SCHOOL CHILDREN GET FULL BENEFIT OF "Y"

grounds at recess. More co-operation, more self-control and a spirit of fairness can be observed.

"The Y. M. C. A. activities have been a help to the Primary School, especially with the average boys in school," J. W. Denny, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., has taken over the work of giving physical education in the schools. In this capacity he has served in various numbers, in the neighborhood of 1,000 pupils. Of course he does not actually teach that number daily. He is assisted in two of the schools by several of the teachers who have taken the work and who give the exercises to the children in their own schools. However, he does give instruction to over 1,100 pupils daily.

Mr. Denny's work begins at 10 o'clock in the morning. He makes the rounds of the schools, giving the children calisthenic exercises which begin with light exercise, work up to the heart load and then end with restorative exercises. Mrs. Hinton McLeod and Miss Ruth Crowell, under Mr. Denny's supervision, have charge of the work at Primary School and Miss Margaret Virginia Ervin takes the girls at Central. Short talks are also given at suitable times on health and on first aid.

In the afternoon, the boys' high school gym classes meet three times a week and the girls classes twice a week. These classes have rhythmic calisthenic steps, do apparatus work and play games. Classes enrolling over 100 are held for employed boys each night, an effort being made to give them the exercise they lack in their work.

In speaking of the kind of exercise given his classes Mr. Denny said that they were all started slowly and were given a chance to work up to the place where it was possible to play strenuous games. "It is on the same principle," said he, "as an automobile. You don't start it in high. In the same manner, the pupils in the gym classes are not started at top speed." He then added further: "The things that make for rhythm get unity of action and get the attention, thereby acquiring discipline. Skill comes in the competitive mass games."

Each of the classes has a roll and the members not present get a zero on the day's work. A maximum is given to any one who has more than a two-thirds attendance.

During the summer months the pool is the busiest place in the entire building. According to Mr. Denny, the local Y has the largest classes in the country, every swimmer receiving suitable instruction and supervision. Last summer over 350 persons were taught to swim, being compelled to go into deep water before credit for ability was given. The swimming pool is used morning, afternoon and night.

In addition to the gym classes for the high school boys and girls, Hi-Y clubs are held for the purpose of improving the moral standard in the schools. In these clubs the Bible is studied, questions affecting the welfare of the students are discussed and some social recreation given. It is said by Denny that much of the credit for the honor system's introduction into the high school was due to the work of Hi-Y clubs.

Track Meet Friday Afternoon.

All events in the Track Meet Friday will be run off at the same time, beginning at 1:00 p. m. Each class going from one event to another. For example, 60-80 class are arranged that each man jump to high jump followed by 65 class, followed by 110 class followed by 125 class. Unlimited and 110 to 125 class will begin at 1:00 p. m., go to broad jump on to high jump, back to discuss throw on to shot put to 220 to 440 to one mile run.

The events are open to all high school boys all ages and weight. Boys under 125 pounds will be classified as follows: 60-80 lbs., 80-95, 95-110, 110-125. All over 125 will be one class or known as unlimited class.

Events:—
For under 125 lbs., 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, running high jump.
For over 125 or unlimited class, 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, running high jump, shot put, discus throw, and 220 yard dash, 440 run and mile run.

Events are so arranged that each man can take part in all events and have sufficient breathing space in between.

There will be judges, timers, tape handlers, and record keepers at each part or track event. In this manner the event will be a rapid one.

Spectators will not be allowed down on contest field but will have space reserved on first terrace when each event can be clearly seen.

Salisbury Post.

The many friends of Mr. Ralph W. Bost, of Rockwell, will be gratified to learn that an account of his work in P-Tolylsemicarbazide has been recently published in the Journal of the American Chemical Society. After working for a year in this particular chemical compound, Mr. Bost prepared a report which is of inestimable value as a ketone reagent, and for detecting the presence of the carbonyl group in organic compounds.

Mr. Bost is a graduate of Newberry College and the University of North Carolina, having received his M. A. degree from the latter institution last June. While at the University of North Carolina he was admitted membership into the Society of Sigma Xi, the highest honor a student of science can attain at the University of North Carolina. He is also a member of the Pi Kappa Delta Fraternity, and a member of the American Chemical Society.

At present he is professor of chemistry at Tulane University, New Orleans, La. During the past three summers, Mr. Bost has worked here in Salisbury and has made a host of friends who wish him the best of success in his work.

Mt. Pleasant Cadets Beat Watt's Crossroads.

M. P. C. I. defeated the Watts crossroads at Mt. Pleasant Wednesday in an easy manner, 17-6. The cadets had things their own way throughout the entire game. Numerous home runs by Coach Cone's boys gave the spectators their only thrill of the afternoon. Hipp started twirling for the Crossroads but was soon relieved by Hopkins early in the game. M. P. C. I. used several pitchers during the game, all of whom showed up well. Allman, a heavy hitting outfielder, pitched a pretty game until he was relieved by Ryann.

True to the End.

The Pathfinder.

It was a century ago when Alice Murray, daughter of a wealthy Tennessee plantation owner, fell in love with Jim Lewis, son of a poor man. The world seemed to bend out into a wonderful love garden; to these two young people the air was filled only with the music of birds and the fragrance of spring flowers. Indeed, nature was most beautiful.

But Alice's father did not approve of the match; he visioned his daughter as the mistress of some palatial Southern mansion owned by a wealthy and highly-respected "gentleman." And Alice's father told her he would never give his consent to any marriage that offered less. Week-end parties were held frequently at Mr. Murray's mansion and proposal after proposal of marriage was made to Alice by men of high position, but she refused them all.

Alice's father was more determined than ever that she should not wed the man of her choice. The years sped by. Alice grew older, so did Jim, which, of course, was only to be expected. Then the Civil War came on and Alice's father gave all he had to the "Cause." Alice's love enlisted and she did not hear of him for many months. Meanwhile Mr. Murray died and the love that had been denied Alice and Jim seemed now to be free to move these two people happy.

But it was not to be. Jim had been killed in battle and the news was brought to Alice shortly after her father's death. No, Alice never married. She is now 120 years "young," still waiting to be united with her lover, Jim. She is happy, though, for a new world is just around the corner and there is the satisfaction of having remained true to the end.
