DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY IN SESSION HERE TODAY

Mrs. L. D. Coltrane Makes Address of Welcome—State President Makes a Speech.

The District meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which is in session in Concord today as the guest of the Dodson Ramseur Chapter, convened this morning at the Methodist Sunday School auditorium at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. J. P. Lohr, of Lexington, district chairman, presiding.

After an invocation by Rev. W. A. Jenkins, pastor of Central Methodist Church, the address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. L. D. Coltrane, of Concord, local chapter head, who made fitting remarks in welcoming the guests to this city. The response was made by Mrs. R. G. Kiser, of Salisbury.

Following this, Mrs. Dolph Long, of Graham, State President, made the principal address of the morning. At the conclusion of this speech, a delightful dinner was served those attending the meeting. Over seventy-five women from this district were in attendance.

Owing to the fact that The Tribune goes to press at an early hour, it was impossible to give a full account of the meeting in today's paper. A complete report of the meeting, however, will be given in Monday's paper.

Will He Take "Ma" Along?
Charlotte, N. C., May 2.—Billy Sunday famous evangelist, will do in Charlotte May 11 something he never before has done. The man who has spurred many thousands to hit the sawdust trail says so himself. He will see the Memorial Day race, in which nineteen of the world's most famous drivers of automobiles will struggle for shares of the $25,000 in cash prizes staked by the Speedway Association.

Mr. Sunday is now conducting a revival campaign at Winston-Salem, N. C., and Homer Rodeheaver, chief aide to the former ball player, has written Osmond Barringer, Speedway manager, that the evangelist is enthused over seeing one of the great speed races. In fact, the evangelist will bring a party of "five or six" to join him on this breath-taking occasion.

A great time is the anticipation of Mr. Sunday, with respect to his approaching novel experience at Charlotte May 11, and Mr. Rodeheaver made that clear when he said "Mr. Sunday is particularly anxious" to see the speed demons perform.

In Missouri one family has 15 children, all boys, and we call that raising a rough house.

Somebody's always kicking the seat of our government.

"GIRL SHY" PROVES THE VERSATILITY OF LLOYD

Seen as Bashful Small Town Boy in His Latest Comedy.
Variety is the spice of life, and it is also the secret of success in making good motion pictures. Many stars fall into a rut because they insist upon making the same line of pictures and using the same kinds of characterizations. They never change because they feel the public is used to seeing them in a certain type of picture.

Such is not the case, however, with Harold Lloyd, whose latest feature Pathé-comedy, "Girl Shy," will be seen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the New Concord Theatre. Harold has fortunately discovered that "mixing them up a bit" is the secret of success. He has never made two comedies even remotely alike, considering his big hits, "Dr. Jack," "Safety Last," "Why Worry?" and now "Girl Shy." He has jumped from small town situations to a South American revolution, from portraying a doctor to a ribbon clerk. Now in his latest, he has again striven for something different from anything he has ever made. He is seen in "Girl Shy" in an entirely novel characterization, as a bashful small town boy who is an apprentice to his uncle, a tailor. He makes a secret study of girls, although not a very accurate one, and the more he studies them, the more he fears them.

Weekly Cotton Review

New York, May 1.—The chief factor in the cotton market during the past week has been the weather news for the southwest. The rains which developed in Oklahoma and north Texas gradually spread to the south and the market worked lower as the southwestern crop condition improved with July contract selling off to 23.92 and October to 23.65 during the earlier part of the week.

At these prices representing declines of approximately 2 to 2 1/2 cents per pound from the high levels of early last March, the market showed signs of having been pretty well liquidated of speculative long accounts and prices turned upward toward the end of the week covering. The feeling among traders here appeared to be that all immediate need for moisture in the southwest had been satisfied and that enough rain had fallen to give the crop a somewhat delayed start in Texas. This idea of the southwestern situation was coupled with continued reports of a favorable start for the crop in almost all other sections of the belt, and reports by a number of private authorities pointing to an increase in acreage of 4 to 6.3 per cent, and also an increase in the use of fertilizers.

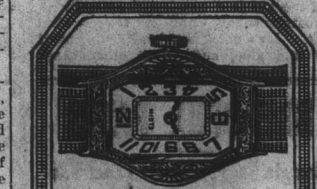

These features, however, failed to stimulate much selling after the break to about the 24-cent level for July and nearly 23 1/2 cents for October, and the rallies which followed were promoted by the prompt stopping of the May notices in the local market. The notices, representing about 112,000 bales of cotton, were taken by large trade interests who were active buyers of May against sales of July at 33 to 35 points on the first notice day and the difference between May and July after narrowed materially.

This was taken as suggesting that there would be shipments out of the local certified stock before the end of the summer and there were rumors that between 10,000 and 12,000 bales of cotton would be shipped to Japan this month. No improvement was noted by traders here in the news from the goods markets, but there was some trade buying of early new crop deliveries as prices approached the 23 1/2-cent level and the rallies late in the week, while largely the result of

Venetian Amoretta Cream.
Soft as the down that lines a chestnut burr, sweet smelling as the secretive trailing argutus, concocted by a clever Frenchman—that is a valuable aid to those who have difficulty in retaining powder on the face. Carefully and evenly smooth this cream over the entire face until an invisible film is formed, then dust on a little powder to give the complexion a soft, velvet-like finish. A New Artificial Wood.
London, May 2.—A new material known as "plastic wood" has been perfected for such uses as repairing furniture, filling cracks in wood, restoring picture frames and broken corners, and filling nail holes. This artificial wood can be worked and finished with carpenter's tools. It is delivered in the form of a thick paste that can be moulded to any shape. When exposed to the air it hardens into a tough, water-proof material that can scarcely be distinguished from real wood.
