FORESTATION IMPERATIVE. Timber can be produced in the South in half the time required in more northern latitudes and by introducing slash pine we can extend the naval stores industry into territory where it is now unknown.

"The Southern is undertaking a demonstration of what can be done in the South, operating on lands which were originally purchased as a source of fuel supply for the old South Carolina railroad, now our Charleston division. We shall conduct our operations strictly as a business enterprise and expect to make them show a profit."

Why Did He Change Vote?
 Hickory Record

If Senator Overman was not for Charles B. Warren for Attorney-General why did he vote to confirm his nomination the first time? He was the only Democrat to vote for Warren, and when the vote resulted in a tie, and Vice-President Daves, who was absent and one time caught napping, so to speak, was rushing in the Senate to break the tie and insure the nomination of Warren, Senator Overman quickly changed his vote against Warren for Warren, thereby causing Warren's defeat.

If he wasn't for him in the first instance, why did he vote for confirmation? It looks like our junior senator was trying to curry favor with some Republicans, but when faced with the fact it was his vote that was putting Warren over he would not face the music.

A billion dollars' worth of Liberty bonds have been converted into worthless securities.

She Says:
 "I AM THIN"
 Her Friend Says:
 "SHE IS SKINNY"

If she only knew that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good healthy flesh in 30 days she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face, hollow cheeks and neck and run down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the ill-smelling, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing vitamins that make flesh, creates appetite, restores vigor, builds up strength to resist disease and chases away nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fever people are taking it for doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, which the Pearl Drug Company and druggists all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

It is a wonderful upbuilding medicine for skinny, backward children, especially after sickness and 60 tablets only cost 60 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days and if any skinny man or woman can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

Be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablet.

THE CABARRUS CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE.

Hon. Frank Armfield, of the Concord bar, is a candidate to succeed the late Judge Ben F. Long, and his friends in Concord and other sections of North Carolina are preparing to wage a determined fight in his behalf. Several individuals have already sponsored Mr. Armfield in his candidacy and others will publicly support him in the immediate future.

Mr. Armfield has been practicing law in Concord for a number of years and among those men who know him he is recognized as an unusually able lawyer. It has often been said that Mr. Armfield knows the law as few men in the State know it and it is this fact more than any other which has led prominent lawyers and laymen in various parts of North Carolina to pledge their support to him.

Mr. Armfield is a graduate of Duke University when it was Trinity College. Later he studied law at the State University, passed the State board and then took a course in the Yale law department. He has been a practicing attorney since 1894 and has appeared in many of the more important civil suits in this section of the State.

To his party Mr. Armfield has always been a willing and successful lawyer. He has served one term as Mayor of Monroe, was a member of the electoral college in 1904, has served in the State Senate from Cabarrus and for two years was chairman of the Democratic executive committee of this county. His counsel has been sought on various party matters and always he has given freely of his time and talent to the party. When a member of the State Senate Mr. Armfield was recognized by many as the most outstanding lawyer in that body.

Mr. Armfield is an estimable gentleman as well as a successful lawyer, and he would take to the bench with him many qualities that would fit him pre-eminently for the place. Governor McLean could make no better selection in the State than the one offered in this instance by Cabarrus county.

SAVE THE FORESTS.

It is impossible to take a trip through this section of the country without being impressed and shocked at the manner in which forests are being destroyed. On every hand the woodcutter is heard, and in his footsteps come the men whose duty it is to burn off the newly opened fields.

There is no fear of a present shortage of timber in the United States, but future generations must be considered. Take the case of France as an example. Forests in France are scarce, and there timber is guarded as a valuable asset. France is an old nation and its people have learned their lesson. They know that it is possible for the supply of wood to become exhausted. We in America should realize the same thing.

The Southern Railway Company has become so interested in the matter that it is sending an expert forester to South Carolina to show what results can be obtained by applying scientific practices in timber land. This expert will market the full grown timber while preserving the young trees for future growth.

In explaining the purpose of the project, Mr. Lincoln Green, assistant to the President of the Southern, said:

"The South has the opportunity to meet a national need with great profit to itself by preparing now to provide a permanent source of timber supply. The rapid depletion of our forests makes re-

SENATE AGAIN REJECTS NOMINATION OF WARREN

Question Whether He Is Willing to Accept Recess Appointment

Washington, March 16.—The nomination of Charles B. Warren to be attorney general was rejected for a second time today by the senate, 46 to 39, as compared to the 40-40 tie a week ago.

Immediately there arose a question whether Mr. Warren would accept a recess appointment which President Coolidge announced last Saturday would be offered to him, in the event the senate took such action.

Neither the executive nor Mr. Warren made any statement. Secretary Standers said Mr. Coolidge had the situation "under advisement" and Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the Republican leader, who with Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, carried word of the senate action to the White House declared the President would make known his position tomorrow.

No official would intimate whether these indications pointed to a refusal by Mr. Warren to accept a recess appointment, or would say whether Mr. Coolidge had under advisement the submission of a new nomination tomorrow or at some later date.

Meanwhile the senate is held in special session. Leaders of the opposition to Mr. Warren declared it would be so held for some time unless Mr. Coolidge submitted another name. Until the senate adjourns, a recess appointment can not be made.

The vote came after four hours of fiery debate before crowds that jammed the galleries and extended in long lines through the corridors. Presentation of the case of Mr. Warren and of the President rested largely with Republicans of the judiciary committee, two of whom made their maiden senate speeches in the fight. The leaders of the old guard of other days remained silent in their places.

Although the only question in doubt was the size of the majority by which the nomination would be rejected, the calling of the roll was followed with even a more eager intensity than was manifest last Tuesday when it first was turned down because of the inability of Vice President Daves to reach the chamber in time to break the tie.

Daves Present.

The vice president was in the chair every minute of the session today and had his first real experience in attempting to enforce senate rules against demonstrators, which came frequently from the gallery as quips and jibes were hurled across the chamber by senators.

JUDGE HOKE RESIGNS

Is Succeeded by Judge Stacy—Varsar Succeeds Stacy

Raleigh, March 16.—After a judicial career of 33 years, Chief Justice W. A. Hoke will retire from the Supreme Court bench tomorrow and will be succeeded by Justice W. P. Stacy, who at 41 is the youngest member of the court in years but the senior in service. Former State Senator L. R. Varsar, of Lumberton, will assume the associate position vacated by the elevation of Justice Stacy.

The resignation of Chief Justice Hoke and the appointments of Judge Stacy and Mr. Varsar were announced by Governor McLean this afternoon and came as a great surprise to even those in close touch with affairs about the capital. The condition of his health was assigned as the reason for the chief justice's resignation. He was unable to preside over court last week, and it was suggested then that if his health did not improve he might resign. But no one had anticipated it at this time. In retiring Justice Hoke will become an emergency on two-thirds pay.

The elevation of Justice Stacy and the assumption of the associate justiceship of Senator Varsar will take place in a ceremony at the opening of tomorrow morning's session of court.

In accepting the resignation of Judge Hoke, Governor McLean wrote him expressing his appreciation and that of the general public "for the patriotic service you have rendered of the State during your judicial career."

"As you lay aside the duties of high office you should be heartened by the thought that your heritage is rich in the consciousness of great public service faithfully performed."

The appointments made by the governor were received locally with complete satisfaction. By reason of his seniority of service Justice Stacy was in line for elevation to the chief justiceship. He is considered outstanding as a jurist, learned and able. Prior to his election to the Supreme Court he was a judge of the Superior Court.

Senator Varsar is likewise considered eminently fitted for the position of associate justice. He has been in the active practice of the law for many years and was the law partner of Governor McLean until the executive resigned from the firm in preparation of his campaign for the governorship.

Judge Varsar served in the 1910, 1921 and 1923 senates and played a conspicuous part in the direction of legislative affairs.

DINNER STORIES

Sympathetic Visitor.

Was it your craving for drink that brought you here, my poor man?
 "Don't—He yourself, lady! Do I look so stupid as to mistake this joint for a bootlegger's?"

George: I love the good, the true, the beautiful, the innocent—
 Margaret—This is rather sudden but I think my father will consent.

"That fellow looks downcast."
 "Yes, they are going to shoot him at sunrise."
 "A deserter?"
 "No, a movie star. And that's a darn mean hour to get out on the lot."

Hubby: This article says that ugly women make the best wives.
 Wife: Do you mean to insinuate that I'm ugly?
 No: Not in the least.

The youngster howled mournfully. The inevitable crowd gathered around. "What's the trouble, sonny? Lost?" asked the kind gentleman in the group. "Yes, I'm lost," was the reply. "Want me to take you home to Silverstein's?" asked the tailor shop who has just opened up a marvelous sacrifice sale on men's suits and overcoats, shoes and furnishings at 50 per cent. below cost?

"I went to town with Mrs. Twobble this morning," said Mrs. Dubwaite. "I thought you said you would never speak to that woman again," replied Mr. Dubwaite, with a superior smile. "Well, she asked me to go along and advise her about some new draperies for her living room and of course no woman could resist a compliment like that."

He had been married about a year, and had taken to spending his evenings down town with the boys. One night his conscience worried him. So he called his young wife up. "Hello, kid," he began. "Say, slip on some old clothes and run down and meet me on the quiet. We'll have a good dinner, and then we'll get a machine and go out and smear a little red paint around. How about it?" "I'll be delighted to join you, Jack," was the reply. "But why not come up to the house and get me? There's nobody home!"

As the husband's name was Tom, he is spending his evenings at home now. And his wife wears a queer smile, when he isn't looking at her.

"So, Mrs. Blank has got a divorce? What was the trouble, incompatibility?" "No, merely the first two syllables."

To Swear in Stacy and Varsar Today.
 Raleigh, March 16.—Ceremonies at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning will mark the accession of Justice W. P. Stacy to the chief justiceship of the Supreme court and L. R. Varsar, of the Lumberton bar, to the associate's place on that bench.

Governor McLean announced that event this afternoon. The swearing in will precede the arguments in appeals from the eighth district.
