Miss Marie Hoffman, of Franklin, and Miss Mattie Lee Fisher, of Salisbury, spent the night with Miss Ethel Peeler Tuesday night, January 20th.
Ethel Peeler gave her brother, Nevin, a surprise birthday party Tuesday night January 20th. A large crowd was present. Nevin was sixteen years old. There were 31 boys and 20 girls. Every one enjoyed themselves and every one left wishing Nevin many more happy birthdays. The string band was there and made music. They were all served with cakes and fruits, and all had a fine time.

John A. Peeler and his wife have more grandchildren than any other couple in this part of the country.

We were appointed by the United States to be inspector of all the colleges all over the United States and report their condition. The first one we visited we talked with the professors and teachers and got all the information we could and then had a talk with the students and got all the information from them we could. They told us they could show us something we never saw before and to go with them about a half mile out in the wood and when we all got there they showed us a large hole in the ground about forty feet wide at the top and about seven feet wide at the bottom and a little pathway around the edges to walk down to the bottom. We went down with them and there was a well of pure whiskey of the finest quality running over and running out through a little tunnel. They said they never drank any of it and it was doing no harm to the college. Then we woke up and found it all a dream.

Rev. Mr. Andrews preached a fine sermon Sunday night at the Reformed Church to a large crowd. The weather was fine and the people turned out in full force.

Some one up in Baltimore is reading our items and they sent us a beautiful card. Here is what is on the picture side: Bromo Seltzer tower building, and here is what is written on the other side: Venus, Faith, N. C., Dear Venus: If you want a good cook, please acknowledge receipt of this in your next items in the Concord Times, then I will send my photo.

Here is a nice letter we received from some one in Maryland. "Dear Venus: I have read many of your interesting articles in the Concord Tribune, and Times, and also the Salisbury Post and feel that for the splendid service which you have given these papers they should send you on a special trip to New York and Baltimore. I was in New York on Monday and Tuesday and the sights there are wonderful, so many high buildings and pretty girls. All the girls were nice to me, and I think a fine place for a fellow to get a wife. They look good enough but somehow I doubt their house-keeping and cooking ability which I know is essential in any household. They sure did treat me fine and frankly I like them pretty well. From a reader of your items." VENUS.

Collins' Own Story Tells Horror Of Facing Death in Prison Caves

Shouted All Night Until Voice Failed and Consciousness Fled—Revived to Beg God for Rescuers and for Mercy—Agony of Suspense Most Dreadful.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 4.—"I was crawling out of Sand Cave, which is the most beautiful I have ever seen, when, soon after ascending a steep wall, I dislodged a huge rock. It caught by left foot. That was 10 o'clock Friday morning."
Thus begins Floyd Collins' own story of his experiences of the last five days. Trapped in a narrow passage far underground, as told to William Burke Miller, staff correspondent of the Courier-Journal, and published in a copyrighted dispatch from Cave City today.

"The first night I spent in yelling at the top of my voice," he said. "I knew my chance was slim, but I couldn't give up without doing something. So I just shouted and shouted. After a long time I was unable to call out any more. I got hoarse. I struggled on, though, until I finally lost consciousness. Maybe I slept. I don't know. But I felt better when I awoke."
"Surely," I thought, "no man was ever trapped like this." I prayed as hard as I could. I begged God to send help to me. Finally I heard a voice and it sounded better than anything I ever heard. I called back and got an answer and found it was Jewell Esters. He couldn't get to me, but before long Clyde Hester came back to me. He told me it was Saturday morning. I told Clyde to get word to my brothers, Homer and Marshall, and my father. He left. "My brothers came down Saturday afternoon and saw how I was fixed. They tried to dig me out, but they couldn't. Saturday night I felt better. A blanket had been brought to me and it helped to keep out the cold. I was numb all over, but I felt warmer after I was covered. I could not move and was getting awfully weak."

"Sunday, when attempt after attempt to save me had failed, I began to lose confidence. I prayed continuously. Sometimes I would be in a stupor. I could hear people coming in, but they seemed far away. I could hear voices, but I could not remember what was said. Sunday night I slept some. I dreamed of angels and I awoke praying.
"Monday was the first day when strangers came back to me. I kept working around, whenever I felt strong enough, thinking I could twist myself

McLEAN MAKES SUGGESTION Wants Radio Station to Link Capitol With Rural School Houses.

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—Governor A. W. McLean announced yesterday that he has suggested a radio broadcasting station at State College to link the departments of the State government with the rural communities of the State by means of receiving stations which he wishes to see established in school houses.

The radio idea, in which the governor has great faith, is part of his plan for the co-ordination of all work done by State departments through county agencies. The governor believes that the rural school, as the best organized work in rural communities, is the medium through which the whole problem of rural betterment, in which he is vitally interested, can be handled most effectively.

His plan is to co-ordinate the work of the departments of education, health, agriculture and public welfare in the counties and to make the radio stations which he proposes available to all departments of the State government. He thinks this means of dissemination will be at the same time the most effective and the most economical.

The suggestion was made to a conference which was attended by Superintendent A. T. Allen, Commissioner W. A. Graham, President E. C. Books, Extension Director B. W. Kilgore, Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State board of health.

A report of the feasibility and cost of the plan is expected to be made to the governor within the next week or ten days.

Plaintiff in Case Falls Dead While on Witness Stand.
Dunn, Feb. 5.—A civil trial in Harnett superior court was brought to an abrupt ending in Lillington today at noon when Wiley Godwin, the plaintiff in the case, fell dead while being cross-examined by J. R. Baggett, counsel for the defense. Mr. Godwin, who was nearing his 75 birthday, had been on the witness stand for nearly an hour, about half of the time having been taken up with the cross examination. As he started to answer a question he was seen to throw his head back and death was instantaneous.

Mr. Godwin lived on the outskirts of Dunn and was a large land-owner. He was one of the pioneer citizens of the Dunn section and was a well known and highly respected citizen. He leaves his widow, who was in the court room at the time of his death, three daughters, and five sons. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist church. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

"So you want to marry my daughter? What is your financial standing?"
"Well, sir, I've figured out every exception possible. I've had the best legal advice that money would secure; I've done everything I could do to dodge it—and I still find that I cannot escape paying an income tax."
"Take her. She's yours."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA
Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

SEES NO CAUSE FOR ALARM IN THE DEFICIT

Frank Page Also Says Road Bond Debt Will Be Paid in Twenty-one Years.
Greensboro, Feb. 5.—Frank Page, chairman of the North Carolina highway commission, speaking here today before the good roads bureau of the chamber of commerce, declared that in 21 years North Carolina will have paid up its road bond indebtedness. The bureau was on record as endorsing the road program of Governor McLean.

Mr. Page said the deficit is not anything to get alarmed over. Heretofore he said the budget committee would meet in one room and the appropriations committee in another with no connection between them.

He explained why the State highway commission is asking for twenty million dollars instead of thirty million showing by a mass of figures how the money will be spent. He said that there are now only sixteen reorganized road contractors in the State whereas in 1921, 1922 and part of 1923 there were fifty-six. This would naturally mean less competition. The next State project will be a road between Winston-Salem and Greensboro, he said.

Twelve Rules For Curing a Cold.
Dr. F. M. Register, in The Progressive Farmer.

Here is the best way to cure colds, according to the best authorities, and we are printing this in concise form and small type so it may be clipped out and filed for constant reference. The 12 rules for curing a cold are:—

- 1. Go to bed just as soon as you feel a cold coming on.
2. Open the bowels with a mild laxative such as sal hepatica or a small dose of salts (two heaping teaspoons in a glass of water), or three leopatic pills, or milk of magnesia.
3. Drink hot lemonade or hot water (really hot, not just lukewarm); a glassful every two or three hours while awake.
4. Take a hot foot-bath with a tablespoonful of ground mustard in it.
5. Have fresh air in the room, but avoid drafts, using enough cover to keep comfortable.
6. Rub neck and chest, night and morning with warm camphorated oil (camphor one ounce, cottonseed oil four ounces).
7.—Use an atomizer to spray nose and throat. Use a spray made from cooking soda—one teaspoonful to one pint of water;—have the mixture warm, add spray nose and throat every two hours for the first 24 hours (while awake) when you first feel that you are taking cold.

Warned In Time

In a certain suburb there is a cottage the door of which must be raised a little to be opened, and for this purpose a hatchet is generally used. One night a knock came at the door and a youngster was sent to see who was there.

"Who is it?" inquired the boy.
"It's me," said a voice outside.
The youngster, recognizing the voice, shouted back: "It's Mrs. Murphy; get the hatchet!"
Mrs. Murphy didn't wait.

Hickman (Ky.) man got three years for bigamy. Marrying is a good custom but a bad habit.

It was a coffin they took him off in."
11. For the cough that goes with the cold, take syrup of squills, half teaspoonful every hour or two; or use this homemade cough mixture:—

Flaxseed, one tablespoonful to one quart of water. Boil down to one pint. When the mixture becomes a littleropy, add to it the juice of one lemon and a teaspoonful of sugar.
This can be taken in teaspoonful doses every half hour. There is no harm in it, but lots of good.

12. Final caution: If a cold is treated in the above manner, you will be all right in a few days, unless complications set in; but if they do, don't delay sending for a doctor.

Hats were once worn only by freemen, slaves went bereft-headed. A freeman voluntarily removed his hat as a symbol of respect and service, which in time became a common courtesy. Thus we take off our hats to ladies.

The importation of pins into England was forbidden in 1483. They were expensive and, with ladies at that time, "pin money" was a consideration.

Joyful Family Reunion
"Two of my brothers, a sister, as well as myself have been chronic sufferers from gas in stomach, indigestion, pain in right side near appendix and liver trouble for many years. My sister tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with such good results that we all took a course of it and it helped in each case. Last Sunday we had a family reunion in celebration of our recovery and what we all did eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded, Gibson Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

FOUR YEARS SUFFERING HAD LOST HOPE

May 1st, 1924. I am so much better I don't know how to express my thanks to you. I did not think I would ever feel this good any more in this world. My back and sides have quit hurting me. That is something I have not said in four years.

From School Teacher To Great Eminence
A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania studied diligently and qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save up enough money to put him thru medical college. After the Civil War, he began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pa., and often rode horse-back thru the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of nature, knew and could easily recognize most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods.

Later, he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than fifty million bottles have been sold in the U. S. If your druggist does not sell the Golden Medical Discovery, in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 10c to the Dr. Pierce Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.
