On the death of H. M. Efrid, J. B. Efrid was brought to Charlotte and put in charge of the business here, the financial outlook for which was not altogether satisfactory.

Near one entrance of the great cathedral of Seville hangs a patched and painted crocodile, which once served as a princely love token that failed of its mission. In 1260 it was sent by the sultan of Egypt to a beautiful princess of Spain, who declined a suitor who first present could scarcely be said to speak of affection.

CONGRESSMAN'S SALARIES NOW REST WITH COOLIDGE

House Follows Action of Senate in Giving Approval; Cabinet Members Also Favored.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Salary increases for members of Congress and the President's cabinet were put up to the executive today with adoption by the house of a senate amendment to the legislative appropriation bill.

The President's attitude toward the proposal has not been determined, and he is expected to consult the budget bureau before he decides whether to approve or veto the bill.

The house, like the senate, avoided a roll call which would have put the members definitely on record in approving the salaries amendment today by a vote of 237 to 93.

Unless vetoed, it will increase the salaries of senators and representatives from $7,500 to $10,000 a year, effective March 4th, and of the speaker, vice president and cabinet officers from $12,000 to $15,000.

Several efforts were made to put the vote of the members on record but failed for it survived until comparatively recent times in the North of England.

North Carolina delegation was, however, open and frank in its vote on the subject. Representative Hammer, Dough-ton, Bulwinkle, Pou and Stedman all voted against the increase in salary, while Representative Weaver, Lyon and Abernethy voted for it. Representatives Ward and Kerr were absent. The latter retires from Congress on March 4th and is therefore not personally interested and it is not known how Representative Kerr would have voted had he been present.

A great international day when women from all the principal countries of the world will be the guests of the business women of America will be the most impressive feature of the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held in Portland, Me., next July.

In Scotland originated the fancy that a bride should be lifted over the threshold of her husband's home. Otherwise some mishap would befall her, either the evil eye or other witch's charm. This custom was widespread, for it survived until comparatively recent times in the North of England.
