LOCAL MENTION

Allen Harris has accepted a position as extra man at the Yorke & Wadsworth Co.

The Bible Story Contest for St. James Lutheran Church will be held in the church tomorrow at 3:30, to which the public is invited.

Remember, we will give The Progressive Farmer a whole year free to every subscriber of The Concord Daily Tribune who pays for a year in advance. You get two papers for the price of one.

The woman's missionary society of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. B. Biggers, on West Depot street.

On February 3rd at 10 o'clock, Fred M. Clayton will sell at public auction, near Cold Springs Church, on the old John L. Barnhardt farm, a lot of personal property. See notice in this paper.

E. H. Brown, of Dillon, is expected to arrive in Concord tomorrow to spend several days. He will be accompanied back to Dillon by Mrs. Brown and son, Philip, and they will remain in Dillon with Mr. Brown.

J. H. Brown, county welfare officer, has been confined to his home for several days by illness. His condition today was reported as improved and he hopes to be at his office some time during the day.

The silver cups for the Bible Story Contest will be on display in the windows of Ebird's, Parks-Belk and Penney's early next week. The gold medals are to be exhibited in Willeford's and Starnes-Miller-Parker's also next week.

According to deeds filed Friday with the register of deeds, the following transfers have been made in the county: J. A. Goodman to M. C. Moore; J. S. Archer to R. L. Smith; J. S. Smith to Neal, Ernest, Frank and John P. Archer.

Two basketball games are scheduled for Concord tonight, the first to be played between the Concord and Salisbury girls and the second between the Y varsity and the Davidson team. The games will be played at the high school court the first to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

R. L. Blackwelder, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blackwelder, of Vance Street, died this morning at eight o'clock, of pneumonia, after three weeks' illness. The burial will take place Sunday at the home, and interment will take place at Marion.

R. L. Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blackwelder, died this morning at nine o'clock at their home on Vance street. The child was fifteen months of age and had been ill several days. Funeral services will be held some time tomorrow, the hour to be determined later.

A number of defendants were tried in police court Friday and several of them were sentenced to the chain gang. The others found guilty paid fines and costs totalling $120. The session of the court Friday was the first since Monday as no cases were docketed for the regular sessions on Wednesday.

Townley R. Stevens, an experienced hardware man, has been with the Yorke & Wadsworth Co. this week rearranging their large stock of shelf and heavy hardware. They are now adding a number of new items, which when completed will make the store equal to any in the Carolinas.

Robert Holdseclaw, young negro who was arrested several days ago after he is alleged to have stolen a sack of flour, was tried Friday afternoon and sentenced to serve six months on the chain gang. The negro is alleged to have stolen the flour from the store of John W. Cline and to have sold it to a cafe for $1.00.

D. B. Morrison is confined to his home with injuries sustained Friday morning when he slipped on the sleet. Mr. Morrison has been confined to his home since the fall, his condition today being reported as only slightly improved. It was first reported that Mr. Morrison had suffered a broken hip in the fall, but this report is not true.

The February meeting of the board of county commissioners will be held at the court house here Monday morning. So far as is known now no matters of unusual importance is scheduled to come before the meeting and the commissioners are expected to devote most of the meeting time to routine matters.

Contractors building the Concord-Mt. Pleasant road have found it almost impossible to get much done during the past several weeks. First the rains interrupted the work and then the sleet came and halted operations again. Work on other roads in the county also has been halted by the unfavorable weather of the past several weeks.

A wheel on a milk wagon of the Cabarrus Creamery Co. ran off Friday while the wagon was being driven on Sprung street. The wagon was dragged several blocks but later had to be abandoned near the intersection of Sprung and West Depot streets. Cream and milk in the wagon at the time of the accident was not spilled and the driver was not hurt as the wagon did not turn over.

Sol continues to get the best of the sleet which fell in Concord Wednesday night and Thursday morning and his rays have about dried up the ice. Much of the ice was melted Thursday afternoon and practically all of the remainder was dried up Friday and this morning. Friday night was cold but the sun has been out in full force today and the "hang over" from Friday night's freeze were melted today.

Tom Sims Says

Romance is not dead. It is just a trifle dizzy from watching the other emotions move so fast.

It is often hard to see how some people act the way they do until you feel inclined to act that way yourself.

While an operation is painful it may improve your health. The same is true of cutting out a bad habit.

A conservative is a man who is either wise or a coward, all according to whether you are a conservative or not.

Being afraid to live is often called prudence.

Absence frequently has a tendency to make the appetite grow stronger.

Perhaps others don't think as you think because they think more.

A train of thought travels fastest when it is running express instead of local, but it is more likely to have a wreck.

Being sure you are right before going ahead would be better advice if you could ever be sure of anything.

The past is gone. And we would have used up too much time in doing as we should have done in doing as we should not.

Human nature is what makes life worth living. (Copyright, 1925, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)
