Methodist Episcopal College of Bishops Hold Convention. Nashville, Tenn., May 1.—The college of bishops, Methodist Episcopal church, south, met here today with all the active bishops present, to review the work in the church and decide upon the plan of Episcopal visitation.

Today's sessions were taken up with the bishop's reports on the activities of the church in the bishops' episcopal areas. Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, senior active bishop, is presiding.

Special interest attached to the spring meeting since the dates for the annual conferences are to be set at which unification of the southern church with the Methodist Episcopal church is to be voted upon. The northern branch of the church already has gone on record in favor of unification.

The college of bishops may be asked formally to revive the proceedings of the recent Baltimore conference which voted against unification when an appeal was taken from the ruling of Bishop Candler, the presiding officer, on the method of voting.

The sessions will last through Monday.

MAY DAY FETE PROVED VERY ELABORATE EVENT
rendered. First was the dance of youth by the members of the kindergarten girls and boys in which they made a most delightful interpretation of a fairy story. This was followed by a dance of the nymphs, a most attractive group in unusual costume.

Larger girls next rendered a ballet dance, the members of this number being costumed in blue and pink ballet dresses. The minuet dance was also a very well executed dance, the members of this group being costumed in colonial suits and dresses, the men wearing white wigs.

Two very interesting dances were rendered after this, the Cinderella Minuet and the May Pole Dance. The May Pole dance was done by members of the girls club of No. 2 school, all of whom made their own costumes for the occasion.

The Cinderella play was one of the best numbers on the program, the part of Cinderella being taken by Ora Lee Jenkins and her two sisters being Claudia Moore and Ida Patterson. Prince Charming was Minnie Hill Davis and the coachman was Stuart Henry. The entire story was enacted. Of chief interest in the play was the coach for Cinderella which was made by Rev. W. A. Jenkins and decorated by Mrs. Ada Rogers Gorman. It was an exact replica of the coaches usually pictured in fairy stories, done in gold and red with a curved top and white pompoms at the corners. It was drawn by two ponies.

At the conclusion of the program, Miss Daywalt made a brief speech as May Queen which was as follows:

Yet once more, O my people, yet once more
We meet with happy minds and joyous hearts
To celebrate the glad approach of May.
The trees are green, the flowers burst in bloom,
Across the azure skies the white clouds pass
Fanned by the languid winds that softly blow
Stern Winter's rule is overthrown by Spring
And Life is now victorious over Death.

This wreath of flowers placed upon my brow
Crowns me the queen of all this happy land,
Before my throne my loyal subjects bow,
On either side my noble courtiers stand,
Sweet Cinderella, wondrously bright
Has passed before us in her coach of state,
The music, dances—all have pleasure brought
To this our glorious summer fete.
In gay attire, bright-hued as flowers of Spring
Around the May Pole have you danced in glee;
Accept our royal thanks for everything
That each has added to the revelry.

The merry making now is ended
And to one and all we cry:
"We're glad you came to see us
Good-bye! Good-bye! Good-bye!"

The music for the occasion was rendered by the Garden Conservatory of Music of Charlotte. Music for the dances was rendered by Mrs. I. J. Davis, Miss Gregory, Mrs. Paris Kidd and Miss Berta Hallam. Directors who trained groups of dancers were as follows: Y Kindergarten, Miss Hallam; Nymphs, Miss Gregory; ballet, Miss Alma Goode; minuet, Miss Margaret Virginia Ervin and Miss Belle Means; Cinderella minuet, Mrs. Kidd; Summer dance, Miss Hallam; pages, Mrs. Cameron Macfarlane; and train bearers, Mrs. L. C. Barringer.

Women assisting in the costumes were Mrs. Jones Pharr, Mrs. Zet Moore, Mrs. E. W. Melchor, Mrs. Victor A. Means, Mrs. Joe Hill, Miss May White, Mrs. Abe Pudolsky, Mrs. H. W. Blanks and others.

CONCORD'S NEW THEATRE TO OPEN MONDAY NIGHT

of movies and has striven to render it absolutely free of rats and mice.

The first moving picture to be shown in the new theatre is Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy." No arrangements have been made to have vaudeville at the start.

This new building, coming as it does at a time when Concord is experiencing an unusual degree of building activity, is one which Concord may well be proud, comparing favorably with any in the state. J. A. Cannon, local lumber leader and capitalist, had the building constructed. Ed Misenheimer did the brick work, J. A. Walker was in charge of the concrete work, Aubrey Folkes and R. H. Buchanan were in charge of the painting and decorating work, and Willis Dorton in charge of the electric work.

The marquee which is to be placed in front of the theatre at the entrance to the Cannon building, has not arrived in the city as yet. As soon as it does reach Concord, it will be erected. The work of ornamenting the arcade of the Cannon building has not been quite complete owing to the fact that workmen were forced to rush to get the interior finished in time for the opening date.

KIWANIANS MEET

Miss Louise Morris heartily endorsed Dr. George E. Guille makes inspiring address.

Kiwanians at their meeting on Friday at the Y. M. C. A. enjoyed a musical treat and a splendid address after their business meeting.

Luther Hartsell, Jr., called the attention of the Kiwanians to the matter of removal and disposal of garbage in the city, a matter which has been agitated by the women's organizations of the city. Vice President Clarence Barrier, presiding at the meeting, named the following committee to handle this matter with the proper city and county authorities, Morrison King, chairman; Tracy Spencer and Buxton Robertson.

The entertainment feature of the meeting, in charge of John Sherrill, was unusually enjoyable. Several violin selections by Miss Louise Morris, one of Concord's talented young musicians, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. R. A. Brower, were heartily enjoyed by their audience, which was delighted with the treat.

Dr. George E. Guille, who is conducting a series of meetings at the First Presbyterian Church in this city, was then introduced by Kiwanian Sherrill, and delivered an earnest and forceful plea for the acceptance of Jesus Christ as a personal savior. Any business that is run according to the principles of Jesus Christ, he declared, is bound to prosper, and cited instances of large organizations in the business world in which the spirit prevails. He urged his hearers to accept the Christ if they have not done so, for he is able to keep them from being in perfect peace amid the turmoil of the world and all its worries. The talk was a most helpful one, delivered in a most pleasing manner, and was appreciated by every one.

The attendance prize, given by John Sherrill, was drawn by Julius Bauers. The silent boost was given by the program chairman.

The program for the meeting on next Friday will be in charge of Tracy N. Spencer.

BOY RUN OVER AND HURT AT KANNAPOLIS

Boys Were Playing Ball in the Street When One Was Struck by J. F. Somers.

J. F. Somers, manager of the Yackin Hotel in Salisbury, ran over a small boy in Kannapolis this morning, injuring the boy badly, although the extent of his injuries are not known at the present time.

The accident occurred about 10:30 o'clock directly in front of the Leonard Boarding House. Mr. Somers, according to spectators, was driving at a moderate rate of speed, when he approached a group of boys who were playing baseball in the street.

The boys were so occupied at their game that they failed to note the approaching car and Mr. Somers was compelled to run up on the sidewalk to avoid hitting one of them. When he did so, he hit a telephone pole which crowded him to the other side of the road and he then struck the boy, Paul Marshall.

The Lincoln car Mr. Somers was driving was practically demolished as a result of striking the telephone post.

Paul Marshall was immediately after the accident rushed to the hospital in Salisbury. Mr. Somers was uninjured.

Series of Services at Forest Hill Methodist Church.

There will be services at Forest Hill Methodist Church tonight at 7:30. The attendance has been very gratifying. The good is going to have a further reach, than may be thought from outward signs.

A large crowd was present Friday night. The services were fine for many times during the preaching the pastor said he was getting his message to his hearers. The subject was the "Garment of Righteous Living."

Come out tonight.

Mrs. A. H. Edwards, who is directing the singing will be with us over Sunday. The music, both congregational singing and special pieces, shall be a special feature of the Sunday services. She has organized a young peoples choir that is doing some real singing. The special music has been fine and will be better Sunday.
