IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

COURT CASES

Several Important Cases Disposed of Wednesday in Superior Court.

In the Wednesday batch of cases before the Superior Court, there was a noticeable lack of the usual line of liquor cases, only two being placed on the docket and in both instances no sentence being pronounced. George Earnhardt was found guilty of possessing, transporting and selling liquor but the final judgment was deferred.

Another charge preferred against Earnhardt, that of assault, in which he was said to have shot his daughter, Daisy, in the leg, was dismissed when the jury found him not guilty. Judge Shaw's ire was aroused, however, when the state's witnesses, Sarah Earnhardt, Earnhardt's wife, Daisy Earnhardt, his daughter, and Walter Leffer became evasive in their testimony. The judge proceeded to have them removed from the court room and denied them witness fees.

The case of James Smith, charged with receiving and possessing liquor, was continued till next term of court, he furnishing a $500 bond.

In the case of J. O. Cortrett, charged with incest, a nol pros with leave was taken, the witnesses in the case averring that the testimony they had given in the magistrate's court, to-wit that Cortrett was guilty of immoral relations with his daughter, was altogether false. The prosecuting witnesses, Gunn and Nora Wisham, were served notice to appear at the next term of court to show why they should not be charged with the costs in the case.

Cortrett stated to a representative of The Tribune that the case was brought about as a result of his forbidding his daughter, Gracie, 17, to receive further attentions from Wisham. Gracie, together with a younger daughter, Eva, 13, whom Cortrett had whipped, had the Wishams to swear out the warrant and appeared at Magistrate's court.

As a result of the case, despite the fact that Cortrett could not be found guilty, the Solicitor had the four younger children removed to the Barium Springs Orphanage. These children, Eva, Grady, 10, Hazel 7, and Benzil 4, were taken to the orphanage Thursday morning. Gracie was held in the county jail, said Solicitor Long, pending her removal to Samaraut.

John Cochran was found guilty of having committed house breaking and larceny. Cochran had stolen, it was shown in the evidence, $7 and a pair of trousers from an old negro man who had been saving both the money and the pants with the intention of using them at a church conference, which he was very anxious to attend. As a result of the theft, the negro was unable to attend the meeting, suffering great inconvenience as well as actual loss. The cause of the inconvenience, Cochran, was sentenced to three years work on the county roads.

Wiley Biggers, charged with practicing medicine without a license, was permitted to go free after the payment of costs.

Bus Mabley, charged with larceny, was given 6 months on the roads. Guy Black, charged with stealing a cultivator, was given a suspended sentence of ten months on the roads.

Ervin Christenbury, for alleged slander against Juez Reed, was given a suspended sentence provided he continued good behavior for a period of three years.

H. E. Cook was found guilty of forcible trespass on the lands of Frank Smith. The sentence was not given.

Ralph Hamilton was given 60 days on the roads on a larceny charge.

The grand jury did not find a true bill against Tom Parrell in a nuisance charge.

The case of Joe Lindsey, charged with an attack with a deadly weapon, was not prosed.

GAS LADEN TANK TRUCK BURNS NEAR ALBEMARLE

Three Hundred Gallons of Gasoline Went Up in Smoke—Driver Jumped, Escaping Without Injury.
Charlotte Observer.

C. H. Lowder, Albemarle gas truck driver, had a moment of intense action at Little Bear Creek bridge on the Albemarle-Charlotte highway near Red Cross Wednesday at noon when he escaped from his truck the instant before it burst into flame and burned down at the loss of about $3,000.

Mr. Lowder said that as he was leaving the bridge going toward Red Cross with 300 gallons of gasoline he noticed a spurt of flame coming from under the hood. He hit the ground running, he said, after he had applied the emergency brakes to the truck. The machine at the same moment left the road and turned down a five-foot embankment. By the time the truck had stopped, he said, it was covered with fire.

No explosion followed, as was expected. The gasoline was consumed in a blaze that reached thirty feet in the air. Those who gathered warned approaching automobiles of the danger of an explosion and a number of cars waited at respectful distances while the fire roared. Mr. Lowder is an employee of the Gulf Refining Company.

Wincoff News.

The Athenian Literary Society last Friday elected new officers for the following two months. They are:

President—Kenneth Burrage.
Vice President—S. O. Stone.

Treasurer—Edith Fink.
Chaplain—Margie Stone.
Critic—Mr. C. A. Furr.
Censor—Miss Campbell.
News Reporters—Clarence Stewart and Frank Litaker.
Program Committee—Miss Campbell, Doris Williams and Winie Warren.

The following young people enjoyed a party given by Hugh Godman at his home on New Year's night: Misses Campbell, McGeehe, Gladys and Hazel Goodman, Annette and Lula Umberger, Annie Cline Barnhardt, Nita and Grace Litaker; Clarence Stewart, Orlia and Albert Barnhardt, Fred and Frank Litaker, James Lloyd and John Barber, David and John Kenneth Wincoff, Roy and Willy Umberger and C. A. Furr.

The Senior Class is indeed sorry to lose one of its members, Miss Carrie Litaker.

Miss Sara Wincoff visited friends at Highport the latter part of last week.

James Moore, formerly of Kannapolis, has taken up his studies in the ninth grade at Wincoff.

C. W. Wincoff has moved into his new home adjoining the school ground.

The class of '23 was entertained by Miss Annie Cline Barnhardt, at her home, December 31st. Miss Barnhardt is a sophomore at N. C. C. W.

C. A. Furr, principal, was summoned for the jury this week, but was excused because of his position as head of the school.

The "Made in Concord" movie will be shown at Wincoff School Tuesday, January 13th at 7 p. m. All are invited.

The H-Y Athletic Association of Wincoff has won three games and lost two in the County Basketball League.

NEWS REPORTERS.

Davidson College Glee Club to Be Here.

The Davidson College Glee Club, otherwise known as the South's Most Versatile Singing Club, will make its first appearance in Concord on Saturday evening, January 17th at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the Concord High School Athletic Association.

The club has only recently returned from a week's tour through North and South Carolina, and Georgia, where a concert was given to packed houses in all the leading cities of these states. The success of the club at its various performances was due in a large way to its wide repertoire which many musical critics through the South claim that any college has ever produced.

The personnel of the club includes besides the chorus, a novelty jazz orchestra, a fine symphony orchestra, two of the best black face comedians that can be found anywhere and a number of fine soloists, including both voice and instrumental.

The Athletic Association is indeed fortunate in obtaining so talented a club as they are conceded to be the best in the Carolinas. It is hoped that the citizens of Concord will back the High School and by doing so enable them to make a success in their new venture.

REV. WILLIAM BRADSHAW HEARD IN THIS CITY

Delivered Powerful Sermon in First Baptist Church Here.

Before the largest crowd of people that have ever attended a Wednesday night meeting at the First Baptist Church Rev. William Rufus Bradshaw, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hickory, delivered last night a powerful sermon on the subject of "Repentance."

Mr. Bradshaw held his audience spell-bound for thirty minutes with a straight doctrinal talk, delivered in a forceful manner.

A prominent Concord man, a speaker himself, was heard to remark after the services that "no man has ever been in Concord who created a better impression. I could rank the address as one of the very best that I ever heard."

Numbers of the churches of the city omitted their regular Wednesday night services in order that their members might have an opportunity to hear Mr. Bradshaw. Among those who did not have services were Central Methodist, West Concord, McGill Street Baptist and the A. B. P. Church. Practically every pastor in Concord was present Wednesday night, stated a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Bradshaw praised the members of the church for their good work in building such a good church and said that the members had done something new in building the church and having it paid for at the time of completion. He expressed himself as pleased with his visit to Concord.

Lang & Long, Engineers.

Reece Ira Long, who was for over two years City Engineer for Concord, has received his registration papers to practice as consulting engineer throughout the state of North Carolina. His work in the future will be pertaining to streets, sidewalks, sewerage, water works, county and state road work, or to city engineering. Mr. Long has had wide experience in city work as he paved every street in Concord while city engineer. It is understood that he will be connected with the firm of Long & Long, Consulting Engineers, in Concord, in the near future. Mr. Long's partner in business some time later will be his nephew, Homer D. Long, a graduate of N. C. State College and who for years has had wide experience in state road work in this state, but is now connected with the State Highway Department in Knoxville, Tenn. He worked for his uncle when city engineer here.

POSTAL INCREASE BILL DEAD FOR THIS SESSION

Washington, Jan. 7.—North Carolinians who became alarmed over the prospects of the Moses postal increase bill need not worry any more this session, for it stands no show of enactment. The sustaining veto yesterday virtually closed that issue for the present. No bills except those that make appropriations will pass between this time and March 4, unless some emergency comes.

Shingles manufactured in British Columbia in one year, placed end to end, would reach over 770,000 miles, or more than thirty times around the earth and would provide roofs for over 125,000 modern dwellings.

Judging from plans already announced, the next few months will be the most active in the busy career of Willis Hoppe, the 182 1/2 ballline billiard champion.
