WOMEN IN TIBET BOSS
HUSBANDS AND HOMES
They Cut Grain and Thresh it on Flat Mud Roofs—Do Very Little Cooking.
In far Tibet men say of their women: "They are just like the foreign women. They boss the homes. They get their own way." The order that prevails among other primitive people is reversed and one woman takes unto herself six or more husbands, often brothers, thereby keeping the whole family under her thumb.
Tibetan women wield the keys of the household, figuratively speaking, and have complete sway in the ordering of their husbands' lives. A woman considers herself badly off if she has only two husbands.
In addition to their housework the women run things on the outside. They cut the grain after the fashion of Ruth with a small sickle, and they thresh it on the flat mud roofs as in the days of Abraham. They do little in the way of cooking except to boil their tea. They live largely on barley, butter and raw meat. The Tibetans are fond of butter. They butter themselves instead of bathing.

The Concord Y track team took their first meet of the year Monday afternoon when they defeated the Jackson Training School by a score of 123 to 98.
The attractions were run off in record time, a large crowd of spectators witnessing the meet. Particularly noticeable, according to J. W. FIRE THREATENS TO BURN ENTIRE CAR BARN SECTION
Two Houses Burned on Dorland Avenue in Midnight Blaze Attracting Large Crowd.
Fire, which for a time threatened the entire section of homes in the vicinity of the car barn, burned two negro dwellings to the ground and scorched a number of others Monday night a few minutes after midnight.
The alarm was turned in by a passer-by, who noted the flames making headway in the house occupied by Mattie Cherry on Dorland Avenue. When she awoke, the entire house was a mass of flames and she had only sufficient time to grab a cloak and jump from the window.
The house next to the one occupied by Mattie Cherry caught and burned so fast that the persons living in it also were barely able to escape with their lives. Only desperate work on the part of the firemen saved other houses in the neighborhood. The speaks from the two houses fell on houses on Kerr street, catching several of them.
Although the fire occurred at a late hour, hundreds of people were attracted to it due to the brilliance of the blaze which lighted the whole section. A number of elaborately dressed dancers from the Elks Club were sprinkled when the firemen inadvertently turned the hose on them.

THE NEW POSTAL RATES

Will Go Into Effect Tomorrow—Private Cards Two Cents Postage.
The attention of the public is called again to the new schedule of postal rates that become effective tomorrow, April 15th.
Under the new scale regular post cards will remain the same, a penny apiece, but private mailing cards such as "souvenir, birthday greeting, Christmas cards and the like will be two cents. First class letter postage will remain the same. Insurance fees will be as follows: Up to and including $5, 6 cents; above $5 and not more than $25, 8 cents; over $25 and not more than $50, 10 cents; over $50 and not more than $100, 25 cents.
Registry fees: Value, including $50, 15 cents; over $50 and not more than $100, 20 cents. A fee of three cents is required for a return receipt for a registered or insured parcel of mail, when such receipt is requested.
C. O. D. fees: Not over $10, 12 cents; over $10 and not over $50, 15 cents; over $50 and not over $100, 25 cents.
Special delivery fees: The fee of 10 cents for special delivery on letters remains the same. On parcel post weighing not more than two pounds the fee will be 10 cents, over two pounds and not over ten, 15 cents; over ten and not over seventy, 20 cents. Special delivery of parcel post does not necessarily mean quick handling in transit. The fee only covers immediate delivery after it reaches destination. A new feature called "Special Handling" has been inaugurated whereby upon the payment of a fee of 25 cents in addition to the regular postage, a parcel post package will receive the same treatment in transit as first class mail.
The rate on third class matter, which includes all parcel post matter weighing less than eight ounces will be one and one-half cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof.
Fourth class includes all matter of the third class weighing over eight ounces. There has not been any change made in rates affecting class except that in addition to the zone rates, there will be a "service charge" on two cents on each parcel. This service charge will not be charged against parcels mailed on rural routes, but such parcels mailed on rural routes must bear a notation "Mailed on Rural Route No.—Concord, N. C." Money order fees will be as follows: Not over $2.50, 5 cents; over $2.50 and not over $5, 7 cents; over $5 and not over $10, 10 cents; over ten and not over $20, 12 cents; $20.01 to $40, 15 cents; $40.01 to $60, 18 cents.

Thomas White, son of T. J. White, of the county, has recently been elected to a position as president of the rising second year law class at the University of North Carolina.
This is Mr. White's first year at the University and he has made a very unusual record. He has not only been elected to the presidency of his class but he has been taken into the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity and into the Kappa Pi fraternity.
He also had a place on the wrestling team and an accident necessitating an operation forced him to quit the team. At present Mr. White is training for next year's wrestling and boxing teams.

Do You Know "Now I Lay Me?"

Here is an amusing thing to try on your family or to spring at a party. Ask each person to repeat the old children's prayer which begins "Now I lay me down to sleep." Probably they will be able to do it—but that is only the beginning of the game. Next you have them all write the prayer down on paper—and that is where most of them will get stuck. It seems easy, but not one in a dozen can do it. The "catch" is in the use of the article "the" in the phrase "I pray the Lord." The proper word is not "the" but "thou"—although few realize it. Here is the way the prayer should be written:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray thee, Lord, my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake,
I pray thee, Lord, my soul to take."

The point is that the prayer is addressed to the Lord, and not offered as if to some third person, and so the word should be "thou," and not "the."

tent to sit by the fire and knit socks. Today she is up and doing, or so one would judge from the news that Mrs. E. Craven, of Weymouth, England, who is 90 and a grandmother, is to attempt to swim the English Channel. Mr. Craven is a nurse by profession, and swimming is her hobby.
