BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Bible thoughts remembered will prove a precious heritage in after years.

PRAYER:—O Heavenly Father, grant to awaken and strengthen in us a more abiding love to Thee and to our neighbor, through Jesus Christ. Amen.
WORLD'S BEST NEWS:—The angel said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

THE SOUTHERN IMPROVES ITS SERVICE.

Time was when the railroads of the South were the laughing stock of the country because of their slow schedules. Persons from the East and West always complained when they had to ride on trains in the South, and their chief complaint was the slow schedule the southern trains maintained.
Things have changed now and the Southern Railway Company is improving its service yearly.

JUST TAXES FOR ALL.

The North Carolina General Assembly did not adjourn on schedule time because the tax measures did not raise all money called for the budget. The solons saw they had to get both ends together before they could adjourn so they started a new discussion of the matter in the hope of reaching an early and just conclusion.
We are not holding the North Carolina Assembly as an example of efficiency, but it does seem that any legislature would rather stay in session a few days longer in the hope of reaching a just basis for taxes than to adjourn on schedule time with a law that has for its chief point the argument that a committee spent much time on it and therefore it should be adopted.

take much time to draft another. We hope the North Carolina solons will get together on a just basis for raising money needed in the State if they have to stay in Raleigh a week longer than the 60 days for which they draw pay.

Business conditions seem unusually good in Concord at present. Business houses in the city are selling seasonal goods without trouble, and farmer people are preparing for their spring work in a very optimistic mood. The season so far has been very favorable for fruit and many of the larger fruit growers are expecting to get big yields from their orchards this year. Cotton mills are running on practically a normal shift at present and while they are not over-rushed, they have orders enough to keep in operation at a profit. That business is good here is indicated by the fact that a number of well known business concerns are to open stores in Concord in the near future.

SALISBURY LEGION ASKS FOR RIFLES AND UNIFORMS

Legionnaires Need Supplies For Military Funerals For Deaths at Otten Hospital.
Washington, March 9.—At the instance of J. Giles Hudson, post commander, Samuel O. Hart, post No. 14, of the American legion, Salisbury, Senator Overman has taken up with the secretary of war, Mr. Weeks, the matter of furnishing at least a dozen uniforms and rifles to the members of the post to be used for funerals.

A national cemetery is located at Salisbury and the boys who die at Otten and Johnson City hospitals are sent there for burial, and this post is very anxious to have these funerals with all military honors; that they have had at least 20 funerals in the past 12 months; that there are very few of the members of the post who have uniforms and most cases they are worn out or are too small and that the rifles are in very bad condition, so that at these funerals they make a very bad appearance as many of the soldiers even wear civilian clothes.

Senator Overman has asked Secretary Weeks about this matter. He hopes that the request will be granted.

Wake Forest to Have First Baseball Team Next Week.

Wake Forest, N. C., March 7.—That peculiar disease known to college students as baseball fever will have its first attention of the season at Wake Forest College next week when the varsity plays the freshman team. Gore field is now being put into excellent condition, and the opening game will probably come last of next week.
After the opening game it is expected that the varsity, coached by Garrity, and the freshman, coached by Caddell, will clash frequently until the opening of the schedule on April 3. The opening game will be made a special occasion with high school students at Wake Forest to take part in the ninth annual tournament as guests of honor. Stetson University will be met in the opening contests, being played a second game here on April 4.

With the warm days of last week, Coach Garrity carried his men through valuable practice, but the cold snap setting in last Saturday has slowed up the work this week. The first cut in the squad has been made and twenty-six men are now working for varsity places.
The pitching staff presents a likely looking lot of twirlers—Simmons, Sorrell, Kitchin, Person, Hamilton, and Stamey. For the place of catcher, Hood, Burke, Coward and Stallings are still in the running. Ten men are traveling fast for jobs in the infield—Armstrong, Mostinger, Hamrick, Timberlake, Mitchell, Gresson, Berry, Riley, Hinton, and Daniel. Six outfield candidates are left, but some of the many pitchers could be used in the gardens if it were necessary. The outfielders who have their bids in are—Small, Johnson, Holt, Lance, Gresham, and Rackley.

Mr. Fanning, deciding to marry, wrote to his young lady, popping the question in this way:
"Dear Miss —
To profess my admiration
To a more convenient station,
After much meditation,
I have a strong inclination
To remove my position
Upon the great reputation
You possess in the nation."

BUSINESS AND THE OUTLOOK.

Philadelphia Record.
Next to holiday buying, Easter furnishes to the retail merchants the best period of output in the year, and with favorable prospects in sight wholesalers, and back of them the manufacturers, find themselves called upon for prompt delivery in providing merchantable supplies to be used in replenishing depleted stocks and in preparing for the increasing activities of spring trade. After receiving reports from the various sections of the country, Dun's expresses the view that on the whole "the outlook is distinctly favorable, and prospects for the longer future have been strengthened by the stress laid on the need of tax reduction. There is a solid basis for further commercial progress this year, wholesome conditions having been maintained since the trade recovery began and confidence have become firmly established."

After increases in wholesale quotations, continuing for nine consecutive weeks, the price index is lower for March 1, compilations showing a decline of 1.13 per cent., chiefly in foodstuffs, with the lower quotations in wheat accounting for most of the change in the index.

In line with Thursday's New York Reserve Bank statement, showing a decrease of $45,000,000 in reserves held for member banks, Saturday's report of the New York Clearing House showed a large reduction of reserves, the deficit being $55,000,000. Under ordinary circumstances in former times such a condition would mean a considerable and immediate tightening of the money rates, but with direct recourse to the Reserve Bank's rediscount facilities the necessary financial operation will be minor and not painful.

Dullness continues in the steel market. Ingot production was approximately at the same rate in February as in January, when it stood at about 80 per cent. of capacity, and as production has been in excess of consumption readjustment is necessary and inevitable. The rate of pig iron production, according to The Iron Age, increased 5.7 per cent. from January to February, the rate for the two months being equal to that of the similar period of the banner year of 1923, with its 40,361,140 tons. The market for sheet steel is said to be the poorest of all steel products. The advanced prices for sheets announced in January were never really operative, and the old prices have been shaded. Coke in the Connellsville field has sold for $4.25 and $4.50, consumers having to pay the increase owing to the wage scale, which was advanced recently. With consumers resisting the increased cost, some coke operators have shown an inclination to discuss the question of a wage reduction that, under contract, would be reflected in lower selling prices.

Stiffening prices prevailed in nearly all cotton textile markets last week. With advance in raw cotton, price levels in the finished goods market reflected its strength in firmer prices generally. Cotton is now two cents a pound higher than at the beginning of the year, while the gains on cloths have been slight. The wool market has been marking time, with important auction sales on today in Sydney and tomorrow in London. It is felt that whatever happens in the foreign markets will influence prices in the domestic markets. In some quarters the view is held that prices will show a downward trend, while in other quarters the contrary belief is expressed. President John Wilcock of the Boston Wool Trade Association, last week counseled patience and holding of wool unless it can be replaced with profit.

In the Chicago market, wheat closed the week with further liquidation. May selling down to $1.77, a new low on the present break and 25 cents under the high on Monday. The opinion is expressed that trading has been mainly in the hands of professional operators, and that those who believe that wheat would hold at around $2 have changed their views largely. To a greatly modified extent, corn followed the erratic movement of wheat, closing the week with comparatively small losses.

Sculptor to Reside in Raleigh a Few Months.

Raleigh, March 9.—Gutzon Borglum, when shown the statement issued by Governor McLean tonight, said that "when a father hears his child praised he remains silent though he is not in-sensible to what it means."
"I have just seen the statement given to the nation by the governor of North Carolina. I have nothing to say."
Mr. Borglum indicated that he intended to make his residence in Raleigh for the next few months and would open a studio here to work on a number of commissions which he had received. He added that he had received scores of telegrams from all parts of the country during the last few days pledging him support in his controversy with the Stone Mountain Monumental association.

Ten cotton mills are located in Rutherford county, one at Ayndale, one at Caroleen, one at Clifside, two at Forest City, two at Rutherfordton, and three at Spindale. These mills have a combined capital of approximately $7,000,000.

DINNER STORIES

Doctor (after accident)—Is there a woman here with old-fashioned ideals?
Crowd—Why?
Doctor—Because I need a petticoat to make some bandages.

Mrs. Smith (at fashionable party)—That's a lovely gown you have on, Mrs. Boldie, but haven't I seen it before?
Mrs. Goldie—No, I think not. I've worn it only at a few smart affairs this season.

"So you are thinking about getting married. That's right, my boy."
"Then you approve of marrying?"
"Well, I approve of thinking about it first."

Alonso—Of course many a man tries to hug a girl just to see if he can.
Ellen—The experiment is interesting no matter how it turns out.

Sam, while walking in the woods, late one afternoon, was surprised by a wildcat which proceeded to chase him to the top limbs of a large oak tree on the edge of a deep canyon. The wildcat was climbing as fast as Sam, and soon had forced him perilously near the descent end of a long limb extending beyond the edge of the precipice. Sam decided it was time to renege.
"Wildcat," he said impressively, "wildcat, does 'yo' make me go one inch further, 'yo' is gwine to have to jump a long ways for 'yo' sumpah!"
