ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD CHILD DIES AFTER ILLNESS OF 12 HOURS
Louise Love Taken Suddenly Ill Monday Morning—Possibly Concussion of the Brain.
Louise P. Love, eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Love, of North Church street, died at the Concord Hospital Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock after an illness of less than twelve hours.
Although she had complained of a slight headache for several days her condition was by no means serious until Monday morning. She was making preparations to go to school and while doing so, she suddenly became faint and lost consciousness. A physician was called immediately and she was removed to the hospital. Nothing could be done for her, the pain in her head constantly becoming worse until she passed away Monday night.
Persons at the home said that the doctor was unable to come to any conclusion as to the cause of her death. It was stated that unless death was caused by concussion of the brain, no cause could be assigned. Relative knew of no blow which Louise had received which would cause death from concussion. Her headache before Monday had been so slight as to cause no worry and her sudden illness and death came as a shock to relatives.
Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at McKinnon Presbyterian Church and burial was made in Oakwood, Rev. W. C. Wauchop officiating.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

RED CROSS MAKES APPEAL FOR THE STORM SUFFERERS
Local Chapter Authorized to Receive Contributions For Victims of Disaster.
The local chapter of the American Red Cross has been authorized to receive contributions for the storm sufferers in connection with the terrible disaster of a few days ago in the middle west. "Your chapter," says Mr. John Barton Payne, chairman of the National Red Cross, at Washington, "is authorized to accept in behalf of the American Red Cross for transmittal to National Headquarters at Washington all contributions for the relief of the disaster sufferers."
We therefore call upon our people to help in this worthy cause. We have read of hundreds being killed and thousands wounded and homes by the thousands being swept away in a few minutes. If we were in the storm-swept area we all know how we should feel. We would give to the limit of our ability to relieve the distressed people. The fact that we are just a few hundred miles removed from the scene of suffering should make no difference, and I think it will make no difference, in the appeal that these thousands of helpless people will make to us. The Red Cross was the first on the scene after the storm had passed. We were there with doctors and nurses and with all sorts of supplies with which to care for the dying and the wounded and those whose homes had been blown to bits by the terrible cyclone. We are still on the job. We are going to stay there until our people are in position to help themselves. A few dollars will go a long way. Every dollar will be used to the limit. Concord, sympathetic, generous, always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need, is asked again to come to the rescue, along with Charlotte and dozens of other cities in our prosperous old state. Remember, this is a special appeal. Our local chapter does not possess funds for such emergencies. The money in our possession is from annual membership dues, and is being used for local purposes within our own county, in caring for needy ex-service men and their families, and in co-operation with the Anti-Tuberculosis Society in the employment of a full-time nurse. This appeal will be made throughout the nation. We are one. When one suffers all suffer. Our sympathies go out to the homeless and those whose loved ones have been torn from their helpless arms. We are not there to help in person, but everyone of us can reach our hands out across the few hundred miles that separate us from the dreadful scenes, and place our gifts in the hands of the Red Cross, and the Red Cross will do for us that which we can not do in person. The results will be the same—the needs of the poor, helpless sufferers will be met.
Send your gifts to Mr. L. D. Caltrane, the treasurer of the Cabarrus Chapter of the American Red Cross, at the Concord National Bank. The names of the contributors, together with the amounts given will, without objection, be published in The Tribune daily.
Wm. A. JENKINS.

PLAN TO SEND CAR LOAD OF CHICKENS FROM COUNTY
County Demonstrator R. D. Goodman Making Arrangements For Shipping Chickens.
R. D. Goodman, County Farm Demonstrator, is at present making plans to send out of the county by freight, a car load of chickens for shipment to Northern markets.
The object in sending this amount of poultry to the county is to get rid of the surplus and so improve the condition of the local market. It is also necessary, says Mr. Goodman, to sell these older chicks before the young poultry comes in and the market for the older ones is killed.
People in the county are to be sent a circular letter asking that Mr. Goodman be notified about the number of pounds of poultry they desire to sell and in this manner arrangements for taking care of this birds may be made.
According to Mr. Goodman, a car load contains approximately 18,000 pounds of chickens or around 4,000 birds. Persons who have them should get in touch with Mr. Goodman at once and bring their poultry to Concord when the shipment is made. The date of the shipment is to be placed at some time around aster.

Rufus L. Patterson Honored by French Government.
The following appeared in a recent issue of the New York Herald:
"Rufus L. Patterson has been honored by the French government with the Knighthood of the Legion of Honor. Emile Daeschner, the French ambassador, invested him with the insignia yesterday.
"Mr. Patterson is an official and director of numerous international corporations. He is president of the American Machinery and Foundry Company, whose inventions and machines are used by the State tobacco monopoly of France.
"Mr. Patterson is a well known inventor of and expert in tobacco machinery, and was formerly associated with James B. Duke.
"When Mr. Patterson left college he came to Concord as manager of the Kerr Bag Manufacturing Co., now the Kerr Bleaching and Finishing Works. Many of our people will remember him, and have been much gratified to see the splendid success he won in New York."
