IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

DO NOT NEED NEW GOSPEL TO SAVE WORLD, DECLARES RECTOR

Charles B. Scovill Preaches Beautiful and Powerful Sermon on 1600 Anniversary of Council of Nicea. In commemoration of the sixteen hundredth anniversary of the Council of Nicea, Rev. Charles B. Scovill, the rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, preached a beautiful sermon yesterday which he declared that the faith of Nicea was going to be the salvation of the world. He pointed out that it was not a Roman Catholic Council nor was it a Protestant Council. "It was," he said, "a council of the undivided Christian Church." He urged his hearers to launch out into the deep of fuller faith, fuller love and fuller service to the world. Taking as his text "And Jesus said 'Launch out into the deep and let down your nets'." And—Simon answering said unto him 'Master, we have toiled all the night and have taken nothing, nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.' Luke 5:4 and 5, Mr. Scovill began as follows:

Picture the scene in the early morning light. The tired, discouraged, hungry disciples, after a night of toil in which they had taken nothing, turning their little boats homeward. How gay and happy had they been the morning before when they had set out to fish in the glorious sunshine of a new day. How hopeful they had been of making a large catch, they sang together. I am sure as they made their way to the fishing grounds. With the patience of real fishermen they had remained hopeful all day. When the sun set they still had hope of the night when it was cooler and the fish must come. But as the night wore on, their discouragement grew, for they were not fishermen only for the sport, it was their life's work, and no fish meant no bread for their families. Then just as the first light of day came upon them, hope departed and, there was nothing left for them to do but to turn homeward with nothing to show for all their work and toil.

But through the mists of the morning Jesus came to them, and they knew now that whenever this King Master of the world he spoke to them, to these poor tired hungry disciples, "Launch out into the deep again." Could they believe this? Did Jesus not know that the one thing they needed was rest, not a return to toil, and yet these were the words they heard. Go back again. And Peter said, why Master, you cannot mean for us to go back again. Why do you not know that we have toiled all night and have taken nothing. But Jesus knew men, he knew that the victory was won or lost by the way men act under discouragement. Work with no reward tests men's souls. Half those who take their own lives, who find life too much for them give as an excuse, that they worked so hard and "got nowhere."

Take this old world in which we live today. Men cry out for salvation of some sort, and as we look about the things we see going on in the world truly might very well lead us to despair of its salvation. There is still hate, and pride, and greed and sin, and vice. We seem very far from universal peace, there is unrest everywhere, and the cry goes up, what has the Christian religion done for the world? Has it toiled all night and taken nothing? Men discouraged with life today cry out for a New Gospel, for a new Master, and on that account we find new "isms" and new gospels which men say will save the world. Do we need a new faith? Do we need a new gospel? Let us consider this question together. Sixteen hundred years ago today in 325 A. D., the first great General Council met in the little city of Nicea in Asia Minor, to consider this question. We are keeping this anniversary today, called by Constantine the Great, the first Christian Emperor of the Roman Empire attended by representatives from all parts of the Christian world. This Council was to set in order the things most surely believed by all Christian people. Now remember this. It was not a Roman Catholic council, it was not till hundreds of years after that the Pope in Rome set up his claims. It was not a Protestant Council. It was held nearly eleven hundred years before the Reformation. It was a council of the undivided Christian church, and as such demands the allegiance of Christians of all names, and its faith is the faith of the united church.

Now I believe that the faith of Nicea is going to be the salvation of the world. Did Jesus ask His disciples to get into nets, new boats, or go to another lake to get the reward of the great multitude of fishes? No, He told them to go back again to the same old fishing grounds, use the same old boats, and the same old nets. The old faith of Nicea will yet save the world. It teaches the unity of God, which we all believe. It teaches that Jesus is the Son of God. We Christians all believe that. It teaches us about the Holy Spirit who is to lead us into all truth, do not all Christians believe that? The world needs faith today. Why not "launch out into the deep again." We may say we have toiled 1600 years and seemed to have taken nothing. But Jesus Christ stands today and commands us to try again and with the same old faith and in the same old ship of the Christian Church. Have we Christians Faith enough to do this?

There is a story told that at the Council of Nicea as the delegates came into the meeting place, it was noticed that one had lost a hand, another was lame, another had a disfigured face. What did it mean? It meant that these who had come to tell of their faith had suffered for their faith in the persecutions under heathen rulers. And such men have handed down to us the Christian faith.

Let us resolve in this 1600 anniversary of Nicea to obey the command of the Master to launch out into the deep of fuller faith, fuller love, fuller service to the world, inspired by the words of the great English hymn writer Faber

"Faith of our Fathers, Holy faith, We will be true to thee till death."

We do not need a new Gospel to save the world.

CONCORD HIGHS HAVE HIGH BATTING AVERAGE OF .314

Simpson Leads Batters With 17 Hits in 34 Trips to Plate—Seven Players Best .300.

According to figures made public today by H. J. Hitt, coach of the Concord High School baseball team, the local batters are swatting the ball with the unusually high average of .314, the figures including the game of April 10th.

Since the locals started their winning streak, they have given opposing pitchers something to think about. In every game, it has taken three hurlers to halt them in their swatting. The last four teams played, Duke University freshmen, Monroe High, Charlotte High, and Salisbury, have all suffered similar fates, defeat coming after an avalanche of safeties.

Two regular players and two substitutes are all batting above .400. Plyler, a substitute, has batted .500 in six trips to the plate. Simpson, Widenhouse and Howard all have been batting well. Simpson has made 17 hits in 36 tries.

With virtually every civilized nation on the globe now ranking as a tennis-playing country, the United States is easily first in the number of its tournaments, having won the honors in this respect from Great Britain several years ago. During the coming season there will be more than 200 events held under the sanction of the United States and Tennis Association, and this will not include many minor club and local championships.

"Cy" Young, who has been trying his hand at golf on the Florida course the past winter, will ever be remembered by followers of baseball as the man who pitched more big league games than any other hurler in the annals of the sport. During his long and brilliant career on the diamond, "Cy" pitched no fewer than 861 contests, 810 of them being full nine-inning games.

IT HAD WONDERFUL EFFECT ON HIM

Concord Cotton Mill Man Says HERB JUICE Is Best Laxative He Ever Used.

"Your HERB JUICE has convinced me beyond a doubt that it is truly a wonder worker and does give almost instant relief in the most severe cases of stomach and kidney trouble, and knowing from experience what it will do, I gladly add my name to help further its cause," said Mr. O. L. Broom, highly connected with the Brown Cotton Mill, Concord, N. C., when he called to see the HERB JUICE man a short time ago. "Before I commenced using HERB JUICE," continued Mr. Broom, "I had been a constant sufferer for a number of years with stomach and kidney troubles. I could not sleep well at night on account of indigestion pains and would have to be up several times during the night because I was bothered so much with my kidneys. This broke me of my rest and sleep and I would arise in the morning all worn out and feeling worse than when I went to bed. It is needless to say that I tried many different kinds of medicines, but never found any genuine relief until I started taking HERB JUICE, which I must admit is a truly wonder worker. The first few doses relieved me of the heavy burning feeling after eating, and now after using it for sometime, I feel as well as I ever did, bowels and kidneys are regulated, I sleep splendidly at night and get up in the morning feeling fit and ready for a hard days work. HERB JUICE has improved my general condition of health so much and restored my health after other medicines had failed, that I feel as though it is my duty to recommend it to other sufferers that they too may know about it, take it, and be benefited in the same way. I expect to keep a bottle in my home from now on, when I need a good laxative, it will be "HERB JUICE" for me." My wife is also using HERB JUICE with wonderful results and thinks it is the best laxative and system builder on the market. The HERB JUICE expert is now at Gibson Drug Co., Concord, N. C., and will gladly tell you without any cost just what benefit you can obtain from HERB JUICE. Also sold in Kamaspolis by F. L. Smith Drug Co.
