BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY: THE GOLDEN RULE:—Whatever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.—Matthew 7:12.

NOT POVERTY-STRIKEN: One would judge from talk heard during the last session of the General Assembly that North Carolina was on the edge of bankruptcy. Every time money was mentioned during the session of the Assembly there was talk about the State being poorer than it had been in years.

OUR PERFECT WEATHER CONDITIONS: The entire country was aroused to sympathy with those persons who lost relatives, friends and property in the devastating tornado which struck five middle western States with such force Wednesday.

State air currents that are usually found in Florida and other warmer sections. We have the greatest variety of climate of any State in the nation, and at the same time the best climate.

Governor McLean is quoted as saying North Carolina has the best sky-blue stock law of any State in the Union. The better the law the better for the State. Of course laws will not keep some people from getting stung, but at the same time everything possible should be done to rid the State of those persons who make their living on worthless stocks.

Terrible Russia news today. They are making autos there. Bet the darn things will be contrary.

TODAY'S EVENTS.

Friday, March 20, 1925. This is the first day of Spring. Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, is 91 today.

Greenville, Texas, holds a pageant and celebration today in honor of the 75th anniversary of its founding. An historical meeting under the auspices of the Virginia D. A. R. will be held in Richmond today to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the famous speech by Patrick Henry.

"Utilitarian vs. Cultural Aims in College Education," a question which of late has been much discussed, is to furnish the theme for the annual triangular debate tonight between student representatives of Yale and Princeton.

An exposition to illustrate the achievement of women along business and professional lines is to be opened in Boston today under the auspices of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters.

Garnelia Phillips Spencer, born one hundred years ago today, was the first woman in the South to receive the honorary degree of L. L. D., which honor was bestowed upon her by the University of North Carolina in 1895.

The annual meeting of the Mississippi D. A. R., opening today at Natchez, will be featured by the unveiling of a marker on the site of the Elizabeth Female Academy, near the village of Washington, Miss., said to have been the first institution of higher learning to grant a degree to a woman.

BORGLUM ALONE ABLE TO FINISH MEMORIAL. He Says So Himself in Interview at Kinston—His Idea—Getting Tired of Row.

Kinston, March 19.—The conception of the Stone Mountain memorial is mine and mine alone, declared Gutzon Borglum in an interview here today. "It is the child of Gutzon Borglum's mind and only Gutzon Borglum can complete it. The figures are there in the side of the mountain. Lee Jackson and all the rest, and only I can bring them out without destroying everything that has been done."

He meant to convey the idea that the key to the massive undertaking lay in his brain, the interviewer gathered. "I am tired of the controversy," Borglum said. "My letter to Governor McLean is my final word on the subject."

The artist addressed Daughters of the Confederacy and others here this afternoon, and this evening was a dinner guest of the Rotary club.

Some people are always surprised that things didn't turn out worse.

STATE OFFICIALS MUST NOW WALK TO CHURCH

Attorney General Rules on Two Sections Only of New Automobile Law.

Raleigh, March 18.—"I am suggesting now that all officers, agents and employees of the State should be careful not to offend against its provisions and in cases of doubt get the opinion of this department before acting," declared Attorney General Dennis G. Bramley, in his first formal ruling on the recent statute forbidding private use of public owned automobiles.

"I am ruling on these questions only as they are presented," said the attorney general with a smile in explanation of his failure to include in his ruling an interpretation of the proviso of section 3 of the act, which threatens to have far-reaching and drastic effect.

That proviso reads: "Provided further, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the purchase or maintenance of any automobile at the expense of the State by any State officer until he is now authorized by statute to do so."

Very few State officers can show that they are "authorized by statute" to maintain automobiles which they have already purchased with State funds.

However, the ruling of the attorney general, which was in the form of a reply to an inquiry from Dr. C. Banks McNaury, superintendent of the Caswell Training School, settles three points.

It is unlawful to go to church in a State owned automobile, or to send children to school in one.

State owned cars may be used to transport employees to and from their work by the simple expedient of making that a condition of employment.

It is unlawful to maintain at State expense any automobile privately owned, although a department may make a flat allowance per mile for a private automobile used on public business.

ANSON PEACHES NOT HURT BY THE COLD. Indications For Good Fruit Crop. Farmers Making Good Progress.

Wadeboro, March 19.—The farmers of Anson county have made considerable progress for the past week in preparing the land for the new crop. The soil generally has been in fine condition to plow, the March winds having dried it out.

The peaches in this section were not damaged much by the freeze of two weeks ago as was first thought to be the case. The indications now point to a good fruit crop in this county.

Wife of Denniston Takes Stand. London, March 19.—The Dowager Countess Carnarvon today took the stand in the sensational Denniston trial. Once during the evidence she nearly fainted, but recovered with the help of smelling salts.

DINNER STORIES

Her Horrible Dream. Their life had been very happy. Not a cloud had marred it. Then one morning the wife came down to breakfast morose and wretched.

She was snappish with her husband. She would hardly speak to him. And for a long while she refused to explain her unwonted conduct. Finally, though, the young man insisted that he be told why his wife was treating him so badly. She looked up with tears in her eyes, and said:

"John Smith, if I dream again that you kissed another woman, I won't speak to you again as long as I live."

Not Possible. The superintendent was examining a class in geography, and addressing a small boy in the back row, he asked: "Now, sonny, would it be possible for your father to walk around the earth?"

"No, sir," replied the boy promptly. "Why not?" asked the inspector. "Because he fell down and hurt his leg yesterday."

Very Religious. A little girl returned home to her parents after taking her musical examinations. They asked her how she got on.

"Very well, I think," she answered. "What was the examiner like?" "Quite a nice man—and so religious!" "Religious! How could you tell?" "In the middle of one of my pieces he put his head in his hands and said, 'Oh, heavens! Oh, heavens!' very reverently."

Just a Coin Collector. An old friend of the family was on a visit and one of his neighbor's little boys had dropped in.

"And what does your father do?" the visitor asked. "Oh, he's a numismatist," the boy replied. "Why, a numismatist is a coin collector."

"Yes, that's what my father is," said the boy. "He's a conductor on a street car."

Drygoods Market. New York, March 19.—Cotton goods markets were quieter today with some easing reported on late deliveries of print cloths and sheetings.

Advance business on many woolen goods has been so light for the fall that curtailment of production is under way. Silks continued in steady call for immediate shipment, especially new prints and crepes.

Burlap markets continued generally quiet with Calcutta reporting firmness. Wholesalers said their March business had failed to show the expected increase but conditions were considered better than a year ago because of lighter stocks.
