

Ten Reasons Why the New Columbia Is Superior

- 1. It starts itself.
2. Stops itself—nothing to move, set or measure.
3. New International Reproducer—a marvel of naturalness.
4. One hand top—another convenient refinement.
5. Stream line cabinets—in good taste everywhere.
6. Straight, spun brass tone arm—enables tone to develop fully and naturally.
7. Tone eaves built on pipe organ principle—control volume.
8. New Precision Motor—accurate—strong—smooth as a watch.
9. Bronze and brass bearings in motor, acting like jewels in a watch.
10. Perfect oiling system—easy, clean, convenient.

LOCAL MENTION

All of the banks of the city will be closed Monday.

Dr. T. R. Lewis will conduct the services at the Jackson Training School tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

According to a deed filed Friday with the register of deeds, W. J. Cline has sold to Eugene Danner property in No. 4 township for $1500.

Marriage license was issued Friday by Register of Deeds Elliott to Coley W. Smith, of Concord Route One, and Miss Eula Mae Williams, of Concord.

A meeting of the stockholders of the White-Parks Mill will be held next Monday, April 13th, at 2 o'clock at the Cabarrus Savings Bank to consider issuing additional stock, either common or preferred, or both.

An interesting movie program will be given tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock. The regular Saturday night programs at the Y have been very largely attended during the winter and spring.

At the regular meeting of Cold Water Lodge No. 62, I. O. O. F., held Thursday night, Norman Alston was elected a delegate to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, which meets on the 19th and 20 of May. C. J. Williams is the alternate elected.

Five defendants were tried in court here Friday. Two speeders were fined $10 each; judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case charging false pretense and a couple charged with fornication and adultery was sentenced to jail, the man to be sent to the county roads for four months and the woman to serve three months at the county home.

The weather man, in lenient mood, has reported fair weather tonight and tomorrow and has gladdened a vast number of feminine hearts in and about the city. New frock are receiving the finishing touches before being donned in the gala Easter parade and milliners are having a last minute rush, the like of which has seldom been seen in Concord.

Prof. J. B. Robertson, county superintendent of schools, went to Mt. Pleasant Friday night for the formal dedication of the new colored school building there. The building has been occupied about a month but the formal dedication exercises were held Friday night. The school is excellently built and patrons of the school are justly proud of it.

Public schools of the city closed Friday at 1 o'clock for the Easter holidays and work will not be resumed until Tuesday morning. Easter Monday is always a holiday with local schools and throughout the State it is generally observed as a holiday by schools and colleges. School work was suspended Friday afternoon so many of the pupils could attend Church services during the afternoon.

Easter Services will be the last to be held in the Reformed Church on the corner of Means and Church streets. The building was sold last year but was being used until the completion of the new church. The owners, however, needed it as the auditorium of the Corbin street school until they are able to move into their new building.

The four persons found here in a Buick car alleged to have been stolen in Durham, were turned over to Durham authorities Friday, and they were taken back to that city for trial. Two of them were tried for fornication and adultery in court here Friday and they must return to serve chain gang and jail sentences as soon as the Durham county authorities are through with them.

Several hundred colored men saw the moving pictures offered in Kannapolis Friday night by Dr. S. E. Buchanan, county health officer. The pictures dealt with venereal diseases and for that reason were for men only. The same pictures were shown to several hundred men here Thursday night at Logan school and while being shown short talks were made by Prof. Logan, Dr. P. H. Lee, colored physician, and Dr. W. C. Houston.

A number of persons from this city and county plan to go to Winston-Salem tonight to attend the Easter services at the Moravian Church and cemetery tomorrow morning. The services always attracts thousands of visitors to the Twin City and invariably prove of much interest to those persons who are attending for the first time. Most of the local people going for the services plan to leave here late and arrive in Winston-Salem about the time the services begin.

Practically all the churches in Concord have prepared special musical programs for the Easter services tomorrow. The First Presbyterian Church will present a cantata in the afternoon. St. James Lutheran Church will have several special numbers in the matinee service at 9 o'clock. Forest Hill Methodist Church has a group of anthems suitable for the season which they will present. Other churches have prepared less elaborate programs.

Montgomery Speaks at Rutherfordton. Rutherfordton, April 9.—Charles A. Montgomery, of United States Veterans bureau, Charlotte, was the principal speaker at the April meeting of the Fred Williams Post No. 75 American Legion, here last night. Music by the Spindale band was a feature of the meeting. Mr. Montgomery assured the large number of ex-service men present that the veterans bureau was anxious to relieve every disabled man that it could, but that it had to function within the confines of the law. The bureau is made up of ex-service men, he declared. Mr. Montgomery stayed over in town a day and conferred with 16 men who might be eligible for help.

When you are lonely, and want the doorbell to ring, try to take a bath. A learn-to-swim campaign is being started. Perhaps the quickest way is by changing seats in a canoe. A chaperone never has to apologize for going to sleep. Be careful while selecting the experience you want. You can't get your money back if not satisfied.

Plastic surgery is becoming popular, chiefly by the plastic surgeons. The crying need of our female population seems to be spring clothes. Music hath no charms to soothe the savage radio static.

The most important thing to know about your automobile is the phone number of some good mechanic. Mosquitoes are trimming their bills down for summer boarders while others are trimming their mills up.

The difficult thing about making a garden is restraining yourself from quitting and going fishing with the worms you find. A man downtown broke feels like a woman downtown without her powder. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

The Governor's Home. Charlotte Observer. The economy Legislature appropriated $50,000 for repairs to the Governor's Mansion—"the many-gabled barn," as The Raleigh Times describes it. Fifty thousand dollars, to the average mind, is enough in itself to build a respectable mansion, to say nothing of repairing an old one, and the thought has occurred to The Times that perhaps it would be best to "tear down the present mansion and build one of which the tax-payers of the state, and the Governor, too, could be proud."

A good deal of money has been spent in keeping the Governor's home in repair and it is probably true, as maintained by The Times, that a new home could be built "for not a great deal more than the sum about to be spent in repairs." It is a wonder that the same idea did not seize hold upon the Legislature when it was considering the matter of a $50,000 appropriation. The architecture of the old home is obsolete, and of a character inviting constant application of money to keep it in comfortable order. It might seem to be the policy in real economy to tear down and build anew from the ground up. For the Governor of a State in the North Carolina class deserves and should have a home more creditable to its reputation.

"Great governor, Ab!" ejaculated Burt Blurt of Petunia, who was spending the day in the Big Burg along with his friend Abner Applaudy. "You're making an awful face over that cigar you just bought. Don't you like it?" "Gosh-dang it to the dickens!" replied Abner. "I've got to like it; I paid a dime for it."
