What the World Is Doing

Radio Report of Sea-Bomb Blast to Guide Ships

The sound of the explosion of a small TNT bomb, towed along the side of a ship at sea, may be used to give the vessel's exact location, under a new method developed by the Coast and Geodetic Survey and successfully tried out on the southern California coast. Based upon the fact that water transmits sound at a definite speed, the coast-survey apparatus consists of a means by which the bomb may be fired beneath the water alongside the ship, the exact instant of firing being recorded on an electrical clock equipped with a fountain pen. The shore wireless stations are equipped with hydrophones, or under-water microphones, planted on the sea bottom and connected to the wireless transmitting apparatus by cable. The hydrophones pick up the sound waves from the bomb and broadcast them back to the ship, where the electric clock times the return of the signal. As the time taken for the return of the signal is only a fraction of a second, and the speed of the sound through the water is known, the time the round trip consumes can be reduced to miles traveled by the sound waves under water from ship to shore.

Radio Tubes to Melt Steel

Masses of steel can be melted to white-hot liquid with the aid of tubes such as are used in wireless outfits, according to Dr. C. H. Desch, of the metallurgy university at Sheffield, Eng. Mills there are reported to be installing trial furnaces for testing the efficiency of the tubes in the manufacture of nickel alloys. It is planned to pass alternating current of 300 volts through them at extremely high frequency and then into the metal, which becomes hotter than the crucible containing it.

Elephant's Appetite Calls for Food Twenty-Three Hours a Day

Elephants apparently have appetites in keeping with their size for in India about twenty-three hours out of the twenty-four are consumed in eating and one or more men are employed to keep them in food. This consists of grass, bougus of trees and grain and huge cakes, called "chupatty," each about two and one-half feet in diameter and an inch and a half thick. They are made of coarse ground meal and are relished by the Indian natives themselves. The mahouts become greatly attached to their beasts. They entertain many superstitions regarding their charges and are said to use a special "elephant language." The number of hairs on the animals' tails and the color and position of their toenails are believed to be signs of good or bad luck. In spite of their great bulk, elephants are capable of considerable speed and can carry loads up to 1,000 pounds through the roughest country.

Springs on Sandals Worn as Skates Add to Children's Sport

Spring sandals strapped on like skates and with two stout steel coils fastened between the bottom and a lower leather-pegged sole, are now on the market for boys' and girls' amusement. They are made in five different sizes and stiffness of springs for small and larger children, and the springs are so flexible that there is practically no danger of turning the ankle. Walking or jumping with them is said to strengthen the muscles of the feet and legs, and besides providing healthful sport, the sandals lead to the development of new games for the playground.

WOMAN CONFESSES TO KILLING HER CHILDREN

Mrs. Anna Cunningham Admits She Murdered Three of Her Own Children. Crown Point, Ind., April 16.—Mrs. Anna Cunningham charged with the murder of one of five members of her family who have died in the past six years, confessed in the county jail here tonight to Sheriff Benjamin H. Strong that she had poisoned three of her children.

Mrs. Cunningham denied, however, that she had poisoned her husband or a fourth child who died within the six year period. Her daughter, Mae, 19, who with David, a son who is ill from arsenic poisoning in a Chicago hospital, are the only members of the family left, heard Mrs. Cunningham's confession.

Mrs. Cunningham also confessed that she had poisoned her son, David, and said she had taken some of the poison herself, but that the amount had not been large enough to do anything but to make her ill.

The confession of the 49-year-old woman came, with dramatic suddenness. During the afternoon she had talked to a newspaper reporter, and had admitted that she might have placed some arsenic in the food of her son, David, by mistake, but was emphatic in her denial that she had poisoned any member of her family intentionally.

Her daughter, Mae, who had been in Gary, the family home, during the afternoon, came to the jail tonight and Mrs. Cunningham suddenly agreed to talk if her daughter were brought before her. The girl was brought to her cell, but she declined to talk there, insisting that she first be moved to another room. This was done and she asked to have Mae stand in front of her. "Now, Mae," she said in a calm voice, without displaying any emotion, "I'm done with you, too, and I'm coming clean."

"Oh, mother, don't talk, don't talk," the girl screamed as her mother began calmly to recite the details of the tragedy.

The son, Mrs. Cunningham said she did not poison was Harry. His was one of the two bodies of her children exhumed a few days ago and Dr. William D. McNally, of Chicago, coroner's chemist, said he had found poison in the viscera of this body as well as in that of the other body exhumed.

An Irishman was telling of his war wound. He said: "An' the bullet went in me chest here, and come out me back!" "But," said his friend, "it would have gone through your heart and killed you."

"Faith, an' me heart was in me mouth at the time!"

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP BY THIS SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and discomfort. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowley Mentho-Sulphur, from any good drug-gist and use it like a cold cream.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle.

When writing, be sure and mention this paper.

One Million Killed Daily.

The automobile takes its toll of thousands of human lives annually, while more than 1,000,000 animals and birds are crushed to death daily by motorists during the tourist season. This is the astounding estimate made by Prof. Dayton Storer, of the University of Iowa. In making a trip of 612 miles principally through farming communities of Iowa, Professor Storer counted the dead bodies of 225 reptiles, birds and mammals. Within a space of 211 miles of his journey, made over traveled roads, 108 dead animals were counted. Averaging the destruction of animal life for the 3,000,000 miles of auto roads in the United States, he computes the total daily loss of all species of animals and birds at over 1,000,000. The hunters and trappers may slay their thousands, but in the wanton destruction of small animal life the dead-dealing auto is the greatest menace.

To Boys and Girls.

Whom do you love among your schoolmates? Not those who throw stones at innocent animals; not those who break and destroy fences, trees, and windows; not those who wish to quarrel and fight; but you do love and respect those who are kind, gentle, and unselfish—the peace-makers, says Luther Burbank in Western Journal of Education. Wealding cowards boast, swagger, and brag; the brave ones, the good ones, are gentle and kind.

Cultivate kind, gentle, loving thoughts towards every person and animal, and even plants, stars, oceans, rivers and hills. You will find yourself growing more happy each day, and with happiness comes health, and everything you want.

THOUGHT HE HAD FORTUNE DIES LEAVING BIG DEBTS

Man Lived Recluse to Keep Ownership of Mines Secret; Heirs Find it a Dream.

New York, April 16.—A fortune which its owner, the late Calvin Amory Stevens, recluse, believed to run into millions of dollars, faded to a minus quantity when the estate was appraised in surrogate's court. Stevens believed mining properties he held in Nova Scotia, New Mexico and Virginia were worth about $5,000,000 and to hide his supposed wealth lives for years in poorly furnished quarters in a Manhattan office building.

The appraisal today valued these properties at $76,500 and the whole estate at $113,821, but against which were claims of $120,208, leaving an indebtedness of $15,445.

TOTAL COLLECTIONS, $5,719,199

On the $18,000,000 Christian Education Fund of the Methodist Church, South, Nashville, Tenn., April 16.—Total collections on the $18,000,000 Christian education fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in 1924, reached $5,719,199. This was announced today by Dr. H. H. Sherman, associate secretary of the board of education which has direction of the churchwide Christian education movement. During the past twelve months, he reported, the payments amounted to $1,194,318.63, the peak of collections having been reached in November, when $207,057.71 was paid in. These amounts do not include $4,882,258 reported as "new money" which represents gifts to individual schools for the $23,000,000 given to Trinity College by J. B. Duke.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre At Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.
