STILL TALK OF TAX REDUCTION.
From Washington there comes now more talk of reductions in income taxes, the latest report stating that unofficial estimates by treasury officials indicate that a 12 per cent. reduction may be possible as the next step in lifting the federal tax burden.

The Treasury is not expected to make any definite promise until Congress meets in December but it is known just the same that tax moneys collected this year show government officials that the reduction can be made if conditions stay about the same as they are now.

Of course there will be fluctuations in the amount of income taxes paid in the future, but that fact does not change conditions as they exist at present. This year's taxes are expected to convince even the most doubting that another reduction is possible.

There is just one thing to watch in connection with this tax reduction business—to see that the most people are benefited. Secretary Mellon is known to favor a reduction plan that will apply solely to those persons who pay the largest incomes. Some of his party members in Congress hold similar views. The Democrats on the other hand are known to favor reductions for every one. The law passed last year suited them for they were responsible for it. They can be expected to fight for reductions again in December, but reductions that will benefit the masses against the classes.

MAYBE HE IS A BETTER POLITICIAN THAN GENERAL.
Reports from Germany state that President-elect von Hindenburg may offer a high government position to Dr. Marx, whom he defeated in the recent election. By so doing it is believed he could reconcile the German Catholic electorate to the outcome of the election.

Dr. Marx will accept the office, whatever it may be, it is generally believed, and under the conditions Von Hindenburg could carry out his announced policy of neutrality.

In the United States a defeated candidate would not be tendered office and he would not accept if it were offered to him. But in Germany things are different. There they are fighting to regain their former standing in the word and the people realize that only through co-operation can they accomplish this.

Von Hindenburg gives promise of making good as a politician and it may be that he will gain more prominence as such than he did as a military leader.

A SHORT ROUTE TO THE MOUNTAINS.
If the State Highway Department wants to maintain a short route from this section of the State to western North Carolina, it will do well to give consideration to the road that runs from Concord via Poplar Tent, Cox's Mill, Caldwell Station, Cornelius and Denver. This road for the most part is in excellent condition and it connects near Newton with Highway No. 10.

This route is the most direct one from Concord to western North Carolina. It

WASHINGTON—The spring and the cows are beginning to eat garlic. The Agriculture Department is experimenting with ways to take the taste and smell of it out of milk and butter. "Garlic," comments the public health service, "is a wholesome vegetable." "Yes," admits the Agricultural Department, "but so many people object to dairy products flavored with it."

Meanwhile Washington milk retailers employ official smellers to sniff at each bottle of milk before putting it on the market. If garlicky, back it goes to the farmer. Otherwise it would be left on the dealers' hands, for consumers won't have it at any price.

"THANK God," they're whistling among themselves at the State Department; "it was an English shipmaster, not an American, whose vessel 'scooped' while all 33 of the crew of the Japanese cargo-boat Reifuku drowned in the North Atlantic. Officials are chary of saying anything aloud that might be construed as unfavorably critical of Captain John Roberts of the Homeric. But there's no mistaking the way they feel.

"They're only Japs—let 'em drown!" That's how Japan would have read the mind of an American commander who had had such a story as Captain Roberts' to tell.

ownership and operation of his farm. He must show how many acres owned, number of tenants, if any, amount of land filled by owner and tenants, acres untilled, open, wooded and pasture land, number of acres planted in cotton, tobacco, corn, wheat and grains for sale as use as feed, clover and other forms of hay, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, berries, melons. Each farmer must also give in the number of peach trees, amount of commercial fertilizers used in 1924, number of breeding sows, laying hens and milk cows.

FOR FURTHER ENFORCEMENT OF EXECUTIVE BUDGET ACT

Governor McLean Sends Letter to Various State Department Heads.
Raleigh, May 2.—Governor McLean Friday took a definite step toward the further enforcement of the executive budget act, passed by the 1925 general assembly, by addressing to the various State department and institution heads a communication asking them to furnish him with statements of proposed expenditures for the quarter beginning July 1. He also asked each of these to designate a budget officer for his department. The governor told the department and institution heads that it would be better if they could act in this capacity, but, at the same time, he reminded them that their numerous other duties might make this impossible and suggested that, in cases where heads could not serve, they make speedy appointments of other persons.

The governor's communication, dated May 1st, is "Memorandum No. 7." Following is the full text: "To the Heads of the Administrative Departments, Institutions and Other Agencies of the State Government Operating Under Budget Supervision: "Under the provision of Section 18 of the Executive Budget Act, P. L. 1925, the various departments and institutions are required to submit quarterly estimates of their proposed expenditures to the Budget Bureau. Section 18 of the act provides as follows:

"Section 18. Before an appropriation to any spending agency shall become available, such agency shall submit to the director, not less than twenty (20) days before the beginning of each quarter beginning July first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and each quarter thereafter a requisition for an allotment of the amount estimated to be required to carry on the work of the agency during the ensuing quarter and such requisition to contain such details of proposed expenditures as may be required by the director. The director shall approve such allotments, or modifications of them, as he may deem necessary to make, and he shall submit the same to the State auditor who shall be governed in his control of expenditures by said allotments. No allotments shall be charged nor shall transfers be made except upon the written request of the responsible head of the spending agency and by approval of the director in writing. Before such changes or transfers shall become effective, a copy of the request and approval must be transmitted to the State auditor.

"In addition to the quarterly estimates the director of the budget may require upon the various State agencies for such information as he requires relative to the fiscal affairs of such agencies. In this connection your attention is called to Section 10 of the executive budget act, P. L. 1925, which provides as follows: "Section 10. The departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, board, commissions, institutions, or other State agencies or undertakings of the State, upon request, shall furnish the director, in form and at such time as he may direct, any information desired by him in relation to their respective activities or fiscal affairs. The State auditor shall also furnish the director any special, periodic or other financial statements as he may direct.

"It is believed that the budget work of the departments and institutions and also of the budget bureau will be facilitated by the designation of a budget officer to represent each department and each institution in its dealings with the budget bureau.

"Ordinarily, it would be desirable that the head of the organization act as budget officer, but it is realized that the pressure of other duties may prevent the assuming of such work. In case it is impracticable for the head of the department of the institution to handle the budget work, another person now employed may be designated for such purpose. In either event the head of the organization should keep in touch with the work since the responsibility for this work must in the final analysis rest with him.

"You are requested therefore to designate either yourself or some other responsible person now in your organization to serve as budget officer to represent your organization in its work with the budget bureau, and to notify immediately the director of the budget of your selection.

(Signed) "A. W. McLEAN,
"Director of the Budget."

DINNER STORIES

Did As She Was Told.
"Now remember, Mary," the teacher said just before the school exercises, "if you forget some of the words when you are singing your song, don't stop. Keep right on. Say tum-tum-tum-tum, or something like that, and the words will come back to you and nobody will know the difference. Now don't forget."

On exhibition day little Mary electrified her audience with "..... and she wears a wreath of roses Around her tummy-tum-tum."

Missionary.
"During the three year we were on the island, my wife saw only one white face. That was mine."

Mrs. Guild: "How she must have suffered."

Right up To Date.
A man was spending a night at a hotel in a small Southern town, and when going up to his room for the night he told the porter that he wanted to be called early in the morning.

Lady (to grocer)—"I want to buy some lard."
Grocer—"Pall?"
Lady—"I didn't know you could get it in two shades."

Just Couldn't Make It.
"Boy," said the old colored mammy to the equally colored porter at the station, "where does yo' git yo' ticket?"
"You gits it in there, mammy," said the porter, pointing toward the ticket office "through dat pigeonhole."
"Nigger, what does you think I be? I can't git through dat little hole! I ain no pigeon."

Attorney: "Are you married?"
"Of course I am."

FESPERMAN RECEIVES CALL TO CHARLOTTE
First Reformed Church of Charlotte Wants Pastor of Greensboro Church.
Greensboro News.
It was learned yesterday that Rev. Harvey A. Fesperman, pastor of the First Reformed Church, has received a call to become pastor of the First Reformed Church of Charlotte.

Mr. Fesperman, when asked about the call last night, admitted that he had received the call and said that he had the call under consideration but expected to make no definite decision for at least a few days. Mr. Fesperman, who came to Greensboro as pastor of the First Reformed Church in 1921, is one of the most popular ministers in Greensboro not only with members of his own congregation but with those of other denominations as well.

Prior to coming to Greensboro he was pastor of the South Fork charge, in Catawba county, a rural charge. Under his leadership the membership of the church here has increased about three-fold.

Criminal Act Caused Wreck.
Starogard, Poland, May 2 (By the Associated Press).—The commission investigating the derailing of the Euphukhen-Berlin express near here yesterday found today that it resulted from a criminal act. No trace of the perpetrators has been found.

that he did not expect the head of any department or institution to take his suggestion of the appointment of a budget officer as a cue to hire extra help. On the other hand, he expressed a preference that the head of each department act as his department's own budget officer, but gave the option of designating some one else "already employed" in cases where this could not be done.

The executive budget act was one of the first legislative measures advocated by Governor McLean. It was a "plan" in his pre-nomination and pre-election platform. He advocated a "pay as you go" system and pointed out that the proper way, in his opinion, to put this policy into effect, was through an executive budget act, making the governor the financial director of the state's affairs, as well as its head in other matters heretofore delegated to the governor.
