Musical Club Meets.

The home of Mrs. J. F. Goodson on West Depot street, was the scene of charming hospitality Tuesday evening when Mrs. Goodson and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell, together with Miss Helen Patterson and Mrs. Nan Pickard were hostesses to the Music Department of the Women's Club. The chairman, Mrs. Gorman, presided. The principal feature of the business meeting was the election of new officers for the coming club year, who are as follows: Chairman, Mrs. C. F. Ritchie; Vice Chairman, Mrs. C. B. Wagoner; Recording Secretary, Miss Laura Gillon; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Rose Harris; Treasurer, Mrs. Ernest L. Hicks. Mrs. John K. Patterson was chosen as chairman of the publicity committee.

Immediately after the business meeting an attractive program was rendered. Mrs. H. C. Herring read the scenario of an opera by Peter Cornelius, called "Le Cid," which deals with the life and love story of the Spanish hero of that name. Illustrating the character of the music of this opera, Miss Laura Gillon played a beautiful piano number "Ballet Music" from "Le Cid."

This number was followed by another lovely piano solo "A Mountain Stream," by Smith played by Miss Dorothea Wolf. The story of Massenet's masterpiece, the wonderful opera "Thais" was read by Mrs. John K. Patterson. In this story, the famous Egyptian courtesan Thais is led to forsake her old life of pleasure seeking and to find spiritual peace through the teachings of her romantic lover.

As a pleasant addition to the program, Mrs. Gorman read in her own inimitable way two humorous negro dialect stories "How Jonah Swallowed the Whale" and the "Spiritless Meeting."

Dainty refreshments consisting of delicious orange ice with cakes and candy, were served by the hostesses after which the meeting was adjourned until early in May.

Mrs. Ridenhour Entertains.

Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour was hostess at a lovely party Tuesday afternoon complimenting Mrs. W. R. Harris, of Asheville. Twenty-four guests were there to enjoy the happy occasion.

Mrs. Ridenhour was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. H. G. Gibson.

Thursday Afternoon Sewing Club to Meet

The Thursday Afternoon Sewing Club will meet Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. L. Bell on West Depot street.

Mrs. McCombs Entertains.

Mrs. S. A. McCombs entertained at a most elaborate party at her home on Ann street Monday night in honor of Miss Dorothy Fogli's birthday anniversary. A large number of boys and girls of the younger set were present. After a number of interesting games were played ice cream and cake were served to the guests. All departed reporting a lovely evening.

More Towels Are Needed at School.

San Francisco, April 21.—Fashion's call for fewer clothes for the modern school girl today occasioned a request of the City Board of Education, to the finance committee of the board of supervisors for an appropriation for more towels in the schools to satisfy girlish desire to keep the hands and face clean.

"The girls used their petticoats in place of towels," Mrs. Prug said, "now petticoats have gone out of style and the girls have nothing with which to dry their faces."

Central P. T. A.
The Parent Teacher Association of the Central Grammar School had its regular April meeting at the school building on Tuesday at 3:30 with the president, Mrs. J. W. Pike, presiding.

As the special feature of the program Mrs. S. J. Irvin told most interestingly of her visit to the famous Magnolia Gardens, near Charleston, S. C.

The principal business before the meeting was the election of new officers for the approaching school year, who are as follows: Mrs. N. A. Archibald, president; Miss Constance Cline, first vice-president; Mrs. Aubrey Henry, second vice-president; Mrs. Paris Kidd, secretary; and Miss Janie Klutz, treasurer.

The association tendered the retiring officers a vote of thanks for their faithful service and their untiring efforts to make the association a live part of the great state and national work with which it is affiliated.

Following the roll call it was found that Miss Black's, Miss Irvin's and Mrs. Kidd's room had tied for the prize for having the most mothers present. The prize, a book "The Five Little Peppers," the gift of Mrs. Pike, was not easily divisible by three, so the teachers concerned decided to give it to the school library, where all might share equally in the enjoyment of it.

The association is planning for and looking forward to great things in 1925-26. But to carry out its program efficiently it needs not only the good wishes but the active support of every mother having a child in school.

To Teach Training Class Here.
Miss Helen Estbrook, State Clothing and House Furnishing Specialist, will teach a local Leader Training Class, in Clothing, April 23. The class is to be composed of two delegates from each of the organized clubs in the county. This is the first of a series of lessons. Making patterns, cutting and fitting, trimmings and finishes will be demonstrated on a one-piece dress. The class will meet promptly at 10 o'clock A. M. in the Y. M. C. A.

On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock Miss Estbrook will give a lecture and demonstration in clothing. All women in Cabarrus county and Concord are invited to hear her.

Greensboro College Alumnae Meet

The regular meeting of the Greensboro College Alumnae was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Cannon at her home on North Union Street. Mrs. Clegg of High Point, formerly Miss Martha Dozier who was connected with the college, spoke to the members of the association. Mrs. Marsh, who is connected with the college, also was present.

The matter about raising the $100,000 for the Alumnae gift to the college was discussed and arrangements were made for conducting the canvass in Concord. This campaign is to be held next week, beginning April 25th and continuing on through May 4th.

At the conclusion of the business session, a social hour was held.

METROPOLITAN MUSEUM DECLINES CLARK'S BEQUEST

Three Million Dollar Art Collection Will Go to Corcoran Gallery.
New York, April 21.—The board of trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art this afternoon, by unanimous vote, declined to accept the bequest of an art collection valued at approximately $3,000,000 left by the estate of William A. Clark, of Montana.

Mr. Clark's will provided that if the art collection were not accepted by the Metropolitan Museum it would go to the Corcoran Gallery in Washington.

The trustees in their resolution stated that they were "constrained to decline acceptance of the said property, under the terms of Mr. Clark's will. They said, however, that they would gladly accept many of the art objects if the conditions of their acceptance could be changed.

The trustees explained that their reason for declining the gift was that it would have required facilities which the museum lacks. The former United States Senator in his will stipulated that the collection must be accepted as a unit and suitably housed together.

The great danger about telling a lie is people may believe you.
