VERDICT IN MEANS CASE
SURPRISED MANY PEOPLE
Local People Frank to Admit They Did Not See Evidence on Which He Was Convicted.

Guiding by remarks heard on the streets here Friday, the conviction of Gaston B. Means in a New York federal court, came as a surprise to Concord people. Testimony offered at the trial of Means, who was tried jointly with Thomas B. Felde, his former attorney, was read very closely by Council persons and many of them were frank to admit that they read nothing on which the Concord men could have been convicted. Elmer Jarnecke, former secretary to Means, was the principal witness in the case, he having told the jury that Means and Felde received money with which they were to bribe certain government officials. Jarnecke was at first indicted with Means and Felde, but he pleaded guilty and was used by the government as its chief witness. The fact that he has been on the government payroll since October, at a salary of $7 a day with $4 for expenses, made many Concord people declare they would not have considered his testimony. Means had nothing to say after he had been sentenced to serve two years in the Atlanta prison and pay a fine of $10,000 but his attorney filed notice of appeal. Felde's attorney also gave notice of appeal and Felde expressed confidence in the final outcome of the case. He was fined $10,000 but was not sentenced to prison.

The difference in the sentences also created much talk in Concord. The two men were tried on similar charges and both were found guilty, yet Means was given a prison sentence and Felde was not. It is not known here just what Means plans to do now. If his appeal is perfected he will have to give bond pending the hearing of the appeal and when the bond is arranged it is expected that he will return to Concord to join his family.

Davidson Wildcats Meet Local Team Tonight.
Advance advices from Davidson College would indicate that the Wildcats are coming to Concord tonight bent on showing how good a team they have, and all this at the expense of the local Y team.

All the first string will be in the game and in addition, numbers of the subs are being brought along for trial in case a lead sufficiently commanding is obtained. Fans will be able to see such stars as Anderson, Staley, Boggs, Laird, McConnell and other in action. The local team, though not in the pink of condition, is in much better shape than it was when it met the Davidson quint previously. At that time, there had been little practice and the Concord team was playing as badly as it had during the whole season. The locals have put out a little energy recently and practiced some which should show in tonight's game. Robert Bell, center for the team, has recovered from his recent illness and will be able to play in the game tonight. The other members of the team are all in good condition. Prior to the Davidson-Concord game, the Concord lasses will take on Salisbury lasses in a contest to see which of the two is the better. This game starts at 7:30 and the Davidson game will start at 8:30.

KIWANIS MEMBERS
HEAR DR. E. R. HOKE
President of Catawba College Makes a Fine Impression Here—Mr. Linn Also Heard.

The Kiwanis Club of Concord at its regular meeting on Friday at 12:30 o'clock heard with interest a talk by Dr. E. R. Hoke, president of Catawba College, which is in the midst of an endowment campaign for the new institution which will be located at Salisbury. Dr. Hoke told of the plans to make this an "A" grade college, and of the opportunities which will be offered to the citizens of this whole section of the state by having a high grade college in our midst. Davidson, he declared, is the only college within fifty miles of Salisbury doing A grade work, and each year there are large crowds of young men who cannot procure accommodations at that institution. The need for additional college facilities in this section of our fast developing state is urgent, he declared, and it is the intention of Catawba College to fill this need.

At the conclusion of Dr. Hoke's talk, Stahle Linn, attorney of Salisbury, was called upon to tell further of the plans for the institution. Mr. Linn stated that the old Catawba College has assets aggregating approximately $400,000 of the $1,000,000 goal set for the campaign. The church synods to which the institution belongs are undertaking to raise an additional $350,000, and meeting with splendid success. The city of Salisbury and Rowan county is going to raise $150,000 for the cause, and the five counties adjacent to Rowan are going to be asked to invest the remaining $100,000 in the institution. The speaker declared that the campaign is moving along nicely, and there is every indication that it will be a most successful one.

The club voted unanimously to present Miss Frieda Hempel with flowers at her appearance at the high school auditorium on Friday night.

The presence at the meeting of the immediate Past President, Caleb Swink, who has been spending some time in Florida, and of Kiwanian Will Bell, who has been ill for some time, were features that added much pleasure to the meeting. The attendance prizes, given by Gilbert Hendrix, program chairman, was drawn by Brevard Harris. The silent boost was given by Gilbert Hendrix. The meeting on next Friday noon will be in charge of Morrison King.
