under the law, he can sentence Bennett to 25 years in state prison, 20 years for the kidnaping case and five years for seduction. The law leaves minimum penalty in the discretion of the judge. Bennett's attorney, R. D. Smith, will make a strong plea for mercy. Bennett jumped into the twilight June 23 when he is alleged to have persuaded Miss Lawing to accompany him to Raleigh and High Point on a promise of marriage, where he abandoned her in a boarding house, Miss Lawing whereabouts were unknown for some time, but she was finally located through widespread publicity given her disappearance. Bennett disappeared, but was caught about two weeks ago in Georgia. Evidence in the case, which was started yesterday afternoon, was closed shortly before noon today, within a short time after Miss Lawing, the prosecuting witness, went on the stand and told her version of the affair. She told the same story she told in police court some time ago spirited grilling by defense counsel failing to shake her recital in any detail.

Pressmen's Union Refuse to Endorse LaFollette. Rogersville, Tenn., Aug. 29.—Delegates attending the biennial convention of the International Pressmen and Assistants' union today defeated by an almost unanimous vote a resolution endorsing the LaFollette-Wheeler candidates.

Action of convention followed a spirited address by Major George L. Berry, president of the international union, who declared the resolution had no place in the convention nor did the convention have any right to make such commitments.

The convention today received messages from President Coolidge, John W. Davis, national democratic nominee for the presidency, and Robert M. LaFollette, independent candidate for the office, setting forth inability to lend their personal presence to the convention.

Downs 'Em Again. New York, Aug. 29.—Washington won the second straight game of the series with New York here today 5 to 1, beating the Yankee ace, "Bullet" Joe Bush.

The veteran Walter Johnson pitched brilliantly for the Senators until he was forced to retire in the eighth when Schang's line drive injured the pitcher's right hand. Marberry finished for the Senators and although the only Yankee run came off him, he held the world champions in check thereafter.

Ice cream was introduced into this country by a Philadelphia caterer named Boon in 1800, but it did not become popular until Mrs. Dolley Madison, as mistress of the White House, had it served at state dinners over which she presided in 1817. Since that time consumption of this delicacy has risen until now an average of 2.66 gallons of ice cream are made annually for each inhabitant of the country.

ROAD MATTERS SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BY ROBERTS

General Manager of Carolina Motor Club Discusses Club and Traffic Laws. Rocky Mount, Aug. 29.—"Caesar, the great road-builder that he was, could in no way compare with Frank Page, whose foresight and earnest effort in building an even grater empire of roads more successfully," declared C. W. Roberts, vice-president and general manager of the Carolina Motor Club in an address delivered before the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs here Thursday. "Even though the recognition was small," Mr. Roberts continued, "the salary increase awarded him by the last legislature indicates the feeling of North Carolina and North Carolinians."

Mr. Roberts' address carried a great deal of reference to the Carolina Motor Club, the organization he has so successfully inaugurated and established. He outlined the many services of the club to the motorists of this state and to the continuous stream of tourists who daily travel in North Carolina because they find good roads, good towns and hospitality on the part of the people. In speaking of the work done by the club in connection with eliminating speed traps and unjust traffic violation prosecutions, Mr. Roberts said:

"Our purpose is not to antagonize the state, county or municipal officials, but on the other hand, to co-operate with them. I want to pay tribute to their generous and far-reaching help. It has enabled us to be of service to the motorist and that is our sole purpose and reason for existing. We believe in the observance of laws as they stand on the books, and not as they have been treated in many instances."

"The laws are inadequate to the needs of the motoring public. If you drive over 30 miles an hour on the highways, you are violating the law. You violate the law if you drive over 20 miles an hour in the city limits; if you drive over 10 miles an hour in the business section or go that fast passing any country crossroad. If your lights do not meet regulations, you violate the law; bad brakes violate the law; if your horn is not working you are liable for arrest and if you do not stop at all railroad crossings. And there are no amelioration by circumstances, either. We must enact laws that will permit us to be law-abiding citizens, all of us."

"Many circumstances cause accidents on the highways; we have the reckless, the careless, the blind, the deaf, drunken, the fool driver and the courting, and the worst of these is the courting. One of the dangers today on the highways, are the loving and petting drivers—and the flapper class does not constitute all of these, either."

Mr. Roberts touched on the bus and freight motor line situation stating that it was his opinion that private motorists should have the courtesy of the road of right-of-way since it was this class which paid the greatest revenue. He paid tribute to honest automobile dealers and garage owners who, he said, tried to help "you wear out your car by the longest route" and who "could do much toward elimination of expensive motoring."

"The Carolina Motor Club and the Carolina Automobile Trade Association are devoting their entire attention to improving conditions; to putting the automotive business in North Carolina on a higher plane, following a Code of Ethics which mean something. The Carolina Motor Club will shortly take a referendum vote of its membership to determine the support of motorists regarding legislation."

"We advocate the increase of miles per hour to 35 on the highways; 25 in incorporated towns or villages and 15 in the business section of these. We should repeal the law regarding 10 miles per hour at country cross roads—anyway, very few folks observe it. All vehicles on the roads at night should carry lights. Every driver should be examined carefully; under the supervision of the State Department, all brakes and lights should be submitted to a periodical test. We favor the increase of the gas tax and decrease of license-plate tax. I believe a law should be passed requiring a certain speed on crowded highways and to prohibit loading. The state constabulary will stop the petty mail order arrest business, and the stop law should and will be amended."

Ice cream was introduced into this country by a Philadelphia caterer named Boon in 1800, but it did not become popular until Mrs. Dolley Madison, as mistress of the White House, had it served at state dinners over which she presided in 1817. Chambers FIRELESS Gas Range COOKS with the GAS TURNED OFF! THOSE WHO COOK WITH THE GAS TURNED OFF AND WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT IT. Concord & Kannapolis Gas Co., Concord, N. C. Dear Sirs: Several days ago in looking over my gas bills from another city where I used natural gas at a rate of about 60 cents per thousand cubic feet I was struck with the fact that since installing a Chambers Fireless Gas Range in Concord that my gas bills average about the same here at a much higher rate, as they did with the old type gas range. In other words I could have in the past saved about two-thirds of my gas bill by the use of a Chambers Fireless, and am now saving this difference which will in less than a year pay for the stove. I thought you would be interested in this fact as it was an interesting study to me. Yours very truly, H. W. BLANKS. Concord & Kannapolis Gas Co.
