

You Can't Keep a Good Bird Down

No One Said One Word For This Woman

Catawba News-Enterprise. We have seen many situations and many conditions in the courts of this state, but one occurred in Newton on Tuesday, April 7, that we shall not soon forget. The case before the bar was that which showed that a man who had been honored by his county for years as an educational leader, and a representative in both North Carolina, was about to be sentenced for the destruction of the character of the woman who had served in his office as stenographer. The whole bar of Morganton, practically, was here to plead for the man. They did not stop with the Morganton bar, but one Newton's lawyers was employed to use his influence with the court to lighten the sentence. This was not all—we have never seen so many business men from all the avocations of life of any one county go into another county to give their support to a defendant at the bar of justice. The lawyers grew impatient with half of their client. They quoted the Scriptures to the court. They referred to great characters in the Bible who had fallen by the way—tears when the court reminded them that in the Bible, times persons who committed crimes like their client were sentenced to death—this was a knock out blow from the court.

When the court began to discuss his responsibility in the case—then it was that he uttered these memorable words "No one has said one word for this woman". The effect of that sentence was the most terrific heard fall from the lips of a judge, and the impression that the sentence made was one of the most profound that we have ever seen upon any audience. There sat the woman whose character was gone—her all in this life was gone—we say it because when a woman's character is destroyed she can never regain it so long as life shall last. We heard one of the lawyers plead for the man to have a chance to live down the disgrace that has his, he commended the man who would still live in a community and tell us how long it would take woman to live down her disgrace.

Here is where the injustice to woman comes in—the man can strut around in his boots after he destroys the character of a woman, and be as big in society as he was before his crookedness is known—but a woman when she falls is down forever, so long as our society is concerned. Hence it is that we have often quote these words to the girls and young womanhood as we have had occasion to address them in a different part of this state: "Remember that the virtue of a woman is a flower which once it is withered, never blooms again, though bathed in tears."

There are three counties in North Carolina with an area of more than 1,000 square miles, these being Bladen, with 1,013; Cumberland, with 1,008, and Robeson, with 1,043. Robeson is the largest county in the State. Your dollar plus One Cent will be worth double its value Friday. See Thursday's paper. B. C. C. "Limited" Railway Trains.

The Pathfinder. Ques. What is the meaning of the word "limited" as applied to railway trains?—Ans. The word "limited" as applied to trains came into use about the time of the Civil War. Originally the only limiting feature of the "limited train" was the number of cars to be drawn. Now "limited" is applied to trains running a certain distance, carrying only a limited number of cars and prescribing the accommodations that can be given each passenger, for which an increased fare is charged. Such trains are invariably fast trains. Consequently "limited train" has become synonymous, popularly speaking, with "fast train." Two dollars an hour is the prevailing rate for instructions at most of the larger golf courses around New York. ONE CENT will be supreme on next Friday. See Thursday's paper. B. C. C.

SALISBURY BOYS HANDLE CITY AFFAIRS AN HOUR

Youngsters to Fill Offices of Mayor and Assistants This Afternoon. Salisbury, April 27.—Tomorrow from 4 to 5 o'clock the city of Salisbury will be run by the boys of the town. Mayor Herford Wolfe had his board of aldermen will be sworn in at the city hall at 3:30 and a half hour later will take charge of the city. A complete list of committees and appointive officers have been named and the entire working plan of the city government will be in the hands of the youngsters. Lincoln Kraker, county judge and Tom Kesler, prosecuting attorney, will be sworn in by Assistant Clerk of the Court Mitchell and will hold a session of the county court at 4:30.

Today addresses were made to the boys at the different schools on the subject of education and responsibilities of citizenship.

Last year the boys had charge of the town for an hour and conducted the affairs of the municipality with credit and distinction.

Post and Flagg's Cotton Letter.

New York, April 27.—This has been a banner day for bearish operators in the cotton market who have been strongly favored by the general run of news, including reports of liberal gains in Texas, continuing dubious trade advices and unsettled foreign political developments. Trade interests bought to some extent on resting orders already in the market and shorts were reported covering rather freely and meeting no particular difficulty in doing so, as bearish sentiment was encouraged by the character of the news and sellers appeared ready to supply any requirements. That part of the selling represented liquidation is probably true but the bulk of it is credited to fresh shorts taking the place of the older at lower levels on the ground that such action is now warranted by crop and trade conditions.

The actual trade apparently regards the present level as reasonable and is prepared to buy to some extent, though barely enough to "take up the slack" fully and certainly not to follow rallies as long as there is ground to hope for a satisfactory supply next season. The demand for May continues, from spot houses suggesting that tenders will be less heavy than recently estimated and will be quite readily taken care of at existing differentials.

There is still a grave doubt as to how well the crop in the southwest can resist summer heat and there is still the worst question to be faced, but for the present there appears little to disturb seriously the confidence of bearish operators or lead to any widespread support of the market.
