A Tunic Dress

IT'S no wonder printed silks are so fashionable, because they are so very adaptable to the modern styles. Here we have a tunic dress of printed pussy willow made over a slip of plain color and trimmed about the sleeves and collar with bands of the plain color. The close neckline is very popular just now as are the slightly full sleeves.

Meeting of Art Literature Department.

The Art Literature Department of the Woman's Club held its regular meeting for January at the home of Miss Addie Goodman on Franklin avenue, with Mrs. Hinton McLeod as joint hostess.

Miss Mary Grady Parks opened the program with two very attractive readings, the first in Italian dialect, portraying the sorrows of a young man who finds himself in love with two girls, one of whom can sing while the other can cook. The second reading, in negro dialect, dealt with the darkeys' proverbial fear of the supernatural.

Edna Ferber's great story "So Big" was next reproduced, briefly, by Mrs. J. A. Kennet. Her paper was well prepared and particularly interesting.

A survey of the work of women writers in American literature was made by Mrs. S. A. Wolf, who stated in the outset that the proportion of women writers to men in the history of American literature is about one to three. But the percentage is growing larger in modern times, since so many present-day women are taking up their pens. Since Mrs. Wolf's subject was so broad, and covered such an extensive period of time, the discussion of each author's work was necessarily brief. But she handled her subject so exceptionally well that her talk was very much enjoyed.

As a special addition to the programme the club was favored with two beautiful tenor solos by Samuel Goodman.

The club had as its guest, Mrs. S. J. Ervin, Jr., of Morganton. Mrs. Ervin, before her marriage last June, was Miss Margaret Bell, of this city, and was the chairman of the department last year.

Following the programme, business of interest to the club was transacted after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Equalization of property values throughout the state and the increase of the equalization fund considerably, with machinery for proper distribution to the several counties, is recommended by the commission that has been studying the problem of school taxes. This plan would equalize the tax burden for public education, it is held. The report will receive the attention of the General Assembly.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. D. B. Morrison, the Dodson Ramsour chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy would record this tribute of gratitude for her companionship and service during many years. Outside of her own beloved church there was no cause to which she was more devoted, none that received more faithful service nor in which she was a more worthy example, than in this, which represented her loyalty to her country and to her fellow man. For long, president of the chapter and always a leader, she was the embodiment of loyal, faithful, devoted service, and an inspiration then, as her memory is now to those whom she has left to "carry on." "I cannot say, and I will not say: That she is dead, she's just away; With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair, It needs must be, since she lingers there, And you—O you who the wildest yearn For the old-time step and the glad return Think of her as faring on, as dear, In the love of these, as the love of hers, Think of her still the same I say, She is not dead—she is just away.

Ordinance to Drive Hogs From City.—Big Liquor Hunt.

Salisbury, Jan. 8.—A standard training school for Sunday school workers of Salisbury-Spencer—the fifth to be held—has been organized and officials elected. The school will be held in April at the First Methodist church.

Salisbury aldermen have voted on their first reading an ordinance which would banish hogs from the city limits. Since the limits were extended some years ago hogs have been allowed in certain sections of the new territory, but unless the aldermen reverse themselves at the next meeting the hogs will have to leave town.

Revenue officers working out from this city captured a new Hudson car and 100 gallons of whisky near Taylorsville. The driver of the car fled when the officers pushed him too closely. Officers thought the cargo was en route to Charlotte for distribution. The whisky was poured out and the vessels that contained it and as well as the automobile were brought to Salisbury.

FOUR TRAINS CUT OFF BY P. AND N. RAILWAY

Between Charlotte and Gastonia, Due to Inroads of Bus Operators.

Charlotte, Jan. 8.—Increased competition on the part of the automobile bus lines has forced the Piedmont and Northern railway, an electric railway, to cut off four daily trains between Charlotte and Gastonia, it was announced here today by officials of the road.

Effective Monday two "trains" each way will be cut off. The trains from Charlotte to Gastonia involved in the order are those scheduled to leave here at 1 o'clock in the evening. The Gastonia-Charlotte trains are the ones scheduled to leave at noon and at 7:05 p. m.

Automobile bus traffic between Charlotte and Gastonia has increased by leaps and bounds while the train passenger traffic has decreased, P. and N. officials said.
