Senator Grant, of Davie, requested the author to allow him to amend the bill so as to provide investigations of the Paul Rubber Company of Salisbury, and the Bailey Bros. Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem.

Journalist, While Attractive, Is Nerve-Racking, Says Briton

London, Feb. 20.—"Journalism is a nerve-racking profession," Lord Burnham told the guests at a newspaper press fund concert.

"Although our profession," he continued, "has a great deal of attraction superior to any other, it involves a vast amount of wear and tear. There are very few who do not suffer from it. Sometimes, looking back at the years of the war, I am surprised that we were not broken down by the anxieties and responsibilities we bore. Those anxieties and responsibilities may not be recognized so much in Downing Street as we know them in Fleet Street. You know the stress and strain we went through in our different capacities to serve the commonwealth to the best advantage in its hour of desperation."

BOMBING TESTS TALKED AT COMMITTEE HEARING

Aircraft Committee Gets Data on Operations That Sent Hull of Ship to Bottom of the Sea. (By the Associated Press) Washington, Feb. 20.—The bombing tests which sent to the bottom the hull of the uncompleted battleship Washington off the Virginia capes became a subject of discussion before the house aircraft committee today with Brigadier General Mitchell, the assistant army air service chief, declaring "the facts about the test should be made public to prevent deluding our people that big ships cannot be sunk."

In a large measure committee members were left to draw their own conclusions after comparing this statement with the report published yesterday by a special navy board which described the Washington test, and said the explosion of big bombs against her hulls only rocked the vessel in a degree comparable to the reaction of a salvo of hot own guns.

The navy report also declared the battleship remains the backbone of defense, and minimized the likelihood of aircraft ever becoming a paramount factor in naval warfare.

WASHINGTON PLEASED AT BRITISH ATTITUDE

Fact That England Will Support Another Arms Parley Encourages Washington. Washington, Feb. 20. (By the Associated Press).—Unofficial reports of the British willingness to co-operate toward limitation of naval auxiliary craft at a new armament conference were received by officials here today with gratification.

Similar expressions of co-operation from Paris and other capitals will necessarily be awaited however before any step of a formal kind relating to a question of the time and place for the conference can be given any serious consideration.

British Would Welcome Arms Parley

London, Feb. 20.—Another step toward bringing a new limitation of armament conference in Washington developed today when it was announced in diplomatic circles that the attitude of the British government was at all times to back up any move by the United States to establish international peace on a firmer basis.

Stock Exemption Retained in New Revenue Message

Raleigh News and Observer. The Joint Finance committees of the House and Senate voted yesterday to retain the exemption of foreign stock from taxation which was enacted into law in 1923. Representative John W. King, of Greensboro, cast the sole dissenting vote, 20 votes being cast for exemption by the House committee and nine votes by the Senate committee.

Representative King appeared as the sole champion of his bill after E. S. Parker, Jr., Greensboro lawyer, who led the fight in the House two years ago that resulted in exemption, had appeared before the committee to make an impassioned plea for the retention of his legislative child. Speaking also for stock exemption were Bernard Cone and W. Y. Preyer, of Greensboro, and James Fuller, of Durham.

"Add surtaxes to our income taxes this year and double our income taxes, if you must, but don't tax foreign stock," was the plea of the Greensboro capitalists.

Clock on Strike 158 Years Now Strikes

London, Feb. 19.—An old clock that stopped working in 1767—158 years ago—recently was restarted after a year's effort by a member of the Admiralty staff. The clock is about 200 years old and contains more than 600 parts which weigh about 100 pounds. It is made of brass of such fine quality that an ingot of it could be beaten almost like gold leaf.

The clock was made by a carpenter named John Harrison for His Majesty George II by order of the Board of Longitude which appears to have been an admiralty commission appointed to superintend the installation of chronometers and navigation apparatus on the ships of the British navy. The board gave Harrison £1,250 for the job and he took two years to make it. It is really a clock within a clock, the smaller one running for four minutes only, being wound every three and three-quarter minutes by the larger clock, which has to be wound daily.

Gov. McLean is Leader of Fight and Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana and Other States Have Sided With Him.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Few Southern States remained today that had not voiced a protest to the passage by nine western and middle-western states of legislation alleged to be discriminatory against cotton seed oil products.

Governors Terral, of Arkansas, Fuqua, of Louisiana, and Brandon, of Alabama, added their voices to those that already had sounded a protest yesterday, while Governor Walker, of Georgia, last night made public a telegram sent Governors of the states in which such legislation is said to be pending, in which he urged that they discountenance its passage.

All members of the Alabama delegation in Congress last night were called upon by Governor Brandon and Commissioner of Agriculture Moore to investigate the measure said to be pending, and take such action as seemed advisable.

The Louisiana delegation and the Arkansas delegation were requested by the Governors of the respective states to do likewise.

Governor Martin, of Florida, already had taken similar action, and the South Carolina legislature adopted resolutions of protest immediately after its attention was called to the measure by the Governor.

DENIES HOOVER HAD INFLUENCE ON REPORT

Secretary Did Not Dominate Agriculture Committee, One of Its Members Declares. (By the Associated Press) Washington, Feb. 20.—Charges that the President's agriculture conference report was dominated by Secretary Hoover were denied today before the Senate agriculture committee by Chairman Carey of the committee, who said none of the cabinet members had the slightest influence on the drafting of the report.

Mr. Carey declared the organization of the report was under his supervision, making the charges had declined to be represented before the committee.

Senator Gooding, of Idaho, republican, took issue with the witness' declaration that there was "no present emergency."

Chase, of the institution, said tonight at Chapel Hill, when informed by telephone of the report that the instructor was to be offered the presidency of the University of Oklahoma.

"I have not been informed of Dr. Henderson's offer. I suppose it developed while he was there," Dr. Chase said. "Dr. Henderson was considered for the place a year ago but he was abroad at the time and the negotiations were not completed. This, I suppose, is a new development."

Dr. Chase said that he knew nothing of Dr. Henderson's return from Oklahoma, but that he probably returned today and would see him tomorrow.

Repeal of 10 Per Cent Time Merchant Law is Voted Down

Raleigh, Feb. 19.—The repealer bill, introduced by Representative Horton, which would kill the 10 per cent clause in the Bickett time merchant bill, now the law, was accorded an unfavorable report by the joint agricultural committee of the senate and house this afternoon. The vote was 8 to 1, and a minority report will be brought in.

The Bickett bill will not allow time merchants to charge over 10 per cent on time business. Opponents of the repealer feel that the law is useful in many communities in the state as a protection for the farmer.

HIGHWAY BRIDGE OVER RAILROAD COLLAPSES

Two Automobiles Fall Through Wooden Structure at Star Early Thursday. Star, Feb. 19.—An accident that might easily have been serious occurred here this morning at 5 o'clock when a large Buick touring car driven by Arlie Voncannon, of Seagrave, plunged through the highway bridge across the Norfolk Southern tracks and came to rest on the track beneath. In the machine with Mr. Voncannon were Rupert Moore, of Seagrave, and Rufus Ward, of Ether, Mr. Voncannon suffered a slight bruise in the back of his head, and Mr. Ward was severely shaken up by the fall but Mr. Moore escaped entirely. The car was crushed in at the rear. The party had started out on a hunting trip and had a number of dogs in the machine with them. One of the dogs suffered a broken leg.

Hardly had the big Buick come to a rest on the tracks when a Ford roadster, driven by Gordon Lassiter, came up, and turning sharply over, landed with a crash that was heard all over the town, directly beside the larger car. In it were, in addition to Gordon Lassiter, his father, R. G. Lassiter, and Newton Sykes. The two Lassiters suffered some bruises and contusions, but Sykes was not injured.

The highway people have been putting extensive work on the roads hereabouts and many spots are under repair. There was a watchman on duty at the bridge, and he had been detouring traffic all night. Hearing the big car coming down the road he advanced and swung his red light at them. The sign was misunderstood through some cause, and the speeding car took the bridge at a lively gait. There was a ripping rending crash and the north half of the bridge, which was a wooden structure, gave way, letting the Buick fall, rear end first, to the tracks below, a distance of 35 feet.

The watchman hurried down to the scene of disaster, believing that human life was in danger, which, indeed, it was, and hardly had he arrived at the overturned car when the Ford came plunging down beside him, missing him by inches.

Owing to the peculiar construction of the bridge, it was impossible to tell that the ramp had fallen, although there was a warning fire burning at the end of the bridge.

Doctors were hurriedly summoned and in a very short time the injured men were removed to their homes, none of them in a serious condition.

JAMES BLUME CONCORD'S NEWEST BROADCASTER

Amateur Ranks New Number Four. Regulations Strict. Concord's fourth amateur radio broadcaster has received his license. This new send key messages. This new amateur of radio messages is James Blume, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blume, of West Corbin street, who received his license on the 18th of this month and since has been fixing his thoughts far and wide. His station call is 4WT.

Other licensed broadcasters are Charlie Rainer on North Church street, station 4HR; Walter E. Lippe on East Depot street, station 4WG; and Homer Bollinger, North Church street, station 4WL.

James Blume is not only the newest broadcaster of radio in Concord but he is the youngest. He is now just 16, but is old in the radio game. Several years ago, at a time when radio was still in its infancy, James was bitten by the bug and has hardly been able to think of anything since. He has constructed several sets of his own and this latest venture is an effort to get deeper into the mysteries of this science. He is not permitted, according to the text of the license, to broadcast any "news, music, lectures, sermons, or any other forms of entertainment."

This leaves only two things which he may do. He may talk or he may send key messages. This is similar to the restrictions placed on the other amateurs. Amateur licenses require that the sender keep his wave length down to a stated low level in order that he will not interfere with larger stations which may be broadcasting amusements.

Further restrictions are placed on young Blume in his new license. He must "stand-by" during the time between 8 and 10:30 at night and he must also remain quiet during the hours of church services Sunday morning if Charlotte is distributing.

The first of the local men to receive a license to broadcast was Charlie Rainer, Walter L. Lippe was the next and Homer Bollinger was third. These amateurs are said to have a great deal of amusement talking to each other.

She paid no attention to him, she said, and the man brushed a nickel on the floor. As he stopped to pick up the coin he pinched her ankle, she said, and then grabbed her by the throat and threatened to put her off when she screamed.

TELLEGEN TELLS WHY HE KEPT MARRIAGE SECRET

Prompted by Consideration for Former Wife and His Youthful Bride. (By the Associated Press) Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 20.—Consideration for his former wife and his youthful bride kept Lew Tellegen, actor of the stage and screen, from revealing his December, 1923, marriage, he says in his first interview on the subject since records in the east confirmed rumors that the former Miss Isabel Craven Dilworth, known to the films as Nina Romano, has been Mrs. Tellegen for more than a year.

Tellegen thought it would have been embarrassing to Miss Dilworth to have revealed their marriage the day after his divorce from Gertrude Farrar became absolute, and it also would have smacked of discourtesy to Miss Farrar.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY ACTS ABOUT DEATHS OF STUDENTS

Requests M. N. Ford, State Official, to Make Inquiry Into Death of Ohio University Students Recently.

EVERY RESOURCE IS TO BE USED BY HIM

Chief Executive of State Says He Wants to Know Cause of Poisoning of Students.

Columbus, O., Feb. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Gov. Yic Donahey today requested M. N. Ford, secretary of the Ohio State Board of Pharmacy to conduct a personal investigation of the poisoning of Ohio state University students here several weeks ago, with a view of prosecuting the person or persons responsible for the alleged laxity in the conduct of the University dispensary.

The investigation must not end, Gov. Donahey told Ford, until every resource has been exhausted. The Chief Executive said he was convinced from informal evidence called to his attention, that the University dispensary was loosely conducted.

Two Ohio University students died from the effects of strychnine poison which they received at the University dispensary when they called for quinine capsules. Several other students were made seriously ill from the same cause. Strychnine was found in a number of capsules which were supposed to contain quinine. How the strychnine came to be in the capsules, or how they were placed in quinine capsule bottles never has been explained.

THE COTTON MARKET

Further Decline Occurred at Opening Owing to Weather Prospects in the Southwest. (By the Associated Press) New York, Feb. 20.—A further decline occurred at the opening of the cotton market today owing to talk of less prospects for showers in the southwest and continued liquidation of March contracts in spot markets.

Tuesday. Rather disappointing late cables from Liverpool also were a factor, and after opening fairly steady at a decline of 7 to 10 points, active months sold about 12 to 17 points net lower, May declining to 24.62 and October to the same prices.

Heavy March liquidation was absorbed by spot house brokers against sales of late months at about the recent discount of 85 to 85 points under May. There was enough buying of late deliveries to give the market a barely steady tone at the decline.

Opening prices were: March 24.30; May 24.65; July 24.90; October 24.70; December 24.70.

Program Advertising Absolutely Worthless

Fayetteville, Feb. 19.—Setting what is believed to be a precedent for local entertainment, the promotion committee of the American Legion, unanimously against framing a program with advertising for the forthcoming production of "Kick In," the gripping drama which will be staged at the high school auditorium on February 28.

It was the consensus of opinion in the committee that program advertising is absolutely worthless and the members went on record as saying that such schemes only bleed the merchants and caused more ill-will against local entertainment enterprise than anything else.

The committee will prepare a single page program of the play, printed on one side, for the convenience of the patrons. Nonfreewill contributions will be asked in the form of worthless space buying and the show will stand on its merits.

Fair tonight, Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer.
