CHANGES MADE AT

LOCAL HARDWARE STORE

C. J. Harris and B. E. Harris to Leave Yorke and Wadsworth Hardware Company.

C. J. Harris, manager of the Yorke

C. J. Harris, employed in the same store have resigned their positions, the resignation of C. J. Harris to take effect immediately and the resignation of R. E. Harris to take effect within the next few weeks.

C. J. Harris has accepted a position with the Greensboro Joint Stock Company and will begin work with thin on Monday. The work Mar. Harris will do with the Greensboro bank will be of the same nature as that in which he was imployed several years ago. He will travel over the state of North Carolina and advise his bank as to the acceptability of loans for which applications have been made.

Until the 20th of January, when the stockholders meet, J. G. Parks, president of the firm, has appointed Wyatt Moose to take charge of the store as general manager. Several changes may be announced after the meeting of the stockholders stated Mr. Parks yesterday.

Judge A. M. Stack, who is presiding at the current term of a Superior Court became fill in the court room and physician administer to him.

He had been complaining several days of being unwell and has been somewhat indisposed for some time. He became faint during the trial of the case of Burke Small, negro burghar, about noon and an anounced to Solicitor Carpenter he would have to suspend court a moment. He retired to the judge's room and lay down on a couch. Dr. John Q. Myers was hastily summoned from his office at the Tryon Street Drug Store and administered freatment. Judge Stack came back to the bench after a while and finished the morning session of court.

Dr. Myers said the sudden illness of Judge Stack was due somewhat to over work and the fact that the court room had been rather stuffy and ill ventilated, it was crowded with spectators most of the morning.

Funeral of E. F. Himson, Funeral services were held Thursday afteneon for E. F. Himson, 67, who died at his home on Weet Corbin Street on the court of the faction fair an unfailing friend of The Advocate.
