Silver Lace Is Used Here

SILVER lace is arranged over a foundation of beige crepe to make this very distinctive frock. A circular flounce gives the graceful flare at the feet and a large crimson poppy lends a brilliant dash of color. This is a typically Parisian frock, the sort one sees for dinner and theater wear.

HOMER SNYDER RECOVERS TRUNK STOLEN IN CHARLOTTE

James Norwood, Atlanta Negro, Accused of Taking Eight Automobiles and Numerous Other Things. The trunk belonging to Homer Snyder, which was stolen in Charlotte several weeks ago, has been recovered together with a few of the articles which were in it at the time it was taken. James Norwood, an Atlanta negro, is accused of the theft.

Mr. Snyder's trunk is not the only thing which Norwood is accused of taking. He has a list of thefts to his credit which brand him as being not only one of the most desperate negroes that has been in the state but also one of the cleverest.

According to Mr. Snyder, when Norwood was arrested, he had three trunks, a traveling bag, twelve automobile casings and over fifty inner tubes in three trunks near the place where he had been staying. Not only were these thefts ascribed to him by the police, but they gave him credit for taking five automobiles in Charlotte, three in Darlington, S. C., not to mention shooting an officer in Williamston, N. C.

In the search which was made by Charlotte officers, nearly everything which would lead to identification had been burned. Mr. Snyder identified a coil automatic he had and a toy weather vane which had been given him as a present. Practically none of the clothing could be found.

Other people, who were present at the time of the search, found difficulty in identifying their goods which had been taken because of the precautions which the negro had taken. One woman who had over two hundred letters in a trunk which was stolen, identified the trunk but discovered that all the letters, which were written to her by her husband when he was in France, had been burned.

After being arrested, Norwood was placed on an $11,000 bond and in lieu of payment, is being held in the Charlotte jail.

Mr. Snyder's trunk was stolen when he was moving from Gastonia, where he was employed at the Gastonia Gazette, to Concord where he had started a print shop. His trunk was tied on a truck and when he came from the New Central, he discovered that it had been cut off, notwithstanding the fact that he had parked at one of the busiest corners in Charlotte.

The Store At Your Door To Be Discontinued.

The Store at Your Door, a unique institution among Concord grocery stores, will be discontinued during the latter part of this week and E. J. Phillips, the owner, will move into his new building across from the Concord bakery on West Corbin street.

The new grocery, according to plans announced by Mr. Phillips, is to be one of the best in Concord. He will carry, he says, a complete line of groceries and will make every effort to keep the trade he has had in "the store at your door." "The store at your door" has been run for three and a half years. It consisted of a small store mounted on a truck chassis and in this manner, groceries were carried to customers in all parts of the city.

HERB JUICE MAN REACHES CONCORD

Bringing Tidings of Health and Happiness to All Sufferers

First 100 to Get Free Treatment

It will no doubt be of vital interest to all sufferers, as well as public in general to know that the HERB JUICE man has arrived in this city, introducing a most remarkable curative product of nature, known as HERB JUICE, which is prepared into liquid form from herbs, roots, barks and berries that are placed on earth for the healing of all mankind. The HERB JUICE man's supposition, based on the reports made to him, are that many of the diseases and sufferings now prevalent in this section are caused by an accumulation of poisonous waste materials in the body, due to stomach diseases, imperfect digestion, causing liver and kidney trouble, and many other ailments, and that nine out of ten of these diseases are directly attributable to lack of the digestive organs to properly function, which is a more serious cause of illness than most of us realize. If the eliminating organs are working properly, the food is converted into rich blood. If they are not working properly, the fermented mass generates poison that is absorbed into the blood, the public in general, to know that

Good health, therefore, depends largely upon the vigorous, harmonious, healthy action of all organs that assist in ridding the body of poisonous waste. He states that HERB JUICE, the new herbal stomach remedy, acts on the organs of elimination—not on the bowels alone. It helps to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels and stimulates these organs to more vigorous activity in a mild, general, natural way without discomfort or distress, and the only after effect is glorious relief and benefit.

100 Bottles to Be Given Away
