IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

Farewell Service for Missionaries. An unusual yet a most impressive service was held at St. James Lutheran Church last night. St. Andrews and Calvary congregations united with this congregation in honor of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Norman, of this city, who will soon sail for Japan. Greetings were conveyed to the missionaries from different organizations of the congregation. Mrs. S. A. Wolf speaking for the women, F. R. Shepherd for the men, Harold Dry for the young people, and Mrs. M. Cook for the children's organizations. All these speakers referred to the pride this community and especially this church has in these splendid soldiers of the cross and conveyed to them the best wishes of the home people and assured them of our unmitigated support.

Rev. M. L. Kester spoke for the two congregations of which he is pastor. He dwelt upon the fine opportunity for aggressive and constructive mission work and expressed confidence in the speedy evangelization of the world with workers such as those we are sending out. His talk was filled with the kindest sympathies for the missionaries and their work and heaviest interest in all that effected them. At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Kester presented a check from the Calvary Mission Society, remitting Mr. Norman that it had had a part in the organization of this aggressive congregation.

To these greetings Rev. and Mrs. Norman responded in a most pleasant and heart touching manner. They spoke of some of the hardships of the missionary's life, yet a life overflowing with joy. They told of their anxiety to get back on the field which needed the care and presence of the missionary. They were most optimistic for the future of Japan. It was a source of inspiration to them to leave with assurances of not only the good will of the people at home but of the knowledge of the fact that they will be backed up in all their work by the Christian church in this country. At the conclusion of their talks Mrs. L. A. Weddington in a few happy remarks, presented to Rev. and Mrs. Norman a purse of gold, the gift of St. James.

The choir rendered effectively "Sing Alleluia Forth" by Dudley Buck and "Lovely Apper" from the Redemption, by Gounod.

Rev. and Mrs. Norman and children will sail for Japan on the 20th of this month, leaving Concord on the 5th. They have spent part of their furlough at the home of Mr. Norman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Y. L. Norman, on Tribune Street.

Object of W. C. T. U. and Responsibilities Devolving on Members. Every woman knows the prime object of the W. C. T. U. As far back as 1873 when the "Marching Mothers of the Crusade" made this movement famous and in a way inspired that wonderful woman, an and teacher, Frances Willard, to the movement that ended in the 18th Amendment. The sole object of this organization is the complete abolishment of liquor traffic.

Everything that is worth while in the U. S., everything that is worth while in the life of the individual, rests squarely upon the basis of law and order. You can't destroy prohibition laws, or ridicule or oppose enforcement of that law without striking directly at the safety of your own sons and daughters. Prohibition is a mighty stone in the foundation of the United States. Every blow on this stone weakens the whole structure. You hear much in politics about the return of light wine and beer. This return of beer would be a civic menace. Beer is made in breweries. The U. S. Judiciary Committee investigated these interests and reported that this traffic is to be such a lawless and disturbing element as to challenge the attention of the entire country.

Women have been taken out of the class of paupers, idiots, criminals and insane, and are legally recognized as citizens. When I hear a woman say, "Oh, I am not interested in politics," then I know that she does not care a rap what becomes of her children, her home or her nation. You can't escape politics, it walks with you, and I do not mean that every woman should be a politician, but that every woman should be a good citizen.

How can we as women and citizens of Concord help the cause of prohibition?

- 1. By arousing public sentiment for law enforcement.
2. By informing ourselves as to men who are seeking office.
3. By making dignified formal protest when all violators are not dealt with according to law.

If we are for prohibition, for law enforcement, for protection of our children, we will exercise our influence at the polls and prevent the election of any man whose standards are questionable. PUBLICITY COMMITTEE.

PRICE OF GASOLINE ADVANCES ONE CENT

Increase Along Atlantic Seaboard Result From Increase in Consumption. New York, Nov. 1.—Gasoline prices along the eastern seaboard were advanced one cent a gallon today, reflecting a steady decline in production and unusually favorable fall weather.

In recent weeks daily crude oil production has fallen nearly 85,000 barrels daily until it now is about 1,967,000 barrels daily compared with 2,285,000 a year ago. In view of a decline of 5,700 barrels daily in the Los Angeles basin this week and decreases in the Oklahoma fields and other areas, it is estimated that daily production this week will approximate 1,830,000 barrels, a loss of 15,000 to 20,000 a day below last week's figure.

The increase of one cent a gallon in gasoline, started today by the Standard Oil company of New York, was quickly Texas company and the Sinclair Refining company.

The trade anticipates that the price of fuel oil and the gasoline for export will be advanced next week.

COLORED FAIR HERE TO OPEN TOMORROW MORNING

Officials Have Everything in Shape For Opening and Large Crowds Are Expected During the Week.

The second annual colored fair for Cabarrus county will open at the fair grounds here tomorrow morning and continue for four days. Officials of the fair declare they have everything in readiness for the opening and they have made plans to entertain thousands of persons during the week.

Fair weather is promised by the weather man for the week and if this prophecy holds good, officers of the fair declare, they are going to have one of the best colored fairs in the State.

A parade will formally open the fair tomorrow morning, the line of march to pass through the business section of the city. The fair will be in full blast as soon as the paraders reach the fair grounds.

Horse races each afternoon promise to be the biggest drawing cards of the week. Eighteen horses are here for the races and some fast stappers are in the bunch. Good size purses are offered for the winners in the races.

Fireworks will be offered two nights and in addition there will be free acts each afternoon and night.

A carnival company has arrived to furnish a variety of amusement on the midway and the shows are said to be as good as those found on any midway.

Exhibits are offered in abundance. The colored people of the county are taking new interest in the matter and their produce and they are offering this year the best they have. Premiums for the best exhibits are being offered.

Everything seems favorable for a real fair, and thousands of colored visitors from all adjoining counties are expected to be here during the week.

PRINTING ERRORS ARE UNIMPORTANT

Mistakes in Names of Democratic and Republican Election on Ballots no Harm. Raleigh News and Observer.

Errors in the names of Democratic and Republican electors on the ballots for the general elections as printed on the national ballots will cause no trouble under the laws of North Carolina.

The law is stated in Consolidated Statutes under the chapter on elections, Saturday.

The names of F. W. Hancock, Jr., Democratic presidential elector from the fifth district, and Sam J. Morris, Republican elector from the fourth district, are incorrectly printed on the ballots. Hancock is listed as F. M. Hancock, Jr., and Morris as Sab J. Morris.

The law is stated in Consolidated Statutes under the chapter on elections as follows: "The board of State canvassers in canvassing said returns (in elections of presidential electors) shall merely add up the returns as certified by the county board of canvassers, but it shall be their duty to disregard any such apparent clerical error or any such technical informality as may not render it reasonably uncertain who was the person intended to be designated as voted for, and when was the number of votes actually received by any candidate."

Large Audiences Present for Institutes. Large audiences were present for the Sunday School Institutes held yesterday. The institute for No. 3 township was held at Gilwood at 3 o'clock and the No. 2 institute was held at Roberta at night.

Departmental secretaries of the county association were present at both institutes and made addresses on the work of their respective departments. These secretaries were Miss Eugenia Lee, of the children's department; Mrs. R. M. Cook, of the young people's department; E. J. Sharpe, of the adult department; and Prof. J. B. Robertson, of the administrative department.

At Gilwood an inspiring address was delivered by Dr. Powers, of Washington, D. C., who was the guest of Mr. Sharpe.

At Gilwood Mrs. Johnson was elected assistant superintendent of the children's department and Mrs. C. H. Hamilton was chosen assistant superintendent of the young people's department.

At Roberta Miss Mae Blackwelder was chosen assistant in the children's department and Mr. Caldwell was chosen to the same office in the young people's department.

Next Sunday the last institute for the year will be held at Keller Church in No. 5 township.

At The Theatres.

The Star today is showing "Men," starring Pola Negri, supported by Robert W. Frazer, Robert Edison and Joseph Swickard.

Leo Maloney in "R." in Double, an exciting human drama of western life, also two comedies "Making Man Handlers," and Alberta Vaughan in "Go Getters," at the Pastime.

TEN KILLED IN RAILROAD WRECK IN CHICAGO YARDS

Watchman Said to Have Raised Gates At Crossing As Train Approached.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Ten passengers were killed and two scores injured, some seriously, early today, when a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad freight train, backing into the yards here, wrecked a crowded street car crossing the tracks. Most of the victims were neighbors returning from a Halloween party and many wore masquerade costumes.

The dead: Catherine Ruedhansen, 21. Mrs. Mary Carrity, 85, and four-year-old daughter, Anna May. Mrs. Elizabeth Burns, 40. Unidentified woman, 20. Patrick O'Malley, 57. Bennie Cadalleri, 30. William Welch, 45. Dr. M. Shekkin, 70. Elmer Balanfleter.

Panic Follows Crash.

Mrs. Garrity and her daughter were suffocated and trampled in the panic which ensued when the street car was shunted across the street and, crashed into a watchman's tower, coroner's physicians said. Police squads and firemen who rushed to the scene found the passengers screaming and fighting in the darkness for the exits. Rescuers used saws axes and crowbars to break away the wreckage and extricate the victims.
