

GENERAL ELECTION IN GREAT BRITAIN ON 29TH OF MONTH

House of Commons Will Be Dissolved Tonight Following Defeat of Labor Party in Yesterday's Voting.

M'DONALD CALLS AT KING'S PALACE

Declares to Newspaper Men That He Is Sorry Labor Party Was Not Allowed to Carry Out Its Plans.

London, Oct. 9. (By the Associated Press).—The House of Commons will be dissolved tonight and a general election held on October 29th, it was announced this afternoon after King George held a privy council at Buckingham Palace at which he signed a proclamation proroguing parliament.

Premier MacDonald, whose government was defeated last night, called on the King early this morning. He spent an hour with the King.

It was understood that the question of the resignation of the cabinet was not touched upon at the conference between the King and Premier MacDonald.

In informing representatives of the press after he had left the King that dissolution had been decided upon, Mr. MacDonald said:

"I am sorry that events have turned out as they have, but everyone knows the situation is not one of the government's seeking, but has been forced upon it. Personally I should have been very glad if the labor government had been allowed to carry out its policy, a policy which I maintain has been one of honest politics and of the promotion of the interests of the commonwealth."

The Premier said that the government would have preferred to have saved the country the expense of another election. After leaving the palace he returned immediately to No. 10 Downing street for a cabinet meeting. As he made his way into the narrow street a crowd which had assembled in front of the Prime Ministerial residence cheered him.

DAVIS IN MERTOPOLIS

Has Completed Three-Day Campaign in New York State.

New York, Oct. 9.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the Presidency, returned here today from a three-day trip through upper and western New York, the results of which he declared to be highly pleasing.

After a brief visit to his headquarters he went to his home at Locust Valley to rest and prepare for his second invasion of the middle west.

WANT FIELD SECRETARIES FOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

Western North Carolina Methodist Conference Will Be Asked to Act on Matter.

(Special to The Tribune.) Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 9.—At the approaching session of the Western North Carolina conference of the M. E. Church, South, which meets at Greensboro, on October 15th, with Bishop Collins Denny presiding, the conference Epworth League Board will be asked to ratify a recent action of the Epworth League board of the M. E. Church, South, providing for the employment and direction of regional field secretaries of Epworth League throughout the bounds of the Southern Methodist Church.

The conference Epworth League board, of which the Rev. L. A. Fall of Concord is chairman, will foster the regional field secretary for the area included in the Western North Carolina conference, and it is expected that the field secretaries will work in co-operation with and under the direction of the central office at Nashville, Tenn., of which Dr. F. S. Parker is general secretary.

The thirty-eight annual conferences of the M. E. Church, South have been grouped into twelve regions, with reference to the field secretaryships. The Western North Carolina conference, together with the North Carolina, South Carolina, and Upper South Carolina conferences, compose group No. 11. This area will be in charge of a field secretary to be named by the presidents of the co-operating boards and the presidents of Epworth Leagues within the eleventh region, who will constitute an advisory committee to direct the work of the field secretary. The regional secretary will be selected following the round of annual conferences, and will probably enter upon his duties following the Epworth League residents' meeting in Dallas, February, 1925.

The office of regional secretary is recommended on account of the rapid growth of the Epworth League organization and increasing participation of leaguers in the work of the Methodist Church. It will be recalled that the Epworth League recently pledged itself to raise $100,000 for missionary extension in 1924.

JAKE DAUBERT, NOTED BALL PLAYER, DEAD

Death Came After Complications Which Set in After Operation Thursday.

(By the Associated Press.) Cincinnati, Oct. 9.—Jake Daubert, captain of the Cincinnati National League baseball team, died here today. Death came after a valiant fight against complications which set in following an operation for appendicitis last Thursday.

Blood transfusion was resorted to yesterday in an effort to prolong his life. Daubert's condition first became aggravated on the last eastern trip of the Reds when he was taken ill in New York. Manager Jack Hendricks sent him to his home in Schuylkill Haven, Pa., and his sudden departure led to reports that Daubert would be engaged to manage a minor league club.

He remained at home several days and then came on to Cincinnati and played in the last game of the season on September 27th. Several physicians said that Daubert disregarded his advice in returning to the lineup. Dater Daubert remarked to the doctor that it probably was his last game in the major league and he did not want "people to think Jake Daubert was a staller."

Jacob Ellsworth Daubert was born April 17th, 1885, at Shamokin, Pa. He started his baseball career in 1906.

THE COTTON MARKET

Opened Today at Decline of 15 to 20 Points Under Continued Selling.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 9.—The cotton market opened today at a decline of 15 to 20 points under continued selling with probably further encouragement in a better weather map than expected, and relatively easy Liverpool cables. Slight rallies on covering and some trade buying met considerable hedge selling, however, and active months sold 30 to 34 points net lower before the end of the first half hour, December declining to 23.63 and January to 23.71. Opening prices were: October 24.00; December 23.90; January 23.88; March 24.17; May 24.38.

Edard's Fall Opening Friday.

The Fall Opening of the New Elfrid Stores at Concord and Kannapolis begins Friday morning, October 10th, and continues through Saturday, the 18th. During this time many new fall garments and other articles for fall will be shown and offered at attractive prices. The stocks at both these new stores are complete and you will indeed be hard to please if you cannot find what you wish there. The firm has a double page ad. in today's paper in which it enumerates the many good things for its large army of patrons.

Owners of Stored Cotton to Pay Taxes on It.

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—Owners of cotton stored in Charlotte warehouses at tax-lasting time (thi year, valued at approximately $2,000,000, will pay taxes upon it the same as any other property. Recently the county commissioners ordered that this cotton be taxed and the owners objected. They talked of going to court but at the October meeting of the board the commissioners were notified that the tax would be paid without a kick.

Soldier Bonus Applications.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Only 1,300,000 applications out of a possible 4,000,000 have been received for the soldiers bonus and veterans who intend to apply for the adjusted compensation were urged to do so without delay by Major General Robert C. Davis, adjutant general of the army, in a statement.

Cotton on the local market today is quoted at 23 cents per pound. Cotton seed 32 1-2 cents per bushel.

NEGRO FATALLY BEATEN IN CHICAGO IN JEWISH QUARTER

Victim of Mob Was William Bell, Who Is Said to Have Accosted Two White Women Who Called For Help.

ONE MAN HELD BY THE POLICE

Number of Others Were Arrested But Were Released. Police Are Patrolling the District at Present.

(By the Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 9.—William Bell, 33-year-old negro, was beaten to death in the Jewish quarter here last night by 200 men and boys, attracted by the screams of two young white women who said Bell had accosted them.

Police reserves seized twenty persons in dispersing the crowd, but released all except Otto Epstein, a sacramental wine dealer, whom they accused of having struck Bell with a baseball bat. Epstein denied the accusation, asserting that it was he who summoned police. After a perfunctory examination today Epstein was held for further examination.

Several hundred policemen patrolled the district today and it was stated no recurrence of trouble was expected, although it was said race feeling was running high recently because of an influx of negroes into a section previously largely populated by white foreigners.

Epstein was accused by George Bell, brother of the negro, and another negro of an unprovoked assault, although Miss Bettie Greenblatt, an 18-year-old stenographer, told the police that Bell had spoken to her and had been repulsed and then had seized her by the arm and attempted to pull her across the street. Her statement was corroborated by her companion, Miss Bertha Deutsch, 21 years old.

In July, 1919, clashes between negroes and white persons growing out of the slaying of a negro lad at a Chicago bathing beach cost upward of a score of lives.

Not Able to Identify Bell.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—The probability that the wrong man was lynched when a mob last night beat to death William Bell, a negro, after two girls were stopped by a negro, who seized one of them by the arm, was seen today when the two young women were unable to identify the body as that of their assailant.

Two other negroes said they had been talking with Bell and had only started to leave him when they heard the girls' screams and saw the mob forming. They died.

FEAR NEW TONG WAR FOR NEW YORK CITY

Shooting in Chinatown Last Night Proved Fatal to One Man—Others Badly Wounded.

(By the Associated Press.) New York, Oct. 9.—Emergency measures were adopted by the police today to prevent a recurrence of the shootings in Chinatown last night in which one Chinese was killed and two others wounded, probably fatally. The police believe the shootings were the beginning of a new tong war.

The number of police in the streets around Chatham Square was more than doubled. The first precautionary measures were taken a week ago when the first rumblings of trouble were heard as an echo of rival membership campaign of the Hip Sings and On Leongs.

To Elect Thirty-four Senators.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Terms of 32 of the 96 senators expire next March. Counting the extra senator to be chosen in Colorado and the one to be named in Rhode Island to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Colt makes 34 senators in all who will be elected next month. In a number of the states, particularly in the northwest, the senatorial contests have been complicated by the candidacies of third party men and independents. In South Dakota, for example, there are five independents in the race, in addition to the nominees of the Republican, Democratic, and Farmer-Labor parties. In Minnesota Magnus Johnson, the sole representative of the Farmer-Labor party in the upper house at present, is running for re-election and is opposed by Thomas D. Schall, the blind ex-congressman, on the Republican ticket, and John J. Farrell, the Democratic nominee. In Iowa, Smith W. Brookhart, Republican candidate for re-election, has his opponents Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, and Luther A. Brewer, independent. In other states there are independent candidates, but they are not expected to figure prominently in the results.

In most of the southern states the Democratic nominees, as usual, are virtually without opposition and are assured of re-election. These include Thomas J. Heflin, Alabama; Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas; Joseph E. Ransdell, Louisiana; William J. Harris, Georgia; Cole Blease, South Carolina, and Pat Harrison, Mississippi.

Charlotte Speedway to Be Ready Saturday.

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—The Charlotte speedway, on which the first race will be held Saturday, October 25th, will be completed Saturday of this week, according to C. Lane Etheridge, president of the speedway association. The grandstand will be completed by Thursday and the track will be ready by Saturday, he said. A majority of the drivers already have shipped their cars which are expected to arrive here next Monday.

McLean Heard By Large Crowd in Address Here

Democratic Candidate for Governor Discussed Some Questions of the State Campaign.

MEEKINS' CHARGE IS FULLY DENIED

Bank Failures Are Not Due to the Democrats But to Republicans, the Speaker Declared.

Speaking here last night before one of the largest political audiences that has gathered in this city in a number of years, A. W. McLean, Democratic candidate for governor, pledged his support to some doctrines of State government and denied charges of his political opponent, Daniel E. Meekins, that the corporation commission had been inefficient and negligent.

Mr. McLean was introduced by John M. Olesby, member of the Concord bar, Major W. A. Fell, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, and a large number of women were in the audience that packed the court house and overflowed in windows and aisles. Mr. McLean spoke at noon before the local Rotary Club.

Mr. McLean said that he had entertained the very ardent hope that the Republican candidate for governor would see the error he was making in repeating his attack on the State banks and deposit, but that this hope had vanished as he read the report of the Gaston speech yesterday morning, in which the Republican candidate, following up his attack, said:

"There are 520 State banks in North Carolina today, and 225 of these ought to be shut up. They are being managed by men whom God Almighty never intended to be bankers."

"If that is the leadership that the Republican party offers the State," Mr. McLean said, "may the good Lord deliver us. So we have at last the only definite proposal of the Republican candidate if he is elected governor is to close up 225 State banks, without regard to their condition or the need for such banks in the communities in which they operate."

Mr. McLean then described the intimate relationship which exists between many of the small State banks in the towns and the service to the people in these towns. He said that a well managed bank of small capital is not unwise, and that many of the best and safest banks in the state have small capital.

"In view of the record of bank failures in other state and in the nation as a whole, I believe that there is no just cause for the wholesale attack which the Republican candidate is making upon the State banks of North Carolina, which is evidently made not by way of constructive criticism, but for purely partisan political purposes. I again repeat that this attack may be productive of great harm to the people of this State, and I appeal to the Republican candidate to cease these attacks before further harm is done."

"If he has any regard for the welfare of the State I ask him to give this matter serious consideration and to consult with some reputable and experienced Republicans who are in the banking business, any one of whom I confidently believe would tell him that he is pursuing a course that cannot bring any good results, and which may be the cause of infinite damage."

Mr. McLean described the constructive record of the Democratic party for the past twenty-five years in building a better commonwealth, mentioning some of its most conspicuous achievements in respect to education, health work, the care of the afflicted, highway construction and the other progressive things that have been done under the Democratic administration from Aycock to Morrison, inclusive, and pledged his best efforts to utilize all the resources at hand in the continued upbuilding of the commonwealth.

He then contrasted the lack of any record of achievement of the Republican party, and finally he appealed to his hearers, many of whom were Republicans, to take a militant part in upholding the hands of the Democratic party and its leadership in reaching the goal which, he said, he coveted for North Carolina—that of making it the best governed, the most prosperous and the most contented state in the republic.

He characterized the attacks which the present Republican leaders in the State are making upon the Democratic administration as "pryoush," unpatriotic and destructive in tendency. After describing some of the other points of criticism, he referred to "the attack of the Republican candidate upon the supervision of State banks."

Mr. McLean said: "The Republican candidate for governor has charged the corporation commission with negligence and inefficiency in the supervision of State banks. In proof of this contention he says there have been thirty bank failures in five years, or an average of six per year. He urged this as one reason why the Democratic party has shown its incompetency to run the State government, and says that the only remedy is to substitute the Republican party for the Democratic party in the conduct of State government."

"In answer to this suggestion let us see what the Republican party has been able to do to prevent bank failures in places where it has control of government. In the last three years of the Wilson administration there were only 180 bank failures, State and national, with 72 million dollars total resources in the United States as a whole, while in the last three years of the Republican administration there have been 1,221 bank failures with resources of 447 million dollars, in the United States."

"During the eight years of the Wilson administration there were only 20 bank failures in North Carolina, and in three months of this Republican administration there have been more than twice as many bank failures in one Republican state as there were in North Carolina in these entire eight years. There were 41 bank failures in South Dakota in the first three months of this year, or at the rate of 164 per annum. How is that for Republican supervision?"

Suggestions Offered.

"Having had experience as the head of a country bank since I was 26 years old, I would like to make two suggestions to the Republican candidate: "The real reason for the unusual number of bank failures in the country under the Republican administration, unparalleled in the history of the country, is not due, as he suggests, to lack of proper supervision of either State or federal authorities, but to the bankruptcy of about 600,000 farmers and livestock producers in the United States, particularly in the wheat and cattle production."

WASHINGTON AGAIN HAS CONTENTING TEAMS

Sixth Game of World Series Being Played Today.—President to Attend Again.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 9.—President Coe decided to join Washington State today at the world's series again today, watching the Senators battle the New York Giants in the sixth game. Mrs. Coolidge, who has followed the series closely by radio while the teams were away, also had a place in the presidential box. The President and Mrs. Coolidge also attended the opening game here last Saturday.

Ready for Prosecution.

Washington, Oct. 9.—If President Johnson of the American League, or any one else, has evidence of a federal law violation he should present it to the authorities. Attorney General Stone said today in connection with the recent scandal involving members of the New York Giants.

AUTOMOBILE EXHAUSTS ARE PROVING MENACE

More People Die From Poisoning From This Source in New York Than Anywhere Else.

New York, Oct. 8.—Poisonous gases now are a greater menace in peace than in war and more people die from carbon monoxide poison in New York than anywhere else in the world. Prof. Yandell Henderson, of Yale university, today told the national association of police and fire surgeons in a national convention.

Vertical exhaust pipes on all motor vehicles would remedy this situation, Professor Henderson said, as they would direct the gases upward and "out of the level of the air we breathe."

Dr. Charles Morris, chief medical advisor of this city, announced that only deaths from vehicular accidents exceeded those of monoxide poisonings including accidental and suicide asphyxiation. He estimated that an automobile contaminates a volume of air equivalent to its width and height and 100 to 200 yards in length each minute. He told of taking air samples on Fifth avenue which showed a high percentage of monoxide.

Safety Devices on Charlotte Speedway.

Charlotte, Oct. 9.—Prediction that the Charlotte automobile speedway, now nearing completion, will be equipped with better safety devices than any other board speedway in America, was made this week by Richard Kennedell, of Franklin, Pa., chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Kennedell said further that he will stipulate that many of the Charlotte safety measures be adopted on other board tracks. Perhaps the most notable of these is the steel band "hat" being fastened to the top guard rail, tilted at an angle so it will fend and deflect any racing car out of control that may dash to the top of the vola and try to smash through the rail.

Furthermore, a new kind of heavy wire fence is being constructed on the infield to protect spectators, should a car dash to the speedway apron headed towards the infield.

The Charlotte speedway grandstands are being constructed farther from the straightaways than any grandstands at other board tracks. This is another precaution in the event of an accident near the stands. The banks at the turns are tilted to 40 degrees to prevent possible skidding after the racing cars leave the straightaways.

Mr. Kennedell has been chairman of the contest board of the American Automobile Association for twelve years, and he states that in all that time not a single spectator has ever been killed at an automobile race held under the rules and with the sanction of his organization. The Charlotte races on October 25th will be staged under A. A. A. rules and sanction.

Barred Issues Warning.

Charlotte, Oct. 8.—The La Follette-Wheeler movement in America state is the effort of the line Republicans to get North Carolina away from the Democrats, according to a lengthy statement issued here today by James F. Barrett, editor of the Charlotte Herald, labor organ, and former president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor.

Mr. Barrett points out that it is utterly folly to wage a campaign for La Follette, when the only possible result to be obtained is to give these electoral votes to the most bitter enemy organized labor has in public life today—Charles G. Dawes.

Child Run Over by Mrs. Candler Dies.

(By the Associated Press.) Atlanta, Oct. 9.—Mary Elizabeth Lundsford, five years old, who was run over late yesterday by an automobile driven by Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Sr., died here early today at a local hospital. The little girl suffered three fractures of the skull and a major concussion of the brain as a result of the accident.

The condition of J. P. Allison, who is undergoing treatment at the Charlotte Sanatorium, is reported today as about the same. Mr. Allison is reported to have rested more comfortably Tuesday night and yesterday.

TRIP TO TEXAS SUCCESSFUL ONE

Ship Behaved Fine and Unusually Good Flying Time Was Made—Good Weather Is Promised For the Day.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 9 (By the Associated Press).—Favorable weather was promised today for the second leg of the trans-continental flight of the big navy dirigible Shenandoah which was moored to a 160 foot mast here last night after her hop from Lakehurst, N. J. It was the first time a dirigible ever landed west of the Mississippi River. She set sail for San Diego, Cal., at 9:45 a. m.

Today's course was charted along the Texas & Pacific railroad to San Diego, the route traversed by the United States world fliers. The next stage will be to the terminus of the history making flight, Camp Lewis, at Lakeview. The return will be made over the same route to take advantage of the mooring mast recently installed here and at San Diego.

The first leg the flight was unusually successful, according to Rear Admiral Moffet, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics, and official observer of the trip.

The ship sailed from Lakehurst at Fort Worth in approximately 84 hours, averaging about 8 hours ahead of schedule. Actual performance of the ship was in all respects better than scheduled, the Admiral said. Her speed was faster and fuel consumption was less.

Governor Smith Forced to deal With Rheumatic Attack.

Boston, Oct. 8.—The New England campaign of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, which has taken him to New Hampshire and Massachusetts in support of the national and state candidates of the Democratic party ended here today when an attack of rheumatism forced him to take to his bed and to cancel his engagements to speak in Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The governor still was in bed at a hotel here tonight under the care of a physician who said that more than nine years of a fifteen year sentence for his alleged connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times in 1910, was arrested here today and held under $20,000 bond on four indictments returned by the Marion County grand jury charging blackmail.

McNamara Again Indicted.

(By the Associated Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—John J. McNamara, who served more than nine years of a fifteen year sentence for his alleged connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times in 1910, was arrested here today and held under $20,000 bond on four indictments returned by the Marion County grand jury charging blackmail.

Governor Smith Resting.

(By the Associated Press.) Boston, Oct. 9.—Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, whose New England speaking engagements were cancelled yesterday because of an attack of rheumatism, will rest here another day before returning to New York. The speaking engagements in New Jersey the latter part of the week were cancelled.

Red Cross to Meet in St. Louis.

(By the Associated Press.) Washington, Oct. 9.—The next annual meeting of the American Red Cross will be held next October in St. Louis. Overruling a report by its rules committee the annual meeting now in session here voted to convene next year for the first time outside the national capital.

Irish Boundary Commission Bill Passed.

(By the Associated Press.) London, Oct. 9 (By the Associated Press).—The House of Lords today passed the bill creating an Irish boundary commission, giving the third reading to the measure which had already passed the House of Commons and which will be given royal assent this evening.

Kingsu Forces Take Sinking.

(By the Associated Press.) Shanghai, Oct. 9.—Sinking, which has been the defense outpost of the Chekiang Shanghai army during the past week in the hands of the attacking Kingsu forces, it was definitely determined tonight.

Switzerland is the first country to establish government insurance for school children. It was introduced in 1922 in the Canton of Basil which insured all the pupils in the public schools against accident and sickness. While it is not compulsory throughout the country other cantons and municipalities have taken steps in the same direction.
