

The Concord Daily Tribune

J. B. SHERRILL, Editor and Publisher
W. M. SHERRILL, Associate Editor

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Special Representative
FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
235 Fifth Avenue, New York
Peoples Gas Building, Chicago
1904 Candler Building, Atlanta

Entered as second class mail matter at the postoffice at Concord, N. C., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

In the City of Concord by Carrier:
One Year $12.00
Six Months $6.00
Three Months $3.00
One Month $1.00

RAILROAD SCHEDULE

Table with columns for destination (Washington, Danville, Richmond, etc.) and departure times.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Love no man anything but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

The Village Rhymester

Dear Folks:
Said Eddie Smith to Henry Long, 'My business sure is bad, no more I'm optimistic and no more I'm feeling glad.'

Milk is Nature's Patent

MILK sounds like patent medicine when all its virtues are catalogued. It is the oldest prescription in the world—nature's pre-prescription for the building of strong, healthy bodies.

Co-Operative Dairy Co.

The Only Pasteurizing Plant in Cabarrus County
Phone 292 95 S. Union St.

THE FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Second Annual Cabarrus County Fair was a great success in every way, and the officials of the fair lived up to their slogan: "Better Than Advertised."

AN INVESTMENT—NOT AN EXPENSE

One of the best known real estate men in America recently said:
'Any modern, efficient steam or hot-water heating plant will add three to five times its cost to the selling value of the house.'

THINK OF IT!

Steam or Hot Water Radiators in your house means not only a more comfortable and healthy home, but a big increase in the selling value of your property as well!

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

OH, HOLD ON A SECOND, EVERETT! THAT WAS WALTERS—I WANT TO SAY A FEW WORDS TO HIM.

DON'T YOU THINK SO, TOO? YES, WALTERS, I DO. SAY, I'VE GOT THOSE PAPERS HERE IN MY POCKET—LET'S SEE—

FIVE GOLDEN MINUTES HAVE PASSED INTO ETERNITY.

MY NAME IS EVERETT TRUE! I DON'T KNOW WHETHER YOU REMEMBER ME OR NOT! IT SEEMS NOT!!!

E. B. GRADY

Plumbing and Heating Dealer
Phone No. 334W 29 E. Corbin St.

SAY AIR LINERS ASSURED.

The traffic manager of an Atlantic transportation company sees in the successful voyage of the ZR-3 a practical assurance that the day of air liners for intercontinental transportation is at hand.

The airship will be able to make trans-Atlantic trips in forty-eight hours, he says, saving several days time over the fastest steamers now in use.

He points out also a financial economy in the airship over the water vessel. A gigantic airship like the ZR-3 represents a construction investment, he says, of only about $2,000,000, as compared with $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 for the steamship.

The steamship crosses the ocean on 5,000 tons of oil at $7 per ton, as compared with twenty tons for the airship. The steamship was a crew of from 500 to 1,000, while the dirigible is managed with a crew of twenty-five to thirty.

Of course the airship built and operated at these figures, cannot carry anything like the number of passengers and freight that the steamship can handle, but this traffic manager estimates that the cost of the air trip could easily be placed at half of the present price of a ticket on a modern liner.

With the use of helium as an inflation gas, this traffic manager believes the air liner is every whit as safe as the sturdiest steamship, and considering the fact that the time of the trans-Atlantic trip is divided by three, he estimates that the actual risks of the passage would be only a third as great.

It is not probable, of course, that the air craft will take the place of the steamship, but it undoubtedly soon will be a very important auxiliary. Its chief value, it seems, will be the swiftness with which it can negotiate a trip to and from Europe.

Mr. Doughton Hopes to Carry Every Salisbury Post.

Congressman R. L. Doughton, returning from a brief campaign in Cabarrus, was in Salisbury today and expressed the firm conviction that Cabarrus would return a very creditable Democratic majority this year, as will Stanley.

Mr. Doughton also expressed the belief that he has a good chance for carrying every county in his district. He believes he is going to carry Alexander and Watauga counties. He has never carried Watauga, but lost it two years ago by some sixty votes.

Mr. Doughton is a very active campaigner and has made his usual appeal of vigorous appeal to the voters of every section of the district. He is delighted with Democratic prospects.

Meat smoked with cornmeal has a flavor said to be better than that from hickory.

Published of Income Tax Returns Unlawful

New York Paper's Action Causes Stir at Capital—Gives Amount of Taxes. Washington, Oct. 24.—The publication in a New York paper of the income tax for 1923 of a number of well known persons, among them John W. Davis, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., J. P. Morgan and E. H. Gary, caused a stir here today.

Many felt that the law had been violated, and that the persons named in the publication might have just ground for action for damages against the paper.

At any rate, that was the interpretation of the law by Commissioner D. J. Blair, of the internal revenue bureau, who said the bureau, on learning of the publication of the tax returns, had instructed the internal revenue collectors for the state that the law did not permit publication.

Mr. Blair went on to say that the revenue act passed last spring by Congress did not repeal the old law, which plainly forbade publication of income tax returns in any manner. The new law does permit any person who may desire to examine the returns to see them, but not to speak of them to any other person.

When the revenue bill was under consideration in the Senate last spring Senator Norris, of Nebraska, offered an amendment throwing the income tax returns open for publication in any newspaper, but this amendment was modified by the Senate finance committee, and afterwards by the conference committee, so as to permit individual examination of returns, without publication.

The most interesting feature of the publication was the over $75,000 income tax paid last year by John W. Davis. A treasury official was asked about the Davis income, on the basis of the above figures. He said it would depend whether or not Mr. Davis' income was chiefly derived from professional services, or from bonds and securities, on which a normal tax is not levied. He thought it indicated Mr. Davis' income was around $250,000 last year.

The Davis income tax provoked a good deal of comment generally. Some Democrats feared that the publication of such a large income tax return of the Democratic candidate for President within ten days of the election would help him among a large class of persons who are inclined to listen to the charge that he is a Wall Street lawyer.

It was said, however, by some of Mr. Davis' friends, that while he has been receiving a large income as a lawyer, he is what might be called a "poor man." It is known that his house at Locust Valley on Long Island is heavily mortgaged. He has been receiving a large income for only about three years.

Secretary Hughes is listed as paying an income tax of $34,000. Before he became secretary of state, his friends say, he was making as large a salary

Evans Goes Up in the Air

You seldom hear of Chick Evans being up in the air, but the other day, out in Wichita, Kas., the noted amateur golfer explored the clouds. Chick was in an airplane. It was his first flight, and he was enthusiastic. "But I didn't land an eagle," he lamented.

PUBLISHING OF INCOME TAX RETURNS UNLAWFUL

John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s, income tax of several million indicates, it was pointed out, that his income amounted last year to about $14,000,000. The tax rate on incomes over one million last year was 50 per cent. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., according to the New York paper, was largest income taxpayer in the country.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Saturday, October 25, 1924
Seventieth anniversary of the battle of Balaklava and the famous charge of the Light Brigade.

The Prince of Wales concludes his American visit today, sailing for home on the steamship Olympic.

The fourteenth annual Texas Cotton Palace exposition and festival will open at Waco, Texas, today for a two weeks' engagement.

Three thousand women of Rhode Island are expected to parade in Providence today in protest against the "growing lawlessness" in that State.

A notable wedding in Washington official society today will be that of Miss Beatrice Beck, daughter of the Solicitor General and Mrs. James M. Beck, to Sonerville Pinkney Tuck, Jr., an attaché of the State Department.

In commemoration of the founding of Germantown, Pa., a tablet is to be unveiled today to mark the place where the 13 original settlers of the town met in 1682 to select sites for their new homes.

Queen Mary is expected to be present at a thanksgiving service which thousands of women of all professions will attend at St. Paul's Cathedral today in connection with the jubilee celebration of the London School of Medicine for Women.

Four Men Dely Pacific In Thirty-two Foot Boat.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 25.—Aboard a 32-foot boat four men from this city have set out on a cruise across the Pacific, with Honolulu as their destination. The cruise was planned by Karl Rathfon, an experienced navigator of small craft, and his boat is the Idle Hour.

The Idle Hour has a 10-horsepower motor, a beam of 11 feet and a depth from the deck of six feet. Rathfon declared she could ride any wave the Pacific could raise. She sailed with half a ton of iron filings as ballast, in addition to large supplies of fuel oil and provisions. The men have no radio, but expect passing vessels to report their progress occasionally. They plan to cruise down the coast to San Pedro, Calif., then across to the Hawaiian Islands.

The world's production of artificial silk now exceeds the production of natural silk by more than 50 per cent.

DINNER STORIES

Not a Kick!
"I just stopped in to tell you," began the man at the complaint desk of the gas company, "that my gas stove blew up yesterday."

"Tell your troubles to a plumber," growled the surly clerk. "That's no fault of our—your got non kick here."

"Oh, I'm not kicking," replied the customer cheerfully, as he opened the door. "Only I thought I'd tell you that your blamed old slot meter backfired at the same time, and I haven't been doing any thing but pick up silver quarters all over the cellar ever since. Good day!"

Not Those Two.
Briggs: "What's a lucky day to get married, old man?"
Jiggs: "Don't know, I'm sure—only tried two of them."

The Last Resort.
"Poor fellow! He said that he tramped the streets of the big city until he was down to his last dollar."

"And then decided to commit suicide?"
"No. Then he decided to go to work."

No Hurry.
Foreman: "Didn't you hear that whistle to go to work?"
Laborer: "I did, but I was waiting for the echo."

Force of Habit.
Husband: "What's the matter, dear?"
Wife: "I've been trying to light the cookstove, and every time I strike a match I light a cigarette instead."

'Sh Ver' Diffic'
"Zat choo, Bill?"
"Yep."
"Well, shay, tell me where I am."

"Why, you're right in front of your own house."
"Suferin' catfish! Thash th' piece I been tryin' to get away from all evenin'."

Modern.
Dan: "Do you love me?"
Nan: "I'll tell you know after I've had a psychiatric test to determine the question."

Heavy Labor.
Wife: "I suppose you've had a hard day at the bank."
"Third Vice President: "Yes, dear. I heard three stories I'd heard before."

Found Dead Chained to Tree.
Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 23.—The body of Henry McHenry, of Ardmore, a suburb of Philadelphia, was found today chained to a tree about six miles from Trout Run and two miles from the nearest house. He had been dead several months. The chain was fastened about his neck with a lock. He had worn a path about the tree. It at first was supposed to be a case of murder, but tonight the authorities learned from his father that the man was demented. The father believes it a case of suicide.

Germany has exported over 100,000 tons of sugar in nine months, or more than eight times as much as in the previous corresponding period.

GENERATOR SERVICE

Guaranteed Armature Rewinding Reasonable Prices

Repairs All Kinds of Generator

BOLLINGER SERVICE STATION

EXPERT SERVICE

The eye of the expert sees many things that the layman overlooks. Our specialized service will guide and guard you in all matters electrical.

"Electrical Satisfaction Here"

W. J. HETHCOX Electrical Fixture W. Depot St. Phone 668

Furniture Buying Takes Careful Planning and Thinking—Added to this the right store for your purchases. Our display of furniture is especially complete at this time. It is the kind that has Quality Built Into It—the kind that will give life-long service and complete satisfaction. We invite you to come in and see our wonderful display of furniture. We have the Largest Stocks and Complete lines in all grades.

BELL-HARRIS FURNITURE CO. The Store That Satisfies

TAILORING OPENING

Friday and Saturday, October 24, 25

The Hopkins Man

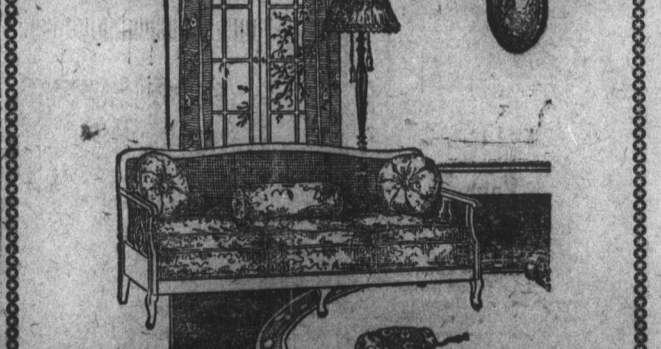

MR. J. W. ZULAUF

With the Tape Line Is Here to

Take Your Measure for a New Suit and Overcoat

Fit and Satisfaction Guaranteed

W. A. Overcash Clothier and Furnisher

New Arrivals in Cane Living Room Suites

It will be easy for you to make your selection at this store because we carry a large stock and only the best of suites are shown in the very latest styles and upholstery. Out of the High Rent District.

H. B. Wilkinson

Concord Kannapolis Mooresville H. B. WILKINSON FUNERAL HOME Phone 9