Klan Controls St. Petersburg.
An agreement between the Ku Klux Klan and officials of St. Petersburg, Fla., resulted in Klansmen taking over complete police power in that city. Some 150 Klansmen, unmasked, started to "clean up" the city by dividing into groups of ten which raided poolrooms, barber shops and other suspected resorts. Confiscated liquor was poured into sewers and notorious people were chased out of town. After that the Klansmen were content to patrol the city.
The Klan will have the co-operation of authorities in policing other Florida cities, announces J. M. McDonald, a national officer of the order. "Our intention is not to disobey the law," he said, "but to punish those who disobey it. We are not against Catholics, and not anti-Jew or anti-Negro. We are not opposed to any one, not even foreigners. But we are against crime. This plan of police protection we are establishing is to be permanent, not just for the present."

March Meeting of County Commissioners.
For the most part routine matters claimed the attention of the county commissioners at their March meeting at the court house Monday. The board was not in session very long.
The board selected a list of jurors to serve at the April term of Cabarrus Superior Court, selecting jury-men for both the first and second weeks of the term.
Prof. J. W. B. Long, principal of No. 2 school and for a number of years tax collector in the city, was selected by the board as county tax supervisor for 1925. Major W. A. Foil has held this place for several years but at present he is in Raleigh and ill health has made it difficult for him to give the work the attention needed.
No other matters except those of routine nature were presented to the board.

One Daily Enough in Porterville.
One daily newspaper is sufficient in a city of less than 25,000 population, business men of Porterville, Cal., have agreed. Therefore, they have decided to advertise in only one local paper, the Porterville Evening Recorder, for a period of five years.
Recently, the Porterville Morning Messenger suspended. C. L. Day, publisher of the Recorder, and Porterville business men signed a five-year agreement setting forth that:
"More than one newspaper in a city of less than 25,000 is economic waste, and needless duplication of news and advertising, and one representative newspaper can best meet the civic obligations of the city and render better service to the public."
During the term of the covenant, the Recorder is to be conducted as an independent, non-partisan newspaper.

GEORGE A. FISHER DIES IN BALTIMORE
Well Known and Popular Salisbury—General Arrivals Arrival of Body.

George A. Fisher, well known and popular Salisbury, died at 11 o'clock last night in a Baltimore hospital where he was taken several days ago for treatment. The remains, accompanied by Mrs. Fisher, who has been with him all the time, will arrive here tomorrow morning on train No. 29 about 2 o'clock, and will be taken to the home, 210 South Jackson Street. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until after the arrival of Mrs. Fisher with the remains. Surviving are the widow, two daughters, Miss Katherine Fisher, of this city, and Mrs. John Carpenter, of Maiden. This estate, the latter by his first wife, and one son, George. Two brothers, John Fisher, of Wilmington, and Lewis Fisher, of Asheville, and two sisters, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Shafer, both of Newton, also survive.

George Fisher was about 55 years old and was a son of the late Captain Jake Fisher, of the western section of the county, and was a member of one of the county's oldest and most highly honored families. He came to Salisbury in early manhood and for a number of years was associated with his brother, John Fisher, in the operation of a livery and feed stable; later he dealt in stock and also was connected with a land sales company, but for several years had been associated with the Salisbury Motor Company in the sales department.

He had served on the board of aldermen and was one of the city's best known men. He was a most agreeable and clever man, courteous to a very marked degree and was liked by all who knew him, and his friends in this city and community were many.

Member of St. Johns Lutheran Church of this city, and was a splendid citizen and a gentleman of the finest type. The news received here this morning of his death, although not a surprise, caused genuine sorrow to all who knew him.

(Mr. Fisher was well known in Concord and had a number of relatives here and in the county. Among his relatives were Mrs. R. A. Brown, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. H. W. Clifflaw and Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour, all of whom were cousins. J. F. Shafer, of this city, was a nephew of Mr. Fisher.—Editor.)

DRY AGENTS MAY SEARCH AUTOS WITHOUT PAPERS
Supreme Court Holds Warrant Not Necessary—Must Have Evidence.
Washington, March 2.—Federal prohibition agents lawfully may stop automobiles and other vehicles and search them for contraband liquor without a warrant, the Supreme Court decided today in a case from Michigan, brought by George Carroll and John Kiro.
In another liquor case, brought from Georgia by Sig Samuels, the court held that states under the constitution would make unlawful the possession of liquor acquired legally before enactment of the federal prohibition act.
Chief Justice Taft delivered the opinions in both cases. Justices McReynolds and Sutherland dissenting in the former, and Justice Butler in the latter.
Declaring that "it would be intolerable and unreasonable if a prohibition agent were authorized to stop every automobile on the chance of finding liquor," Chief Justice Taft asserted that "these laws fully within the country entitled to use the public highways have a right to free passage without interruption or search unless there is known to a competent official authorized search, probable cause for believing that their vehicles are carrying contraband or illegal merchandise."
Distinction Is Made.
It was the intent of Congress, however, to make a distinction between the necessity for a search warrant in the searching of private dwellings and of automobiles, the chief justice stated, and that distinction was constitutional. There is no provision in the constitution which denounces all searches or seizures without a warrant, he said, adding that it prohibits only "unreasonable" searches or seizures.
"The guaranty of freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures has been construed practically since the beginning of the government," he explained, "as recognizing a necessary difference between a search of a store, dwelling house or other structure in respect of which a proper official warrant readily may be obtained and a search of a ship, motor
