IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

NO. 9 ROAD TO BE BUILT ON COOPERATIVE BASIS

Highway Commission Won't Promise to Build Road, So Proponents Must Help With Its Construction. Proponents of the proposition relative to the rebuilding of the highway in No. 9 township left the meeting of the county highway commission yesterday with the promise of the board to do work on the road, provided they furnished teams and labor at a rate to be fixed by the commission.

The meeting was attended by a large number of farmers from the No. 9 section and their number was augmented by the presence of Clarence Barrier, local merchant, who has pushed the movement vigorously, and T. D. Maness who acted as attorney and spokesman for the No. 9 aggregation. Several more or less interested spectators attended and from time to time put in words of advice.

The parley was opened by Mr. Maness speaking for the petitioners. Mr. Maness told of the very bad condition of the road and of the difficulty in traveling in it in bad weather. He further pointed out that the residents of that section had waited for a road for years and that they were anxious at this time to secure the highway.

Mr. Barrier next took the floor and after showing that the merchants of Concord were suffering because the people of that section were forced to go to Abbeville and Charlotte to trade, took a text and preached a short sermon. The text was taken from the story of Lazarus and the rich man. Mr. Barrier told how Lazarus had begged daily for the crumbs which fell from the table of the rich man and that how the two of them died, and went to entirely different places.

"The rich man, in torment, raised his head and asked Abraham to send Lazarus to tell his brethren about his punishment," "Abraham," continued Mr. Barrier, "told him that they had Moses and the prophets and if they would not listen to them, then they could go to hell."

"Now that is exactly the way the people of No. 9 feel. Their request is small. They only ask for the crumbs from the table of the highway commission. They haven't Moses and the prophets but they do have Maness and the people and if the highway commission refuses to hear them let them go to the place that Abraham told the rich man to go."

Chairman T. H. Webb of the commission thereupon expressed himself as being uncertain as to the course of the other members of the commission, but stated that he, for one, preferred the habit of Lazarus to taking an abode in the nether regions.

After this the meeting became more serious and Chairman Webb stated that they tried to be short on promises and long on actions. He said that after the road beyond Thunderstruck Bridge was completed, there was the road to Watts crossroads which was to be worked. The commission was also hard up for money and was trying to proceed slowly. For these reasons, it would be impossible to make any definite promise at this time.

"Maness and the people" then questioned about the length of time it would be before the commission could start to work and when it was discovered that it would be impossible to do anything this year, much dissatisfaction was evinced.

However, W. G. Brown, county engineer, then pointed out that they could do work on the road if the people of that section were willing to go on a cooperative basis. That meant if they would furnish the teams and labor at a price considerably below the market price. The amount promised was 35 cents an hour for a team and 25 cents an hour for labor. If this plan were agreed to by the people, then work could be begun as soon as the crops were laid by in late July. Otherwise, there was no possibility of a road at the present.

Residents of the section seemed not to think very highly of the plan but asked for time to consider it and discuss it among themselves. Some seemed to be of the opinion that it would be difficult to get the men and teams while others thought that here would be no trouble on this line.

The only other business taken up was when a delegation from No. 6 asked for a two-mile road between Rimer and Watts crossroads. Action was deferred until later, pending advice from Mr. Brown.

Only two members of the commission were present, Chairman T. H. Webb and J. W. Green. G. S. Klutz, who is the other member, was absent. The new member, Archie Brown, appointed to fill Mr. Klutz's expired term, has not been sworn in as yet.

Would Permit Any One to Take Fee For Medical Aid.

W. T. Bost has the following in today's Greensboro News: Senator Foll, of Cabarrus, thinks it a shame that all who administer to persons in distress, injured and in need of superficial medical attention, for a fee, should be made to have a license to practice medicine. He has drawn up a bill, which he feels ought to be state-wide, but he applies it to Cabarrus county alone.

He thinks that a person who is cut and wants some liniment or a bandage and gets somebody, not a physician, to attend to him, possibly to the lack of real necessity for a doctor, that individual should not be a criminal because the injured one pays the administrator of the service a fee for helping him. His bill would allow such simple remedies to be given by persons, without such physician's license, without subjecting them to penalties of violating the law.

COMMANDER PHILLIPS WILL VISIT LEGION POST HERE

State Commission to Be Present at Meeting of Post Tomorrow Night—Dinner Supper to Be Served.

The biggest meeting of the year for the Fred Y. McConnell Post of the American Legion is scheduled for tomorrow night when Major Wade Phillips, commander of the North Carolina Department of the Legion, will visit the local post. Officers of the post here plan to make the meeting an unusually fine one and a very attractive program has been arranged.

In addition to Major Phillips' talk there will be a Dutch supper for those present, and "cats" will be provided in sufficient quantity for "seconds" for everybody.

During the past several weeks most of the old members of the post have signed up for the new year, but a few have not and these are urged to secure their new cards before meeting time tomorrow night so Major Phillips can be greeted with a full attendance.

The visit tomorrow night will be the first Major Phillips has made to the local post since his election as Department Commander last year at the Asheville meeting. He is popular with members of the local post and undoubtedly will be heard with much interest and profit by those present at the meeting.
