In the end of the Sabbath, as it began toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning and his raiment was white as snow.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly and tell His disciples that he is risen from the dead: and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

Editor Saw No Reason to Modify His Statement.

Monroe Enquirer. My old friend, J. G. Gullidge, a Baptist minister, who lives down at Olive Branch, takes me to task for what I said in Catch-All in a recent issue of The Enquirer. Says he:

"I noticed in the last issue of The Enquirer you spoke about a Baptist church at Lee Park. It seems that you think they don't need it. Well, I don't know about that, and I am not arguing about that either. But I want to tell you that I agree with you in some things that you said and some I don't. You said some were a Baptist, a Methodist or a Presbyterian because their parents were thus and so. Now that is a very poor reason for being either."

"Now, Mr. Ashcraft, you said that you would bet that the Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians couldn't tell the difference between the creeds and tenets of their several churches. For their benefit I'll tell 'em the difference is about the same as that between tweedledee and tweedledum. They're all protestants.' "Now, Mr. Ashcraft, you are surely mistaken. I presume that you are not a Baptist. If you are you need to rub up on the history of the church. Can you tell the difference between a river of water and a pitcher of water? Can you tell the difference between a person that is dead and buried and one that is not? Surely you can, I am a Baptist because the New Testament makes me one. And I want to tell you that you are sadly mistaken about the Baptists belonging to the protestants, for there were no protestants until the days of Luther A. D. 1529, and there have been Baptists in the world ever since the days of John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus, who himself (Jesus) was a Baptist. If he had been anything else his forerunners would have been something else besides Baptists. And to say that the Baptists belong to the protestants is to say that they came out of the Roman Catholic church, which is the church of the devil and not the church of Christ. But thanks be to God that Jesus said long before there was any Roman Catholic church that upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

I also sad in my little piece about churches as well as schools' consolidating in order to carry on in a better way, that most people's religion consists of denominationalism. And I still see no reason to revise or modify the statement.

The first woman in the United States to be honored by a public monument was Margaret Gaffney Haughory of New Orleans. Born in Baltimore just a century ago, the only child of Irish immigrant parents, she was married but a few months when she was left a childless widow. Thenceforth she devoted her life to charity, especially among children.

The oldest pensioner on the Government rolls is Mrs. Mahala Huff, of Louisa, Ky., the widow of a soldier of the war of 1812. Mrs. Huff is 105 years old.

Blossoms Bring Memories

Madam Tamura, wife of the second secretary of the Japanese embassy, Tetsuro Tamura, with her little daughter, Tamami, are carried back to old Japan with the aroma of their native blossoms which surround the Tida House in Washington.

Woman Found Dead in A. C. L. Sleep.

Petersburg, Va., April 9.—An elderly woman, who, according to reports received here today, is Catherine Maher of 434 Webster avenue, Scranton, Pa., was found dead in a berth yesterday on northbound Atlantic Coast Line train No. 86, running from Jacksonville, Fla., to New York. Death is said to have resulted from heart failure.

With the woman were her two nieces, Genevieve and Albert Loffer, both of Scranton, who are understood to have spent an extended visit with the deceased at Daytona, Fla. The party was en route to Scranton and had stopped over last night at Charleston, S. C. Shortly after the train had left Weldon, N. C., about 7:25 yesterday morning the body was found in a berth.

A Flying Scrap-Heap. Paris, April 11.—A recent race for home-made aeroplanes has been won by a French mechanic who built his machine out of a second-hand motorcycle engine, and odds and ends of scrap. It was a queer looking plane, but it actually flew twenty-five miles at fifty miles an hour, and then flew 150 miles across country.

Birds and Vegetables Bring Bright Colors to Men's Clothes

THE lowly egg plant was lifted to high estate at the Fall opening of men's clothing on Tuesday in Chicago, when its lustreous purplish hue was matched to the new suit it had inspired the world's largest clothing manufacturers to create. America's stronger sex will look several inches higher and will be distinguished by a sculptural effect of broader shoulders and more stalwart lines in the striking new fashions for men, as exhibited by masculine models. Sponsored by Monsieur Erte of Paris, the eminent designer, and other of the world's outstanding fashion experts, men are demanding more vivid colorings in their clothing. American fashion designers wisely have gone to the crown of the egg plant for the inspiration for the coloring of the geometrical designs in the new Heathland suits and overcoatings.

Stockings Ten Inches, More Important Now Than In 1900

STOCKINGS are ten inches more important now than they were in 1900. So says Roy E. Tilles, vice president of the Gotham Silk Hosiery Co., Inc. And to refresh the minds of those whose memory refuses to function back this far, he staged a demonstration at the Hotel Anson, New York, at the recent meeting where were gathered men and women engaged in various branches of the shoe and hosiery industry. Several manikins (none of which had bobbed hair) displayed costumes of twenty-five years ago, but they didn't display hosiery because it wasn't done in those days. The only time the men folks saw hosiery was when the crossing was particularly muddy or when they managed to get away to a burlesque show, (unbeknownst to the wife). They didn't miss much, however, said Mr. Tilles. "Ankles weren't as worthwhile looking at in 1900 because high shoes and cotton stockings were in style. Most of us agree that to be a thing of beauty, an ankle must be silken clad. Short skirts are more sensible and more comfortable than the bust trailers of the past generation, and they're going to be shorter as spring and summer advance. So that stockings must be silk, sheer silk preferred, from 10 to 12 inches of the silken clad ankle showing."

Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

PAINS ALL OVER

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Wethersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship.

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength.

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."
