STATE WAR MOTHERS MEET IN LENOIR MAY 15 AND 16

Mrs. Giles Crowell and Mrs. W. A. Foll to represent local chapter.

At the annual meeting of the North Carolina War Mothers which is to be held in Lenoir on May 15 and 16, Mrs. Giles Crowell and Mrs. W. A. Foll will represent the Concord Chapter.

The following letter has been received by the Concord president which explains the business of the meeting:

The Annual State Convention of American War Mothers will meet in Lenoir, N. C., on May 15th and 16th. Convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 15th.

Each Chapter is entitled to two delegates for every twenty-five members. Chapters having less than twenty-five members at the same ratio.

All State Officers are expected. Please elect your delegates at once and write immediately giving their names to the Hospital Committee.

On arrival, please go at once to Chamber of Commerce, in the center of town, where a Committee will assign you to homes; also designate place of meeting.

Each Chapter will be expected to bring a written report of its year's work. Also each State Chairman will be expected to make a report.

A memorial hour will be observed, at which time all Chapters which have lost members during the year, will prepare and bring some fitting memorial words to be presented.

Again we beg that you will let us hear from you at once, as it is impossible for us to be in readiness unless we are advised of what number to expect.

Very Cordially Yours, Mrs. M. M. Courtney, State War Mother, Mrs. J. M. Bernhardt, State Corresponding Secretary.

Study Club to Meet Tomorrow. The Study Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. T. Cannon on North Union street.

Lady Astor to Stay in Politics. New York, April 28.—Lady Astor, M. P., has been urged by her family to take a rest because of her health, but she is opposed to quitting English politics until there are more women to carry on her work.

Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, wife of the artist and sister of England's woman member of Parliament, who has just returned from abroad, today said Lady Astor's family have been begging her to consider her health.

"She is ready to go," said Mrs. Gibson, "but the trouble is that the other women who are getting into politics don't stay there long enough to permit her to get out."

"When there are more women to do the work Lady Astor is trying to do, then she may quit politics."

Mrs. Gibson said her sister was adopted in her district and when she visited her constituencies always had pockets full of candy for the children.

A baby crying continuously for a day and a night would develop enough energy to lift himself to the top of Washington Monument.

PERSONALS

Misses Blanche Fink and Jessie Isenhour, students of Mont Amorens Seminary, spent Tuesday evening and night here with Miss Catherine Isenhour.

J. M. Simpson is attending the Funeral Directors Association in High Point today.

Marlin Brumley, of Newton, Carl Broom, of Hickory, Joe Gudger, of Mooreville, were in the city on business Tuesday.

Mrs. A. R. Blackwelder is visiting relatives at Barium Springs this week.

Rev. M. L. Kester and S. A. Wolf attended the meeting of the Southern Conference of the Lutheran Church Tuesday in Gaston county.

Rev. L. A. Thomas and C. A. Cook are attending the meeting of the Lutheran Southern Conference in Gaston County and will return to Concord late this evening.

Robert P. Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bell, of West Depot street, returned to the city Tuesday night after spending several months in Florida and Alabama where he was employed by the Southern Newspaper Co. in getting out special editions of papers.

Charlotte Observer. Miss Bertha A. Ebener and Mr. Charles E. Linker were married at St. Mark's Lutheran church Saturday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. Dr. John F. Origer, officiating.

The chancel was grouped with palms and ferns, intermingled with white cut flowers. On the altar were vases of bride roses and ferns.

Mrs. Crigler rendered the wedding music. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive.

Miss Willie Parish was the bride's only attendant. She wore a fauve-colored georgette frock with pink silk foundation skirt, and carried an arm-spray of pink Killarney roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. W. M. Robertson.

Mr. Linker was accompanied by Mr. Charles McIntyre, who served as best man.

The bride was lovely in a handsome ensemble suit of ashes-of-roses and accessories to match. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Linker left for a two weeks' visit to Washington and points in Pennsylvania. After July 1 they will occupy their new bungalow on Greenway, Rosemont.

Mrs. Linker has resided in Charlotte for the past four years, coming here from Pennsylvania to enter the Presbyterian hospital training school, from which institution she was graduated last spring. She is a bright and attractive young woman and during her stay here has made many friends.

Mr. Linker is traffic manager of the Glasgow-Allison Hardware company and is a young man of splendid ability and is widely popular here and in Concord, his former home.

Miller-Sides. The following is a clipping from the Portsmouth Daily News, April 21, 1925: A quiet but pretty marriage occurred this morning at 10:15 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. parlors when Miss Lillian Sides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sides, of Concord, N. C., became the bride of Arnold Miller, U. S. N. son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. B. Miller, of Concord, N. C.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. S. Colonna, pastor of the Central Methodist Church.

The Y. W. C. A. parlors were attractively decorated in dogwood blossoms and yellow jessamine.

Miss Sides, who arrived in Portsmouth yesterday was the guest of the Y. W. C. A. during her brief stay in the city. Mr. Miller is attached to the U. S. S. New York.

The announcement made above will come as a pleasant surprise to the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Concord having been the home of both Mr. and Mrs. Miller since childhood.

Mrs. Miller is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sides, of Vance street. Since her graduation from Concord High School with the class of '23, Mrs. Miller has been a student nurse at the Sarah Leigh Hospital, Norfolk, Va.

PLANS FOR ELABORATE MAY DAY PRACTICALLY COMPLETED

Speculation is rife as to the identity of Queen.—Clear Weather Hoped For. May Day in Concord gives promise of being one of the premier events in the history of the city. It can be safely said without fear of contradiction that no other like event has had half as much care in the staging and execution as the festival this year.

The Y campus is at present being transformed into a May garden with one end given over to the queen and her court. Under the branches of the venerable oak, the dais has been erected on which is placed a throne of the queen. Ample room is given on either side for the maids in waiting to stand.

Two other stands are erected for prominent personages in the court to sit or stand on. The entire place will be elaborately decorated with ferns and flowers.

No announcement has been made as to the identity of the queen and much speculation is rife as to who she is to be. Y officials are silent on this score. Among the names of those mentioned for queen are Miss Ruth Crowell, Miss Louise Morris, Miss Helen Sifford and Miss Marjorie Coltrane.

Large numbers of girls and boys are being instructed in dances and in their parts for the elaborate staging of the performance. Even the kindergarten will have a part, the majority of them being used in a dance. One youth, four going on five, scornfully announced to reporters that he was not to do a dance with "those sisters" and pointed to the rest of the kindergarten as they did an aesthetic on the lawn. "I have a better part than that. I am to hold the train of the queen." With that he strutted off in search of someone to instruct him in the proper technique of holding a queen's superfluous skirt.

The present rainy weather makes persons in charge of the festival hopeful of clear weather by Friday. "Let her put down now," was the way one of the officials expressed it when talking about the weather, "it will sure be pretty by Friday."

NEW SPEED LAW IN EFFECT MAY 1ST

Speed of 35 Miles an Hour Permissible Then.—Residential Sections Defined. Greensboro News.

Friday May 1st, the new automobile speed law permitting 35 miles per hour on the highways of North Carolina will become effective. The new law, according to C. W. Roberts, vice president of the Carolina Motor club, which organization sponsored the increased speed, raises the limit by five miles and defines the residential sections of cities and towns. The limit in business sections is raised from 10 to 12 miles per hour and retains the regulation of 20 miles per hour in built-up residential sections.

"No section of the state highway shall be constituted a built-up residential section, whether within or without the corporate limits of a city or town, if there are no more than eight houses on either side of the road continuously for 1,000 feet," says Mr. Roberts. "Fifteen miles per hour is permitted while passing churches or schools—but this is only effective when people are leaving or entering the grounds. At all other times, 35 miles is permissible."

"When the driver's view is obstructed for 100 feet before he reaches intersections, and 200 feet on the intersecting road, he shall slow down to 15 miles. If he can view both roads as designated, he may travel the full 35 miles provided by law. Only 15 miles is permitted when the driver is traversing curves or corners of the road unless he can view the highway for 300 feet.

Another interesting feature of the bill is the ruling against misuse of signal devices. Open muffler catouts, exhaust whistles or horns are considered 'objectionable devices'. The law is more explicit and makes possible a complete understanding by all motorists. It is uniform with many other states and will save many motorists the fine being imposed by operators of so-called speed traps."

TO PROTECT THE COMPLEXION Venetian Amoretta Cream. Soft as the down that lines a chestnut burr, sweet smelling as the secretive trailing argemone, concocted by a clever Frenchman—this is a valuable aid to those who have difficulty in retaining powder on the face. Carefully and evenly smooth this cream over the entire face until an invisible film is formed, then dust on a little powder to give the complexion a soft, velvet-like finish.
