

Cannon Ball Baker Mixes Service With Speed In Record-Breaking Night Inter-City Auto Run

THE first photograph of the middle west tornado disaster to reach Los Angeles, Cal., newspapers were brought over the last lap of 212.9 miles by Cannon Ball Baker in a Rickenbacker car, equipped with Kelly balloon tires, driving on the tortuous, mountainous highway between San Luis Obispo and Los Angeles in black night. He broke the inter-city record. His time was 4 hours and 24 minutes, an average of 48.4 miles per hour. And this over a zig-zag highway with scores of hairpin turns which were taken at 45 miles per hour without slipping or skidding.

Baker left San Luis Obispo at 7:45 a.m. and reached Los Angeles at 11:09 a.m.

At top "Cannon Ball" Baker in his car ready for a record breaking run; and below, just "Cannon Ball" Baker.

The flood pictures had been wired to San Francisco by the newest of inventions, carried to San Luis Obispo by motorcycle and picked up there by Baker.

The tires used were the same set on which Baker a few days ago smashed three inter-city records in a race from El Paso, Tex., to Los Angeles, Cal.

This was a continuous run. Baker made Los Angeles in 21 hours and 23 minutes, beating former auto record by 2 hours and 58 minutes, and beating Sunset Limited train by 2 hours and 12 minutes.

The run from El Paso to Phoenix was made in 10 hours and 12 minutes, beating former auto records by 1 hour and 3 minutes and the best train time of 2 hours and 18 minutes.

The run from Phoenix to Los Angeles was made in 11 hours and 11 minutes, beating former auto record by 1 hour and 37 minutes. He had no tire trouble except one puncture, although the course is extremely rough.

JIMISON FILES APPEAL TRIAL IN CHARLOTTE

Stormy Petrel of Labor Circles and Ministry Nabbed With Liquor. Charlotte News.

Climaxing a career which has been marked by spectacular events, Tom P. Jimison, former minister, now editor of a Charlotte weekly newspaper and stormy petrel of North Carolina's organized labor, was sentenced to sixty days on the roads after trial in recorder's court Friday morning on a charge of transporting whiskey and appearing on the city's streets in a drunken condition.

Jimison entered an appeal to the Superior Court of Mecklenburg county.

One of the most sensational events in the career of Jimison, widely known in political, ministerial and labor circles, occurred several months ago when the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, meeting at Greensboro, relieved him of his pastorate at Spencer. This action of the conference came after a vigorous conflict which aroused intense interest throughout the State.

Controversy Develops.

With the entire record of Jimison as brought under the scrutiny of church officials at that time, it was intimated from authoritative sources that the activity in this state of the minister in behalf of the La Follette-Wheeler independent campaign for the presidency was the principal cause of the decision by church officials which provoked the controversy, finally settled by the action of Bishop Derry, of Richmond, Va.

Leak Causes Arrest.

Jimison was arrested about 4:30 o'clock Friday morning on Church street, near the Selywn Hotel, in the heart of the business section of the city, by Detectives K. G. Cates and L. B. Ramsey. The officers testified at the trial before the recorder that Jimison was in a drunken condition at that time.

A leaking jug, according to the evidence at the trial, was the cause of Jimison's arrest. He carried a suitcase and a traveling bag in his hands. In the suitcase was a gallon jug, according to the testimony and the stopper of the jug was defective. Almost the entire contents of the jug had leaked into the suitcase and was absorbed by the bundles and excelsior packed around the container. Such a quantity of the feery fluid had been spilled that it had soaked through the sides of the baggage, and the odor of whiskey was arresting as Jimison passed by the officers, who halted him.

Seize Seven Pistols.

The two detectives expressed the opinion that Jimison, declared to have been drinking heavily, was unable to notice the odor of whiskey emanating from the suitcase.

In the traveling bag also were found seven bottles, each containing one pint of fluid declared to be whiskey, the detectives testified.

Jimison was tried on charges of transporting whiskey and being drunk. He was fined $20 and costs on the drunkenness charge and sentenced to 60 days on the roads on the transporting charge. The defendant was represented by Col. T. L. Kirkpatrick.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Jimison's bond was fixed at $200 and was signed by Frank Flowers, well known Charlotte attorney who has been actively identified in affairs of organized labor for several years.

Jimison offered a plea of not guilty when arraigned. The warrant to Jimison's arrest read: "J. T. Jimison, alias Tom P. Jimison." Jimison's newspaper, the first issue of which was scheduled to appear this week, was named the Charlotte Workers. Charlotte leaders of organized labor said this newspaper, as weekly, would have no official connection with labor.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Weekly Cotton Review.

New York, April 3.—After selling off to 24.50 for July and 23.92 for October at the beginning of this week, the cotton market rallied on covering and reports that the decline had brought in a little fresh trade buying of the new crop positions. At the low prices touched on Monday, the market showed declines of about 175 to 190 points from the high levels reached on the advance of early last month, and much of the buying reported for the mid-week rallies was attributed to the firmer technical position.

A feeling seemed to develop in some quarters that liquidation in grain and stocks had been pretty well completed and that the cotton market itself had been pretty well sold out. This idea was encouraged by the smaller offerings and the disposition to cover recent sales was stimulated by the failure of official weather reports to show any really heavy or general precipitation in the droughty sections of the Southwest. Demand tapered off as shorts secured cover, however, and the market weakened again toward the end of the week, selling back to about the previous low figures, owing to a renewal of the decline in grain, continued reports of a poor demand for cotton goods and the failure of disappointing weather news from Texas to promote a more general demand.

Recent showers or rains in the southern part of Texas have been followed by some little precipitation in northern parts of Texas and southern Oklahoma, and while there has been no such rainfall as needed to offset the winter drought, rather more favorable opinions have been expressed here at to the probable new crop start. Expectations of some increase in acreage have been encouraged by the first three of the private preliminary reports to be issued, one of which pointed to an increase of 2 per cent while another estimated the prospective gain at 4 per cent and the third placed it at 4.4 per cent.

Meanwhile it is believed that new crop production east of the Mississippi are well advanced with favorable soil conditions and the ultimate effects of inadequate winter rainfall in the Southwest are expected by many local traders to depend on the character of the growing season. Foreign trade interests have been credited with buying new crop months around the 24-cent level, but in a comparatively small way and general business has been limited in volume as if the market was waiting for a nearer view of the new crop start or fresh trade developments.
