McLEAN WILL NOT APPOINT REPUBLICANS TO OFFICE

Republicans Out of Luck in This State For Next Four Years.

Raleigh, March 31.—Republicans are "out of luck" in North Carolina for the next four years, insofar as appointments from the executive office are concerned.

Governor A. W. McLean has announced that he will not appoint Republicans to any of the sundry offices which he will have to fill during his term of office.

Governor McLean made this statement when asked if he would appoint a Republican to the budget commission. Under the law in effect in past years, the governor was charged to appoint a Republican on the budget commission.

The new law passed by the 1925 general assembly states that the governor shall appoint two members of the budget commission to serve with the chairman of the senate and house finance and appropriations committees.

The governor in stating that he would not appoint a Republican to this office or other State offices which might become vacant during his administration said that "The Democratic party is charged with responsibility for carrying on the State's affairs, therefore, Democrats should be appointed to discharge this responsibility."

A move to provide for Republican membership on the State Supreme Court was made in the 1925 general assembly on the introduction of a bill to effect this but it failed to receive serious consideration.

North Carolina has the largest Republican vote of any southern state and there were in the 1925 general assembly about twenty Republican members. As a matter of fact, in 1920, when Tennessee gave its electoral vote to Mr. Harding, there were more Republican votes cast in North Carolina than in Tennessee—but more Democratic votes, too.

The Republican vote of North Carolina is larger than the total vote of several southern states, Democratic and Republican.

True Romances

True Romances for April, a Macfadden publication, contains the first part of one of the most heart-grIPPING stories ever published: "Storm Beaten." Vividly it shows man's power over woman, and when that power is used brutally, tragedy stalks the footsteps of the girl who loves wisely but not too well. There is also "My Broadway Husband," which reveals the beast that sometimes lurks behind the bright lights. "The Stolen Thrill" tells of one girl's amazing experience in a gambling raid, while a host of thrilling, pulsating stories give this issue unusual entertainment value.

When Mrs. Henry Wood wrote "East Lynne" she had much difficulty in finding a publisher. Since then the novel has been translated into some thirty languages, and in Great Britain alone its sales have totalled many millions.

Revival services are to be held at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Kannapolis, beginning April 5th and continuing on until the 10th. Evangelist W. B. Dunkum, M. A., D. D., of Louisville, Ky., has been secured to do the preaching and Mrs. Dunkum will assist in the work.

Services will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock. On Sunday three services will be held, the time being 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to be present at these meetings and hear Mr. Dunkum preach.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

MISS MARY McKINLEY HAS CAR DAMAGED BY TOURISTS

Ohio Party Acts in Such Ugly Manner That Kannapolis Men Take Threatening Attitude.

The Barnhardt curve on the Kannapolis road was the scene of the second accident in two days when a party of Ohio tourists failed to make the turn on the right side of the road and ran into Miss Mary McKinley, injuring her slightly and damaging her car to a considerable extent.

Miss McKinley, who had been visiting at her home in Bethpage community, was on her way to Concord where she is employed in the Brown Mill office when the accident occurred. She was driving a new Ford coupe which had been given to her less than a week ago by her father, W. C. McKinley.

According to the story told by Miss McKinley, she was driving at a moderate rate of speed when she noted the other car bearing down on her at what seemed to be a very reckless manner. She pulled as far to the right as she could but the approaching car continued to veer to her side of the road and she to veer to her side of the road and she leave the hard surface entirely.

However, she did not cut the wheels soon enough and, although the front of the car escaped, the back was hit, knocking the car around and doing much damage to it. The people in the Ohio car stopped to see if there was any damage done and offered to take Miss McKinley on to Kannapolis to buy parts for the damaged car. She accepted but when Kannapolis was reached, they announced that they would take her on to Salisbury.

Miss McKinley then demanded that she be let out and the tourists stopped reluctantly. When she asked about payment for the damages, they spoke in such insulting terms that a crowd of people who had gathered to the scene of the conversation took side with Miss McKinley and, since the tourists seemed to have nothing, they were told to leave Kannapolis as soon as possible and not return again.

Miss McKinley then had her injuries attended to by a physician and was able to return to her work at Concord.

Singing Convention.

One of the most enjoyable and most enthusiastic events of the season was the singing convention held at Ebenezer E. L. Church the fifth Sunday in March. This convention was by far the largest in every way conceivable. The estimation of people present ran from 3,500 to 5,000. A noticeable feature in this convention was the goodly number of new choirs that have been joined in this great movement to create the much needed enthusiasm in our church singing that we need today. Another noticeable feature was the improvement made by the old choirs over the previous meeting. Another feature was the great enthusiastic spirit the choirs rendered their numbers.

Another feature was the many special quartets, duets, etc., which were rendered with much feeling and were enjoyed so much by everybody. Another feature of the convention was a good old American hymn that was sung in the Chinese language by the Mt. Hope German Reformed Church choir. Of course none understood the Chinese language, but everybody knew this old favorite hymn and that made it the more appreciated by the large audience. Another great feature was the large number of pastors present with the choirs of their respective churches. All made five minute talks at different intervals during the day telling how singing helped them in the church work and giving words of encouragement to the choirs of the various churches.

The interest is growing rapidly as demonstrated in the convention. The convention had five invitations for the next meeting, the fifth Sunday in May. However it was left to the large audience to decide as to which invitation was accepted, and it was voted to meet with Mt. Zion German Reformed Church, China Grove, N. C.

The last and best feature of the day was the great friendly spirit of all the different congregations and doctrines meeting together and enjoying the day as one great congregation of God singing praises to His Holy Name. A. E. SLOOP, Asst. Sec.

Blackwelder Revival.

Blue Ridge Arland Conference Revival campaign at Midway Methodist Church, Kannapolis, N. C. First we speak of the revival in which the Rev. H. T. Blackwelder was the preacher. These services we feel will be real fruit bearing, and feel that Midway Church has been greatly helped. For all who know Brother Blackwelder know that the preaching was well mastered. Each message under the influence of the Holy Spirit brought conviction and inspiration. Young and old were made conscious of the divine presence. Great help was given to the congregation by the singing by the choir and congregation of the great hymns of the church. The scenes on the closing days, especially Sunday night, would have gladdened the hearts of the fathers. They were suggestive of the days of early Methodism, when the altars of the church were crowded with penitents, when tears of contrition were common and when the shouts of new-born souls were familiar and popular.

The freewill offering presented to Brother Blackwelder was a feeble expression of the sincere and deep gratitude of those who for fifteen memorable days enjoyed his gracious ministry. R.

CHARLOTTE NEGRO ARRESTED BY OFFICERS OF THIS CITY

After Examination Here Negro Confessed That He Had Been in Trouble in Charlotte.

Pat Scott, negro said by Charlotte police officers to be a member of a gang that has been committing robberies in this State and South Carolina, was arrested by local police officers Monday night after he had been spotted on train by another negro, Park Cranford, as the man who had robbed Cranford Saturday night. Scott was taken back to Charlotte Monday night by Charlotte officers.

Chief Talbirt, of the local police department, examined Scott in his office after the negro had been turned over to local police officers by the conductor on Southern train No. 32. Cranford having told the conductor that Scott had robbed him in Charlotte Saturday. Scott was carrying a handsome new banding and this aroused Chief Talbirt's suspicions.

Scott told the officer that he bought the bag from a negro at Lancaster, S. C., for $3. Chief Talbirt was not satisfied with this tale, however, and he continued the examination of the negro. Finally the negro admitted that he was Pat Scott, that he had been arrested in Charlotte for forging checks and for causing a disturbance.

When Chief Talbirt got the negro's name he called the Charlotte police, who informed him that they wanted Scott on several charges. They sent an officer here for him and he was taken back to Charlotte.

While here the Charlotte officer expressed the opinion that Scott is a member of a gang that has been operating in Charlotte, Concord, Mooresville, Lancaster and other cities in this section. It is believed that the banding he was carrying was from a store somewhere.

Cranford lives in this county but had been in Charlotte for several days. He was returning to Concord for a dance when he spotted Scott and asked the train conductor to arrest him.

Triangle Club Defeats Junior Y Team.

The newly organized Triangle Club formed from the old Junior Hi Y, met and defeated the Junior Y team in a slug fest at Locke Park. The game was featured by the errors made on both sides. Moore, Bruton, and Kestler each hit for the circuit. Howard pitched a fine game but the heaviest Triangle Club hit the ball hard. At the first of the game it looked as if the Triangle Club would walk away with the game but the Y team rallied and battered Bruton out of the box. E. Deaton relieving him in the fourth inning.

Juniors—McClintock c; Howard p; B. Deaton 1b; Robinson 2b; J. Widenhouse ss; Dorton 3b; Query and Bruton rf; Fowlkes cf; Yerton lf.

Triangle—1b; M. L. Widenhouse c and ss; Long 2b and lf; Moore 3b and ss; Fisher lf; Armfield and Pike cf; x Yow for Armfield.

Score by innings: Triangle 432 331 6—22; Y 028 042 0—16. Bruton substituted for Query.

Modern Marriage

Modern Marriage for April, a Macfadden publication, contains splendidly written, intimate articles on how others have met and solved the problems that confront you now or will confront you. It tells you of the mistakes that ruin happiness and the little acts and is just a hint of what you will get in this issue: "The Woman Who Went Through With It," "Just An Old Fool," and "Whose Fault That Husband's Stray."

THE LURE OF SOUTHERN BEAUTY

Tired, overtaxed pores become weak in functioning, and then we wonder why they become large. Some accept this condition as natural "to her skin," but those of us who really care find a way to refine the pores. Every skin requires an astringent to render it pliant and firm. Keep your skin immaculately clean, free it of black-heads and other excess pore secretions and refine the texture by having "Electric facials" once a week.
