Mrs. Davis Entertains.
One of the most interesting meetings of the Study Club for the year was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. L. I. Davis, Jr., at her home on North Union Street, "Famous February Birthdays," being the subject of a very instructive program.

During the meeting Mrs. Davis asked each member present to read a short sketch of several prominent men who were born in February, the list including Sidney Lanier, Charles Dickens, Jules Verne, Abraham Lincoln, Galileo, Paganini, George Washington, Enrico Caruso, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and Nikola Tesla. In addition to these an interesting paper on St. Valentine's Day was read.

Miss Myrtle Hill Derris, daughter of the hostess, rendered in an excellent manner three violin solos with piano accompaniment by her mother.

Following the business session a salad and hot course was served by Mrs. Davis.

Meeting of Central Grammar P. T. A.
The Parent-Teachers' Association of the Central Grammar School held its regular monthly meeting at the school building Tuesday afternoon at 8:30. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. W. Pike, the meeting was presided over by Miss Constance Cline, the vice-president.

A brief but highly instructive and interesting programme was given by several pupils of the seventh grade, with Miss Alma Goodie in charge.

A new program committee, with Mrs. N. A. Archibald as chairman, was appointed to serve the remainder of the term.

A prize consisting of a box of candy had been offered to the room having the most mothers present. Miss Elizabeth Black's and Miss Margaret Ervin's room tied for this prize, six mothers representing each room being present.

M. and M. Club Gives a Square Dance.
One of the most delightful social events of the season in Concord was given last night by the Merchants and Manufacturers Club, when they entertained at a square dance in the ballroom of their club.

Dancing was started at nine o'clock and lasted until 12. Nearly 200 persons were present, either as dancers or as spectators.

The feature of the occasion was the very excellent orchestra which the club had to furnish music. It was a seven piece string orchestra from Mooresville. This organization is one of the best of its kind in the state, broadcasting from Charlotte every week. One of the members who had been with Keith's gave several solo selections on the banjo.

Leave for Bermuda This Afternoon.

The party of Concordians who are going to Bermuda will leave this afternoon for Charlotte where they will catch the Seaboard for Wilmington. They expect to set sail from Wilmington on Saturday morning and will be gone for eight days.

Concord is sending the largest representation in the state with the exception of the two cities of Wilmington and Charlotte. The tour was arranged by Leon Williams, of Charlotte, for Carolina people. He has chartered a ship and among the guests will be numbers of the most prominent people in the state.

The thirteen persons from Concord who will go on the cruise are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Blanks, Miss Loraine Blanks, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sauvain, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ivey, Mrs. G. L. Patterson, Miss Margaret Virginia Ervin, Miss Mary King, Miss Helen Patterson and Homer Winecoff.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. A. B. Davis has returned from Winston-Salem, where she remained during the operation of her mother, Mrs. E. I. Reavis.

Miss Ava Carter of Winston, has arrived in Concord to spend the week-end with Miss Ruth Cannon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wolfe, of Charlotte, were visitors in Concord Thursday evening coming over to attend the square dance given at the Merchants and Manufacturers Club.

Mrs. Martin Hillebender, of Winston-Salem, is visiting her father, J. F. Harris, on North Spring Street.

J. Carpenter, of Rutherford, is visiting his niece, Miss Catherine Carpenter.

Mrs. J. F. Cannon, Mrs. Hinton McLeod and Miss Mae White are attending the Womens Auxiliary Convention which is being held in Greensboro today.

Frank Stevens and Cyrus White, of Winston-Salem, spent several hours in the city Thursday on business.

W. R. Harris, of Asheville, is spending several days here with relatives and friends. Tonight he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brower after spending Thursday night with Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Pemberton.

Mrs. H. I. Woodhouse is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Walter Goodman, in Clarkton, N. C.

Miss Hattie Mehaffy is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Vergie Cook has returned to Concord from No. 5 township, where she visited relatives. Miss Cook became ill while there and her trip was shortened for that reason.

The Studebaker car of Mrs. Victor A. Means was slightly damaged early Thursday night when a piece of waste which had been left under the hood became ignited while Mrs. Means was driving on North Union Street. The first company was called and the blaze was quickly extinguished without real damage to the car.

Spending the Week End With Home Folks.

Misses Pink Willeford, Blanche Dick, Margaret Morrison, Blanche Arfield and Mary Donald Smoot, students of North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, will arrive this afternoon to spend the week end with home folks. Miss Willeford will have as her guest, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, of Tarboro, also a student of N. C. W.

Intermediate-Senior Department of Central S. S. Holds Washington Party.

The Intermediate-Senior department of Central Methodist Sunday School held a Washington Birthday Party in their respective rooms in the new Sunday-School building Thursday evening. The rooms were most attractively decorated with flags, bunting and flowers, in honor of the day. Fifty of the sixty-three members of the department were present, together with the general superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. J. E. Davis, and the pastor, Rev. W. A. Jenkins.

The fun started promptly at eight o'clock and lasted until 10:30, at which time delicious refreshments were served.

Howard Collier, the superintendent of the department, and his various committees, had worked out a splendid program of stunts, music, readings, and other forms of amusements. Master Eugene Kidd rendered several violin solos, so did Reid Craven. Concord will be proud of these young violinists some day. Dorothy Hartwell and Millicent Ward played beautiful instrumental selections during the evening.

A debate between St. Clair Williams and Miss Annie Guffy Dayvault took down the house. Resolved That a house burns up instead of down, was the query for debate. St. Clair for the affirmative was sure the house burns up—at least the bulk of it does, as it goes up in flames and smoke to become a part of the atmosphere. Miss Annie argued that all that goes up must come down. St. Clair in rebuttal said that even if the smoke did come down it went up again, and he thus convinced the judges that his was the stronger argument. Perhaps it is only fail to mention these judges—Mrs. Ben Craven, Henry Smith and Mr. Jenkins. Miss LeBassere Barnett, one of the teachers out at Rocky River, gave some splendid readings during the evening, all of which were encored.

At 10:30 all gathered around the piano and sang "Good Night Ladies," and the happy party came to a close.

Thank you, Mr. Collier, and all who helped you. We are coming to see you again, you bet.
