IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

COMMISSIONERS MEETING.

Number of Matters Presented to County Commissioners at Meeting Monday.
Quite a number of matters were presented to the commissioners of the county at their meeting at the court house Monday. Action was taken on several of the matters but action on some others was postponed.

Of special interest was the decision of the board to discontinue traffic officers in the county. The officers, W. E. Philemon and Lonnie Funchberg, have been serving as rural policemen as well as traffic officers.

The board was asked to use its influence with the road commission of the county in an effort to get several roads improved.

At their request of school officials the commissioners granted the Brown Mill School authority to connect with the water line of the county home.

Miss Martha Creighton, district home demonstration agent, appeared before the board and asked for an increase in salary for Miss Lillian Cole, county home demonstration agent. She also stated that Miss Cole wanted to use her own car in the future if the commissioners would grant the increase in pay.

Definite action in this matter will be taken at the January meeting, the board declared. The Ford coupe which was purchased several years ago for the home demonstration agent, was offered for sale by the commissioners and was purchased by J. B. McAlister.

All members of the board were present and the meeting was held immediately after the commissioners took the oath of office.

Georgeville Community Meeting.

Another very interesting meeting of the Georgeville Community Club was held at the schoolhouse on last Saturday night, November 29th. A short program was rendered by the children, consisting of readings, recitations and songs.

The club was fortunate indeed to have with it Miss Frances Hill, Miss Pratt, and Prof. Robertson, of Concord. Miss Hill delighted her hearers with a splendid and interesting reading on the subject, "What is Education." Miss Hill in her charming manner told why we should get an education, the advantages of education, etc. Her reading was enjoyed very much.

Prof. Robertson also made a splendid talk, his subject being "If Your Heart is Right You Are in the Work." Prof. Robertson discussed his subject very effectively and held his hearers spellbound from beginning to end. He threw out many of his humorous jokes along with his talk.

Speaking for the club and community we can truthfully say that Miss Hill's and Prof. Robertson's talks were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Mr. Mabey, principal of our school, made a talk on "The Family of Students." His talk was also enjoyed by all. Music was furnished throughout the evening by local string musicians, which also helped to make the program a success.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday night, December 2nd. A Christmas program will be given at that time.

PRESIDENT.

Will of J. P. Allison Filed.

The will of the late J. P. Allison was filed for probate with the clerk of court this week. The will written by Mr. Allison in his own handwriting, leaves his entire estate, including bonds and all, to his wife, Mrs. Annie C. Allison.

No estimate of the value of the estate was given in the will, which is about 20 lines in length.

The entire estate is left to Mrs. Allison to be divided at her death as she sees fit.

Book O'Concord.

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce will in the near future begin working and gathering photographs, facts, and beauty spots for the most beautiful booklet of Concord and Cabarrus county ever undertaken. This has become necessary on account of the new hotel in answer to hundreds of inquiries now coming in regarding our city. As a piece of advertising matter it will be unique. As a souvenir it will be beautiful.

On To High Point.

Twenty-five of Concord's and Cabarrus' best young manhood leave Friday to represent the city and county at the "Y" Clubs at the Older Boys' Conference.

Harry Lee Johnson, Boys' Work Secretary of the local Y, will head the Concord delegation. They have been instructed by the Secretary, Mr. Blanks, to bring the next convention to Concord or "bust". The Chamber of Commerce and other civic clubs will back up the demand.

Membership Smoker.

Chamber of Commerce members and friends will hold the first winter meeting at the Y next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. A free for all program, smokes and dainties will feature the meeting.

BEGGAR ARRESTED BY POLICE OF THIS CITY

Charged That He Was Going to Homes Asking For Help—Frightened Number of Women.

Local police officers Monday afternoon arrested here a white man giving his name as C. C. Doughton, and he was lodged in jail charged with vagrancy. It is alleged by the police that the man visited several homes of the city begging and in some instances walked right into homes without knocking at the front doors.

Several ladies of the city were badly frightened by the man, it was reported to the police, when he walked into rooms into which they were sitting without knocking or giving any other indication that he was in the house.

Police officers at first thought perhaps the man was the same who cuttered three homes in the city last Saturday and carried off jewelry and clothing. However, an examination proved that he was not the man.

Officers reported that a small quantity of denatured alcohol was found on the man. He claimed he used the alcohol to rub his body.

The prisoner probably will be given a hearing in recorder's court tomorrow afternoon.

Pet and Hobby Show.

The second Annual Pet and Hobby Show will open its doors to the public Friday, December 10th at 6:30 p. m. A large number of extra coops have been engaged and from every indication the show will prove to be the best yet. Hundreds of boys and girls, men and women will enter their pets. Curiosities, fancy work, crochet, pictures, a big New York Bank will have a novel entry in showing the current money of all of the leading countries of the world.

Animals, monkeys, pets of every description. People living in the country are asked to show their chickens and pets. Everyone get on the band wagon.

Profit Sharing Days in Concord.

Immediately after the holidays the local Chamber of Commerce will with the support of the merchants of Concord, inaugurate once each month for six months a general Profit Sharing Day for the benefit of Concord, Cabarrus and the surrounding sections. Many cities have and are using this method to attract and stimulate trade. On these days it is planned to offer genuine reductions, clean salable goods. Watch for the announcements and plans.

No Wonder.
"They exchanged a look full of longing," says a recent novel, and here's why:
He longed:
To be able to retreat into his own home.
To have socks darned and buttons sewed on.
To settle down and stop having to "go places."
To hear children's voices near by.
To help spend her father's reputed fortune.
She longed:
To be able to entertain in her own home.
To stop darning socks and sewing on buttons.
To have an opportunity to "go more places."
To get away from her brothers' and sisters' yelling.
To help spend his reputed income.
