

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A marked smoothness characterizes the performance of Dodge Brothers Motor Car. In keeping with the policy of constant improvement, effective measures have been taken to minimize vibration. Applied to the body, engine, clutch, brakes, and other vital units, these refinements add immeasurably to the comfort of travel over boulevards and country roads. The effect is so pronounced, in fact, that it is entirely fitting to classify smooth performance as one of the outstanding attributes of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Wednesday, September 17, 1924. This is Constitution Day, the 137th anniversary of the adoption of the United States Constitution. Boston today enters upon its 206th year, having been settled on this date in the year 1630. Cornelius Cole, former United States senator from California, reaches his 102nd birthday anniversary today. The United States Senator from Utah and Mrs. Reed Smoot today will celebrate their fourth wedding anniversary. Citizens of Berkeley, Calif., today will recall this as the first anniversary of the great fire which nearly destroyed their city. In Rome today exercises will be held commemorating the 150th anniversary of the birth of Cardinal Mezzofanti, the greatest linguist the world ever has known. Many millions will take part today in a celebration in honor of the centennial of the founding of the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia. Interesting exercises are to be held at the University of Idaho today at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Science Hall of that institution. At Des Moines, Iowa, today John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential nominee, is to deliver the final speech of his present campaign tour of the Middle West. The working out of a central plan for bringing Colorado River water to southern California cities for domestic use is expected to receive much impetus from a conference of officials from these cities, which has been called to meet in Pasadena today. A parade of 400,000 workers featured the opening of the International Trades Union Congress in Vienna.

DAVIS INTENDS TO CARRY THE FIGHT TO LA FOLLETTE

Will Not Co-operate to Defeat Coolidge in the Northwest. Mark Sullivan in Charlotte Observer, Washington, Sept. 14.—The week just passed has been marked, on the part of the Democratic candidate, with the adoption of a definite policy of fighting La Follette and condemning some of La Follette's platform. This ends a question about strategy that has prevailed in some parts of the Democratic organization ever since the opening of the campaign. In the beginning it was held by some of the Democratic managers that they should facilitate La Follette's chances of carrying the northwestern states. It is quite apparent that, as to several of those states, the La Follette vote plus the Democratic vote would be greater than the Coolidge vote; and La Follette could be helped to take those states away from Coolidge by the adoption, on the part of the Democrats, of a policy of opposing or actively helping La Follette. Other Democratic leaders held that this would be undignified and unworthy; that it would hurt the Democrats in other part of the country when it should become apparent, and that it would injure the party as a permanent institution if it should permit itself, without a fight, to run third in several western states. In the end the decision has been made to take the broad way and make a straight Democratic fight throughout the country. This will make some difference in La Follette's chances of carrying the northwestern states, although it still remains a fact that in some of those states, notably Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Democrats have had for some time only a skeleton and more or less moribund organizations.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON—I make bold to state without fear of successful contradiction, as the operators say, that the busiest of the presidential candidates is none other than Robert Marion La Follette. La Follette, as you probably know—maybe you tuned in on it yourself—made a campaign speech by radio on Labor Day. It was "Bob's" first venture "on the air." His contact with radio up to that time had been mostly second handed. He had heard it was a popular medium for creating near-personal contacts between a speaker and an invisible audience, that next to a handshake and a pat on the back it was the most direct method of approach a candidate could find. But he didn't know it for sure. It was all hearsay to him. Not, perhaps, fully realizing just what he was letting himself in for, Bob, in closing his radio address, invited his hearers to write to him their views of the political situation, of his position on public questions, etc., etc. AFTER that, the deluge! The radices responded. Next to tuning in on important programs, writing letters is the best thing radio lovers do. The La Follette mail grew by pecks and bushels. Daily deliveries mounted from a few score to hundreds, then thousands. Now, in inviting letters, Bob also had promised to give each letter his own personal attention and answer. The result has been that his aides have had to look after the routine details of his campaign while Bob is putting in his days and nights reading and answering the flood of letters his invitation inspired. OFFHAND, this may sound like a petty and futile way for a candidate to be putting in his time. But La Follette has a hunch it is not. Despite the labor involved, La

Follette finds these letters more stimulating and invigorating, also encouraging, than any other sort of reports he has had as to the progress of the independent campaign. He feels that in them he is getting actual first-hand information. And as his speech and his invitation for letters were broadcast through a dozen stations, blanketing the country as far west as the Rockies, he feels the replies he is receiving are geographically as well as politically representative. It was largely as a result of the optimism inspired by the response to his radio speech that "Fighting Bob," in an address to independent workers in Washington Sept. 5, declared he now has "an even break with President Coolidge for the election." ALL the bugs that visit the White House are not political bugs. Apparently President Coolidge, for the period of the campaign, at least, can tolerate the latter sort. But he has declared war on the cock-roaches, water bugs and kindred insects which infest the cracks and crannies of the century-old executive mansion, and a professional "bug-hunter" has recently been employed to wage war upon them. Latest reports are that the bugs are fighting a losing battle. After one night's barrage of bug powder, carpenters tore out an old oak floor in the White House basement. Behind it they found nearly five pounds of dead insects. THE White House, however, is not Washington's only choice retreat for bugs. All the older government buildings, with their thick walls and cool shaded cracks and corridors, filled with musty files and dusty shelves, invite the presence of myriads of bugs, particularly roaches, which develop an unenviable and invincible

"A REAL GOOD PLACE TO TRADE" What KELVINATOR Is and Does. KELVINATOR is the name of an electrical refrigerating unit that fits right into the ice box you now have, and eliminates forevermore the inconvenience and inefficiency of ice-cooled refrigeration. It maintains a dry, unwavering atmosphere in your refrigerator at all times. It maintains a certain predetermined temperature and requires no attention whatsoever, after its installation. It produces a temperature considerably lower than that produced by ice. It freezes crystal clear cubes of ice for the table or the sick room. It is a model of cleanliness and sanitation. It saves labor, food, annoyance and money. It costs less than ice to operate, and its first cost is not a burden. It is operating successfully in more than 40,000 homes, nine of these in Concord. Ask for the names of those using them. Phone 303 and 125. J. F. PHARR & BROTHERS
